PREFACE.

The contents of this volume indicate a steady and remarkably gratifying progress by the people of New Jersey in the years 1762, 1763, 1764 and 1765, in the arts of peace, and in economic development.

True, their commerce was menaced by French war vessels, but the American privateers made gallant reprisals, and Sandy Hook was the rendezvous of many a valuable trophy wrested from the enemy, until the treaty of 1763 brought a brief respite to the arms of Great Britain and France. Till then, the Northern frontiers of the English settlements were in constant dread of French and Indian incursions. In 1762 New Jersey passed an act for enlisting and maintaining an effective force of 665 volunteers, a large proportion of whom fell victims to the wily savages beyond Niagara. Our own borders were threatened by the restless Indians of Pennsylvania in the fall of 1763, necessitating the maintenance of a frontier guard of two hundred men along the Delaware, during the ensuing winter, to protect Sussex and Hunterdon counties from incursions. The Indians of New Jersey, gathered at Brotherton under the prudent and sagacious John Brainerd, kept the peace, and were protected by the whites. The friendly Conestoga Indians at Lancaster, Pa., on the other hand, were treacherously and most cruelly massacred by the palefaces, whereby new trouble was brewed for the whole region. It was not until the spring of 1765 that all fears of Indian uprisings were allayed.

The arrival of William Franklin early in 1763 marked the beginning of a very successful and harmonious administration, to continue for thirteen years, but destined to witness the end of royal dominion in the Province.

New Jersey was favored in having James Parker as Comptroller of the Post Offices in North America, with his office at Woodbridge. He was a man of broad views, and anxious to improve the postal facilities of the subordinate offices, such as New York and Philadelphia, to which end he inaugurated, with the year 1764, a system of mails between those points three times a week, "if the weather permits." Gov. Franklin urged the importance of securing better postal facilities by the "Establishment of Ferries, the Erection of Bridges, the Improvement of Roads, and whatever else may contribute to prevent delays and interruptions to the Posts in passing." With commendable alacrity the Legislature responded, passing special acts for laying out a road from Newark to Powles Hook (now Jersey City), with ferries over the Passaic and Hackensack rivers, for a more direct road from Philadelphia through South Jersey, and for the appointment of Commissioners to lay out new and better highways between Philadelphia and New York. As the people were still too poor to bear the expense of these improvements by taxation, the merchants of those cities were appealed to for subscriptions. "The long wished for ferry" was "established and kept across the North River from Powles Hook to New York," in 1764, by an enterprising citizen, unaware that a similar ferry had been maintained almost exactly a century earlier, by virtue of a Patent granted by Gov. Philip Carteret. The increasing number of letters in the Philadelphia post office for residents of New Jersey indicated a steady growth of population within our borders, and doubtless led to the establishment of an office in Trenton in 1764. Post riders seem to have met with encouragement for not only continuing, but extending their routes for the delivery of letters and newspapers.

The rapid development of the iron industry of the Province is indicated by the frequent references to old and to many new mines, forges and furnaces, all of which appear to have been busy. Andover, Anderson, Kingwood, Union, Hacklebarney, Musconetcong, Durham, Oxford, Ringwood, Charlottenburg, Lamaton, Squire's Point and Greenwich are some of the names in Northern New Jersey herein mentioned—most of them familiar to this day, but the Mount Holly iron works, and the iron works on Ancocus creek have long ago disappeared, with the exhaustion of the bog ore there used, and the extensive mining operations in Morris, Sussex, Warren and Hunterdon counties. The account of the "Trenton steel works" seems very modern reading. A perusal of the numerous advertisements relating to these various enterprises will give a very fair idea of the condition of the iron industry in New Jersey one hundred and forty years ago—the number of furnaces and forges, and the appliances for running them. It is to the credit of those early operators that the modern owners of those regions are constrained to admit that it is very seldom that a new mine is sunk without disclosing the presence of former workers, so thoroughly did those pioneers explore and develop the mining properties.

While the iron industry was advancing by leaps and bounds, much faith was manifested also in the copper mines at Rocky Hill¹ and at New Brunswick. We are assured by an advertisement that the latter mine was (in 1765) yielding "excellent solid oar," and that a smelting house was to be built. After the fashion of mining enterprises generally, the improvements were only in contemplation.

The Legislature sought to encourage new industries by offering bounties for the raising of hemp and flax, and the culture of silk. The former project met with much success, but the planting of mulberry trees was no more productive of silk than was the morus multi-caulis craze of 1839 and 1840.

The student of economic conditions in those days will derive a great deal of information from the advertisements of farms, houses and other properties for sale, with their descriptions of the residences and other buildings, the land under cultivation, the orchards of apple, peach and other trees, the cattle, horses and farm appliances. The people were seeking better and more improved modes of living and working—often, as the desired sales suggest, in advance of their ability to pay. But progress is usually made through and over failures, and the Province at large reaped the benefits of these attempts, which sometimes were beyond their day. The farms advertised are better than formerly, and new tracts are offered in remoter districts of the Province.

The lawyer interested in tracing the title to lands where early deeds are missing will often find a helpful clue in reading the descriptions of the location, area, and sometimes of the metes and bounds of the properties advertised for sale in the following pages, and the advertisements generally will be of absorbing interest to those engaged in studying family history.

The merchants and manufacturers also had their vicissitudes, then as now. It was in response to a very general demand that the Legislature in 1765 enacted a statute for "the relief of insolvent debtors." Within six months more than one hundred and fifty persons availed themselves of its provisions. Long and ill-judged credits were too often the cause of these failures. Says a cynical and impatient merchant, in appealing to his debtors in 1762 to come forward and settle, "If I trust some of my customers one month, they will scold if I demand it in nine or ten."

Education is making steady progress. The "College of New Jersey" is graduating larger classes each year, and the importance of the Princeton institution is recognized by the newspapers of the day, which are frequently publishing news items relating to it. There are some indications, indeed, of the existence of a judicious "literary bureau" to keep the public well informed concerning the condition and prospects of the thriving young College. A grammar school is established at Princeton in 1764, under the auspices of the trustees and faculty, and in the same year is printed at Woodbridge a History of the College, with a copperplate "Prospect of Nassau Hall."

There are other signs of an awakened interest in education. Although a schoolmaster at Pompton is accused of robbing a fellow lodger at the tavern, there are fewer accounts of escapades on the part of members of the calling. The advertisements are less uniformly persistent in seeking "sober" persons to take charge of schools, that qualification being apparently taken for granted. Moreover, there is developing a certain esprit de corps among the profession, as evinced by several teachers in the neighborhood of Moorestown in 1765, who resented the reported slurs on their ability by one of their number, and met together at that place to "vindicate our Cause, and make our Ability appear to this extraordinary Judge of Literature, as he affects." The assailant, thus challenged, prudently failed to appear; as he candidly confesses, "six to one is too great odds." Moreover, he denied having uttered the slanderous imputations alleged, as to all of his accusers, but with a sly intent to divide their forces he avows that as to two of them he did not declare that they were "ignorant and incapable of their Undertaking," "except I called him [sic] an Ass, and he called me what I never was." From which it would appear that the schoolmasters of those days did not always set a fair example in the amenities of good behavior and temperate speech. That some of them, at least, were hardworking, would appear by the announcement of John Reid, in 1764, that he had started a school at Trenton, which opened at "6 o'Clock A. M. with Morning and Evening Prayers." The Rev. Samuel Kennedy conducted a school at Baskinridge, which was long famous for the character of the men it turned out. Elizabethtown and Burlington also boasted superior schools, and the latter city witnessed the introduction in 1763 of probably the first co-educational school in New Jersey, if not in America. A special attraction offered by a schoolmaster at Second River, in 1762, was the fact that he would relieve parents of boarding-scholars from providing lodging and wood for their children, engaging himself to procure the same "on reasonable terms."

Gambling in the guise of lotteries was still encouraged, such schemes being advertised for the benefit of the Bound Brook bridge across the Raritan river; to meet the expenses of the commissioners to lay out highways; for St. Mary's church in Burlington; for St. Peter's church in Amboy; for the College of New Jersey, and for the erection of the Sandy Hook Lighthouse. (The lottery for St. John's church, Newark, mentioned on page 82, is doubtless for a Delaware church.)

Horse racing is becoming a favorite pastime, courses at Elizabethtown and Woodbridge being well patronized, and much attention is being paid to the improvement of the breed of horses, by the importation of choice thoroughbreds.

The famous George Whitefield again sweeps across New Jersey like a whirlwind, with his fiery preaching, arousing the consciences of thousands and tens of thousands to whom he speaks in the open air, with a voice reaching the farthest person in his vast audiences.

Wrecks are frequent along the Jersey coast—at Sandy Hook, Barnegat, Cohansey and Cape May, as well as at intermediate points. It is a great boon to those that "go down to the sea in ships" when the Sandy Hook lighthouse sends out its welcome rays across the water, at once a welcome and a warning, in June, 1764. It was a New York enterprise, it is true, but unquestionably many a citizen of New Jersey bought tickets in the Lighthouse lottery, in order to promote a great public benefit—and incidentally in the hope of winning a prize.

We are initiated into the respective merits of "likely men and women, boys and girls," from Gambia, the Windward coast, the Guinea coast, and other points in Africa, who are offered for sale as slaves, suitable for house work or farm service. There is no hypocritical cant about the importation of these unfortunate wretches for the good of their immortal souls, or as a punishment for Ham's indiscretion. With brutal frankness they are classed simply as chattels. The advertisements of runaway negroes contain fewer indications than formerly of their barbarous treatment. There are no descriptions of chains or manacles, nor of branding, or other tokens of savagery on the part of former owners.

The details of the personal appearance, the names and the clothing of runaway servants, and escaped prisoners, continue to be among the most diverting of these old-time Newspaper Extracts. The Sheriff of Essex county who advertises two escaped prisoners in 1762 is evidently moved with feelings of indignation at their inconsiderate conduct, when he declares that one of them "talks thick and palavering when drunk, which is as often as possible;" and that the other is "a lusty, dirty, slouching Butcher, much Sun-burnt, wears a cut Wig, seldom combed, has sore Eyes, often drunk." Surely if they had any self-respect those two fellows would have returned to custody, merely to resent and prove false these bitter caricatures. Most of the runaway servants seem to be "talkative," or ready with the tongue, and were doubtless too intelligent to remain willingly in bondage, and too eager for a knowledge of the world to be tied long to one place. Was it a Lord in disguise who figured as a runaway "Servant Man, a Shoemaker by Trade?" Listen to his picturesque garb: "Had on, when he went away, a green Ratteen Coat, with a Collar, and flowered Metal Buttons, a white Swanskin Waistcoat, light brown Breeches, with brown Horn Buttons, light blue Yarn Stockings, and half-worn Calf-skin Shoes, one of them patched on the Toe, and yellow carved Buckles." It is easy to believe that many a romance and many a tragedy is hidden in these advertisements of runaway apprentices and servants, men and boys, women and girls: tales of offenses, trivial or serious, expiated by banishment and enforced servitude for a time; of younger sons voluntarily exiled to win fame and fortune single-handed in the new world; of rightful heirs feloniously spirited away beyond reach of their proper inheritance, and sold into white slavery by heartless kinsmen; of broken fortunes and broken hearts, seeking solace or repair amid scenes far removed from their griefs. Surely there is much to be read here that does not appear on the surface, as revealing human weaknesses, infirmities and passions, that are much the same in 1904 as in 1762-5. But even as a curious study of social conditions in the former days these advertisements will repay a careful perusal.

That was a needed reform instituted at Elizabethtown in 1764, when it was resolved to reduce the cost of those functions by "dispensing with Scarfs, Gloves and Liquors."

Was "marriage a failure" in the seventh decade of the eighteenth century? If so, the fact was not exploited in the divorce court, but frankly in the columns of a newspaper in New York or Philadelphia, wherein the aggrieved husband warned all persons not to trust the errant or obstinate wife. In at least one case the wife advertised her husband, and gave public notice that she would pay no debts of his contracting. Without doubt most of these domestic infelicities were reconciled; but William Carter, of Trenton, was the only husband manly enough to proclaim the fact, and withdraw his embargo on his wife's contracting of debts.

We have here, also, the advertisement of the "Doctor" who cured blindness; the two-page list of goods for sale in what must have been a real "department store" at Burlington so long ago as 1764; the tale of the pedlar attacked and robbed on a lonely road; of the wonderful steer weighing 1700 lbs. killed at Elizabethtown in 1763; of sacrifice sales by assignees for the benefit of creditors; and of many other quaint and curious relations, some of which might date from yesterday, but all going to make up a vivid picture of life in New Jersey one hundred and forty years ago.

All these interests are suddenly overshadowed by the burning political question raised by the Stamp Act. The columns of the newspapers teem with criticisms, appeals, warnings, and denunciations of this bold measure of the British Parliament to assert its right to tax the Colonies for Imperial purposes. Fortunately, in New Jersey even the officials at least tacitly agreed to treat the Act with contempt. Governor Franklin was as non-committal as possible, but granted marriage licenses without the hated stamp. The Chief Justice, appointee of the Crown though he was, called a meeting of the Bar, and got from them a declaration that they would recognize writs that were unstamped, and that they would sooner sacrifice their practice than make use of stamps. The two men appointed to distribute the stamps in New Jersey promptly resigned, at the request of the citizens. A minor official in New Brunswick who evinced a disposition to enforce the Act was hanged in effigy, denounced as a traitor, and threatened with a more evil fate. Even so highly respected and honored a citizen as the Speaker of the Assembly was compelled to resign because he had not been as outspoken as desired in expressing hostility to the measure in the Stamp Act Congress. So the Stamp Act was never for a moment recognized or enforced in New Jersey, nor was there any serious attempt to put it into execution. Nevertheless, the people were prodigiously aroused over this threatened invasion of their liberties. Here began a contest between England and her Colonies only to end with their complete Independence. The development of this conflict will appear in the subsequent volumes of these Archives.

The long-promised History of New Jersey Printing and New Jersey Newspapers of the Eighteenth Century was substantially completed, when the manuscript was consumed in the Paterson fire of February 9-10, 1902. The material, which had been gathered during a period of ten years or more, had to be accumulated anew, but time and opportunity have not offered for re-writing the History, which is therefore again deferred to a later volume.

New-York, January 25. The Storm on Sunday the 10th Inst. has made prodigious Devastations in several Parts of the Government of New Jersey. Five or six Mill-Dams upon one small Stream in the West Part of Woodbridge. A fine new Bridge built last Summer, and but just finished in the Fall, which cost above £300, across Raritan River, at a Place called Bound-Brook, was swept away, and some Pieces of it found 30 Miles below. At New-Brunswick, and the Landing, the Water was all over their lowest Streets, and many Stores and other Houses, with Goods therein damaged. As there had been Snow on the Ground, and a Thaw of three or four Days before the Storm came on, the Sea-Water rising so high prevented the Freshes going off so speedily as it otherwise would, and the great Rains falling at the same Time gives Room to think that more Damage is done throughout the Country, than we yet have Account of.

Five Pounds Reward.

SAMUEL HEWLINGS

Prince Town, January 14, 1762.

MR. BRADFORD,

As a certain Letter lately published, said to be written by an Elder of the Presbyterian Church, has been imputed to me, and by some, as I have been informed, made a serious Matter, and improved to answer low party designs; I apprehend it not improper, for the satisfaction of such as were innocently, and not of choice, led into that opinion to declare that I neither wrote, nor corrected said Letter nor ever saw it before it was published. This declaration being judged necessary by several Gentlemen of sense, with whom I consulted, your publishing it in your Journal will oblige a considerable number, and among them,

Sir,

Yours, &c,

SAMUEL FINLEY.

New-York, March 22. On Monday Morning, between 12 and 1 o'Clock, the Fire Engine House belonging to Schuyler's Copper Mines, at Second River, in New-Jersey, took Fire and was burnt to the Ground, and the Works belonging to the Engine,¹ which it is said cost near Ten Thousand Pounds, were destroyed. It is not known by what means the House was set on Fire, but it is conjectured to be by the Carelessness of one of the Workmen, who was the only Person then in the House. The Fire began below, where he acknowledges he lighted a Candle when he went to Bed in an upper Room in the second or third Story, where he was waked by the Fire, and throwing his Coat over his Shoulders, he ran down to the lower Floor which fell in with him, into the Flames below, but by some Means, which he does not at all remember, he got out, but is terribly burnt. It is said about 2000 Cord of Wood was likewise consumed.

Extract from the Votes of the General Assembly of the Province of New-Jersey.

THE House resolved itself into a Committee of the whole House, on his Excellency's Speech, and after some Time spent therein, Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair, and Mr. Hancock, Chairman of the Committee, reported, that the Committee had gone through that Part of his Excellency's Speech respecting to his Majesty's Requisition of Men, to recruit the regular Forces, and directed him to report, that the raising of former Regiments in this War, and the great Number of Men already inlisted among the Regulars, out of this Province, have so drained us both of Freemen and Servants, as to render Labour not only extremely scarce in general, but in many Places not to be had for Money: Under this Difficulty the Committee is of Opinion, that the Men now agreed to be raised in the Provincial Service, being the full Number required by his Majesty on that Account, is as many as there is any Probability of effecting; and it being impracticable to raise more, the Committee think, it would be deceiving his Majesty's General, to give him any Expectations of that Kind.

March 6, 1762.

A Message from his Excellency, by Mr. Secretary, as follows, viz.

I AM very sorry to see, by your Minutes of Yesterday, the Resolve you have gone into, with Regard to His Majesty's Requisition, for recruiting the regular Forces: Had you given due Attention to the Secretary of State's Letter, on this Subject, you would find this Piece of Service is thought so essentially necessary by His Majesty, that he will be much disappointed, if it is not effected.

The Intention of this Requisition, was to render the Regular Regiments compleat, and fit for such immediate Service as His Majesty may think proper to employ them in; those Regiments are at present so situated, as to make it impossible for them to send Officers and Parties into these Colonies, to recruit the Men in Time; wherefore the Proportioning the Number of Recruits wanted among the Colonies, and the Supplying them, is the only Method that can be taken to render them of Use; and if not agreed to by the Colonies, may be attended with very ill Consequences to His Majesty's Service, at a Juncture when every Means in our Power should be exerted, to distress the Enemy. I must therefore desire, Gentlemen, that you take this Matter again under your Consideration, and do your Parts towards insuring Success, to Measures absolutely necessary for our future Quiet and Safety.

JOSIAH HARDY

March 8, 1762.

A Message* from his Excellency, by Mr. Secretary.
Gentlemen of the General Assembly;

I HAVE this morning received a Letter from Sir Jeffery Amherst; which I have ordered to be laid before you; and I shall be extremely glad, it may have such Weight with you, as to convince you, that His Majesty's last Requisition ought to be complied with.

JOSIAH HARDY

March 9, 1762.

ORDERED,

That Mr. Stevens and Mr. Hart, do wait upon his Excellency, and in Answer to his Messages of the 6th and 8th Instant, inform him, That it is with great Reluctance we are obliged to refuse any Measure, that might tend to promote His Majesty's Service; but the Assistance required from us, to recruit the regular Forces, appears so extremely unlikely to be carried into Execution, that we are well assured, it would be only trifling with the King's General, to attempt it; and by giving him such Expectations, expose the Service to a Disappointment, that will end in a Prejudice to the common Cause, and to the Censure of a General whose distinguished Services justly claim whatever could be reasonably done in his Favour: But the Case is such, that the peculiar Scarcity of Men in this Province, owing to former Services of the like kind, renders it impracticable; leaving this, and constantly going, Regiment after Regiment, into another Province.

very many of our Men have never returned; and the Handiness of our Situation for Inlistments hitherto among the Regulars, considered as a thoroughfare between New-York and Philadelphia, have been an additional Drain, and that perhaps more here than elsewhere: These Facts require no colouring to entitle us to an Exemption from raising more than what is required in the Province Service: Determined however, not to desert the common Cause, though our Debts, as well as the Scarcity of Men, are already great, we have fully come up to the King's Expectations on that Account; and for these Reasons, must rest it here, That that Measure is as much as we can do.

March 10, 1762.

A Message from his Excellency, by Mr. Secretary.

Mr. Speaker, his Excellency is in the Council-Chamber, and requires the Attendance of the House.

Whereupon Mr. Speaker left the Chair, and with the House waited upon his Excellency, who was pleased to give his Assent to the following Bills, enacting the same, viz.

1. An Act to complete the New-Jersey Regiment to Six Hundred and Sixty-five effective Volunteers, Officers included.

2. An Act to empower the Church-Wardens and Vestry-Men of St. Mary's Church in the City of Burlington, to raise by Lottery a Sum of Money for repairing the Church, Parsonage-House and Burying-Ground in said City.

3. An Act to empower the Managers of the Bound-Brook Bridge, in the County of Somerset, to raise by Lottery, a Sum of Money for rebuilding and compleating the said Bridge.

4. An Act for granting an additional Supply, for the finishing the Secretary's office, at Burlington, and Perth-Amboy.

5. An Act to enable the Owners and Possessors of the Meadows lying on a Branch of Newton Creek, in the County of Gloucester, (commonly called the Back Creek) to erect and maintain a Bank, Dam and other Water Works, across the said Creek, in order to prevent the Tide from overflowing the same, and to keep the former Water-Course of the said Creek open and clear.

6. An Act for continuing the Bridge over the Cedar Swamp Creek, in the County of Cape-May, and for accommodating the same with a sufficient Causeway.

7. An Act for naturalizing George Beck, Jacob Wigmore, and Stephen Sarich.

And then Mr. Speaker presented the Address of the House, in the following Words, viz.

To his Excellency JOSIAH HARDY, Esq; Captain General and Commander in Chief in and over his Majesty's Province of Nova-Caesaria, or New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice-Admiral in the same, &c.

May it please your Excellency,

WE his Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of the Province of New-Jersey, recollecting with Gratitude the Favours received, through his Majesty's Paternal Care over us, have now without Loss of Time, gone into the Measures proposed, for assisting the Common Cause, so far as to agree upon the raising of a Provisional Regiment of Six Hundred and Sixty-Six effective Men: After former Exertions of this Sort, we are sensible the Difficulties of raising them will be great; but from your Excellency's Abilities, that the Honour of the Government, in realizing the Expectations they give, may suffer no Diminution, and his Majesty's Service no Injury.

We have already informed your Excellency by Message, that it is with great Reluctance, we find our present peculiar Circumstance, respecting the Scarcity of Men, to lay us under the Necessity of not coming into the Requisition for recruiting the Regular Forces; and as we cannot go into both the Measures proposed, we have complied with the most important; that the Province under such Discouragements, is not able to go farther than raising the Provisional Regiment, we hope the Reasons we have before given will evidence; and that our Necessities will not subject us to any Loss of Reputation, in a Case, which throughout the preceding Campaigns, hath been pursued by this Province with invariable Zeal and Solitude.

By Order of the House,

SAMUEL NEVILL, Speaker

To which his Excellency was pleased to make the following Answer; whereby he prorogued the House.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly,

I Thank you for this Address, and for what you have done in Consequence of His Majesty's Requisition for the Provincial Regiment: I shall do every Thing in my Power to forward the raising the Men for this Service: I will not detain you any longer at this Season from your own Concerns; but prorogue this General Assembly to Tuesday the 6th Day of April next, then to meet at Amboy, and they are prorogued accordingly.

JOSIAH HARDY.

Said Irishman stole a Pair of Brass Spurs from said Robeson, which were found in his Pocket, Robeson making a Stir to go and get

WHEREAS on Monday Night last (June 14) some malicious Person was at the Pains to carry a large Rock of 4 or 500 Weight, and place it in the Middle of the Fishing-ground where I draw my Seine: The chief Person suspected is one N. P. living near Trenton, he having told three credible Persons, that I caught so many Fish as spoiled his Trolling, and had asked one or two to lend him a Hand in placing a large Rock Stone in my Way; that he would lay it in such a Manner, that when I went out with my Seine it should run under the Rock, and then the D——I could not get it out; and that he would carry it out in a Flat, on a Platform, or Board, so as to let it down easy, with the Edge upwards, just as he would have it. Accordingly the next Day going out with my Seine, found such a Rock as that Person described, and two more with it, which tore my Seine, and did me considerable Damage, besides losing the most promising Part of the Season. And as the Place where I fish is no Man's particular Property (being almost in the Middle of the River, and free for any Person) to prevent others from meeting with the like Obstructions, have thought proper to publish the same, with a Reward of Five Pounds, to any one that will impeach either of the Persons concerned in this base Action, so as he or they may be brought to Justice.

A bill in the Chancery of New Jersey, at the suit of John Earl of Stair &c. against Benjamin Bond and others, to which is added, several other papers, speeches, &c, &c.—
The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1749, July 1, 1762.

New-York, July 5. Last Saturday three Weeks, one John Woodsides, a Pedler, was robbed by two Men on Horseback, near Andover Iron Works, County of Sussex and Province of New-Jersey, of Cash and Goods to the Amount of £. 160 Currency. As soon as the Villians approached Woodsides, one of them discharged a Pistol at him not more than 7 Yards distant, but it happily missed him; he then drew his Pistol, (having a good one ready loaded by him) and fired it at the Highwayman, but without Effect also; this Conduct of Woodsides so enraged the Rogues, that one of them run at him with a Cut and Thrust Hanger, and intended to have killed him on the Spot, but after he had received a terrible Wound in his right Side, and a large Cut in his Shoulder, he took to his Heels, and escaped, by concealing himself in the Woods.

Last Thursday Se'nnight, died at Perth-Amboy, in an advanced Age, the Hon. Andrew Johnston, Esq; one of his Majesty's Council for the Province of New-Jersey, and Treasurer of the Eastern Division of that Province: A Gentleman of so fair and worthy a Character, that truly to attempt to draw it, would be throwing away Words; He was really equal to what Pope means, when he says, An honest Man is the noblest Work of God.

Thursday Night last, Sir William Johnson, arrived here from Easton, New-Jersey, where he was at a Treaty with the Heads of several Tribes of Indians.

Saturday last departed this Life, in an advanced Age, at his Seat at Morrissania, County of Westchester, and Province of New-York, Colonel LEWIS MORRIS, Esq; Judge of the Court of Vice-Admiralty, for this Province.

New-York, September 6. On Friday the 23d ult. as Capt. M'Clean (who arrived here Yesterday Se'nnight) came by Barnegat, he saw a Snow standing toward the Land, so near the Shore that he could not speak with her; he imagined she was in Danger of getting aground; and we hear, by an Egg Harbour Man, since arrived, that on Saturday Morning he saw the said Snow aground, about 100 Yards to the Southward of Barnegat Inlet, upon the Bar, about a Mile from the Shore: Her Gunwale was sunk very near to the Surface of the Water; and as the Winds have been easterly most of the Time since, and a large Swell, she is probably beat to Pieces before this Time. Neither of the Vessels that saw her were able to get her any Assistance, or to give any particular Description of her. She had, when she was seen aground, a Burgee Pendant at her Mast Head. As none of our Pilots choose to go so far to the Westward with an easterly Wind, we have not been able to find out what Vessel she is; but it is conjectured she is some stranger to this Coast.

Elizabeth-Town, Sept. 2, 1762.

Abstracts from the Minutes of the Council of Proprietors of the Eastern Division of New-Jersey.

March 29, 1759.

“Several Surveys of Rivers and Brooks were laid before the Board, which did not include a proper Quantity of Land on each or either Side thereof, which were ordered to be returned, but to prevent such Surveys being recorded for the Future, the Board ordered that no Survey of any Rivers or Brooks whatsoever, made in like Manner be returned without their express Leave.”

August 19, 1762.

“The Surveyor General informed the Board, that the Practice of taking up and returning small Slips of Cedar and other Swamps and Pieces of Land, is in his Opinion injurious to the Interest of the General Proprietors, as large Tracts and Quantities of Land thereby remain unlocated, and will also cause Confusion and Uncertainty in making future Surveys, and be thereby detrimental to People in General.

“Which the Board having considered of, Ordered, That for the Future no Return, be made of any small Slip of Cedar, or other Swamps or other Pieces of Land, of less than ten Acres in one Tract, unless the same shall be found to be a Vacancy between former Surveys.”

JOHN SMYTH, Regr.

Surveyor General's Office, Perth Amboy, Aug. 27, 1762.

Princetown, Sept. 30, 1762. Yesterday the Trustees of the College of New-Jersey, with his Excellency the Governor, attended the Commencement. After the usual Procession, and a solemn Invocation of the divine Blessing, on the Business of the Day, and the Candidates for the Honours of the College, the Exercises were introduced by an elegant salutatory Oration in Latin, pronounced by Mr James Manning, one of the Candidates for Bachelor's Degree. The young Gentlemen gave an agreeable Specimen of their Skill in Disputation, which was carried on alternately in the Syllogistic and Forensic Way. The Subject of the First, which was syllogistic, was the following Thesis, Conservatio non est continua Creatio, which was well defended and opposed. This, agreeable to the Order before mentioned, was succeeded by a forensic Dispute on this Question, Whether a Prince, endowed with the Virtues of Civil Government, but not with military, is to be preferred to one of the most shining, military Genius, if he is destitute of the Virtues necessary for the governing in Peace? Which was decided in the affirmative, after being debated on both Sides with much Spirit and Eloquence. To relax the Attention of the Audience, an English Oration on Politeness, was pronounced by Mr. Joseph Periam, which gave universal Satisfaction, from the Justness of the Sentiments, the Elegance of the Composition; and Propriety with which it was deliver'd. The Thesis next debated was, Anima humana, dum in Corpus infunditur, a Deo immediate creatur; which afforded Pleasure to the learned Part of the Auditory: The Exercises of the Forenoon were concluded by a forensic Dispute on this Subject: Whether Moral, as well as Mathematical Truths, are capable of Demonstration? Which was judiciously maintain'd and determined in the Affirmative, to general Satisfaction.

The Entertainments of the Afternoon were begun by a Dispute, which was very ingeniously managed by the Respondent, on this Thesis; Sensus Moralis, quæ simplex Perceptio, atque Moralis Obligationis Fundamentum non datur. The last Question disputed by the Bachelors being, Whether Noah's Flood was Universal? Gave agreeable Amusement to the Auditory, by the popular and pertinent Manner, in which it was canvassed. A valedictory Address in English, pronounced by Mr. Isaac Allan, with a graceful Ease and Propriety, closed the Exercises of the Candidates for the Honour of Bachelor's Degree.

The following Thesis was also learnedly defended and opposed by the Candidates for Master's Degree, Deus Hominum sine Virtute morali, non primaris creavit, neque creare potuit.

After this the following young Gentlemen were admitted to the Honours of Bachelor's of Arts; Hugh Alison, Isaac Allen, Absalom Bainbridge, Ebenezer Davenport, Edmund Davis, Edward Gantt, John Harris, Ebenezer Hazard, John Hurlbut, Nehemiah Ludlum, James Manning, Nathaniel Manning, Thomas Martin, John M'Crea, John Dyer Mercier, Francis Peppard, Joseph Periam, Thomas Ruston, Jonathan Sergeant, Hezekiah Smith, and Caleb White. Also the following Gentlemen were admitted to the Honours of Masters of Art, James Caldwell, Jabez Campfield, John Carmichael, John Huntington, James Lyon, Samuel Nivins, Nathaniel Noyes, Ebenezer Noyes, Joshua Noyes, Thomas Peirce, Henry Sherburne, and William Whitwell: Also the Rev. Mr. Charles Beatty and Jonathan Parsons, received the honorary Degree of Masters of Arts. In behalf of the last mentioned Candidates, was agreeably deliver'd an English Oration by Mr. James Lyon: Mr. Ker, who some Time past had officiated in the Character of a Tutor to good Acceptance, took his Leave of the Society in a short valedictory Address; and the whole concluded with a poetical Entertainment, given by the Candidates for Bachelor's Degrees, interspersed with Choruses of Music, which with the whole Performances of the Day, afforded universal Satisfaction to a polite and crowded Auditory.

To his Excellency Josiah Hardy, Esq; Captain General Governor and Commander in chief, in and over his Majesty's Province of Nova Caesaria, or New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same.

May it please your Excellency.

WE his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Trustees of the College of New-Jersey, with the greatest Pleasure, take this first Opportunity of publicly congratulating your Excellency upon your Appointment to, and Acceptance of this Government; and we are particularly happy in believing, from the Specimen your Excellency has already given us of your good Dispositions, that the Loss we sustained in the speedy removal of your immediate Predecessor, is made up in you, and that as the College of this Province has been favoured with the Patronage of each of our Governors since its Institution, your Excellency will be pleased to take it under your Protection. We can assure you, Sir, that the general Principle of preparing Youth for publick Service in Church and State, and making them useful Members of Society, without concerning ourselves about their particular religious Denominations, is our grand Idea. And we hope when your Excellency shall be pleased to look into the Constitution of this Seminary of Learning; and by honouring us with your personal Attendance at our Meetings, see the Manner of our Procedure; you will conceive it an Object worthy the notice of the Supreme Magistrate.

We acknowledge the Honour your Excellency has done us in your present Attendance, and most heartily wish you a long Continuance and prosperous Administration in this Province.

Signed in the Name of the Trustees,

RICHARD STOCKTON, Clerk.

To which his Excellency was pleased to return the following Answer.

Gentlemen,

I Heartily thank you for your Address. It will be at all Times a particular Satisfaction to me to give you every Assistance in my Power, in promoting the Prosperity of this useful Seminary of Learning.

Prince-Town, Sept. 29, 1762.

New-York, November 8. On Monday last, between the Hours of 11 and 12, in the Forenoon, departed this Life, in an advanced Age, after a long and tedious Indisposition, the Honourable Colonel JAMES HUDE, of New-Brunswick, Esq; a Gentleman, who, for his great Probity, Justice, Affability, Moral and Political Virtues, was universally esteemed and beloved by those that knew him. He passed thro' almost all the Honorary Offices and Employments in the Government where he lived, as well those in the Gift of the Crown, as those in the Voice of the People. At the Time of his Death, he was one of his Majesty's Council, Mayor of the Corporation of New Brunswick, &c. &c. In all his Offices he was conspicuous for his inflexible Integrity and Honesty. His Death is not only an irreparable Loss to the Poor, who had at all Times free access to his Person, and his Advice and Assistance without Fee or Reward, but to the Publick is Subject of great Regret. He was a most tender and loving Husband, an indulgent Father, and kind Master. He has left a disconsolate and weeping Widow and Children. Blessed are the Dead which die in the Lord, from hence-

LIGHT-HOUSES erected on proper Places, for the Safety of Trade and Navigation, being by all Trading Nations, allowed to be of the greatest Utility; the Legislature of the Colony of New-York, from a Conviction of the Necessity of a proper LIGHT-HOUSE on Sandy-Hook, for the better Security of the Trade and Navigation of this and the neighbouring Colonies, being ready and willing to assist towards the Completion of the Light-House already begun there, did, in their Session in December 1762, pass a Law to raise, by Way of Lotteries, the Sum of Six Thousand Pounds. AN Advertisement, subscribed by A. W. Waters, having appeared in the last New-York Gazette, in which the whole Continent of America is challenged, in the most illiterate, unsportsman-like Terms, to start an Horse for the Sum of Three Hundred Pounds, against one in his Possession, called the True Briton. And as the Breed of English Horses is squinted at, with great Contempt, I take the Liberty to acquaint the Public, that I will start a Horse lately purchased by me of Mr. Holmes, of Carlisle, in Old England, to run for One Hundred Pounds, over Haerlem Course, the best of Three Four Mile Heats, against his boasted Favourite, each carrying Nine Stone, on the Tenth of April next. And I will bet One Hundred Pounds, that mine is better bred; and a Third Hundred Pounds, that he is much better qualified for a Stallion, being far superior to his Horse in Shape, Strength, and Action. It may be proper to observe to this redoubted Advertiser, That all Five Years old Horses carry no more than Nine Stone: And he is cautioned, not to look upon such a shaped Animal as the Briton is, to be invincible, until he has beat a good Horse which he once most unsuccessfully attempted. Remember PACOLET, Master Abraham. One Word more, and then I shall have done with the Jersey Hero. I will engage to run the Produce of a Mare that shall be covered by my Horse, against the Produce of one covered by the Briton, in April, when they are rising Four Years old, at 8 Stone 7 Pounds each, for Three Hundred Pounds, play or pay. And this Challenge I am indebted to give, that the Publick may be informed, I rely as much upon the Goodness of my Horse as a Stallion, as I do upon his Racing Performance. If therefore the Briton is not approv'd in Shape, Strength, and Running Form; and if his Owner declines to consent to what I have offered, desire he will not presume to rank him with any others than the common Mongrells of the Country from whence he was derived; and that he will be forever silent upon the Subject of Matching and Racing.

This Day His Excellency our GOVERNOR arrived here, accompanied by Governor HARDY, and many of the principal Gentlemen and Inhabitants of Amboy. In the Evening he was entertained by the Corporation of this City, when they presented him with the following Address.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain-General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over His MAJESTY'S Province of NEW-JERSEY, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same &c.

The humble ADDRESS of the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of NEW BRUNSWICK

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

We the Mayor, Recorder, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-Brunswick, with Impressions of Duty and Gratitude to His Majesty, our most gracious Sovereign, desire leave to express our hearty Congratulations on your Excellency's safe Arrival, in this severe Season, to this Province of your Appointment, and to this City in particular.

Tho' it be not without some sensible Emotions we part with our late worthy Governor, your immediate Predecessor who, by his Affability, Candour and disinterested Conduct in the Course of his Administration (tho' short) acquired to himself universal Esteem: Yet from His Majesty's known Goodness, and tender Regard for his Subjects, even in this distant Part of his Dominions, we rest satisfied, and are persuaded that the Reins of Government are happily placed in the Hands of your Excellency, being well acquainted with the Constitution of this Province, in which, may the same continue long a diffusive Blessing, and in which, we are well assured, this Corporation cannot fail sharing in the happy Effects.

We beg leave to assure your Excellency, that our Professions of Loyalty to His Majesty, and of Duty and Affection to your Excellency, in our Station, to render your Government easy and agreeable to yourself, we shall endeavor, upon all Occasions, to evince by correspondent Actions.

To which His EXCELLENCY was pleased to make the following ANSWER.

Gentlemen,

These expressions of your Regard are extremely obliging, and I thank you cordially for your kind Congratulations and good Wishes. The Sentiments you manifest, of Loyalty to the best of Princes, and of just Gratitude to your late Governor, must place the Citizens of NEW BRUNSWICK high in my Esteem, and I shall gladly embrace every Opportunity of demonstrating it

PRINCE-TOWN, March 3, 1763.

Yesterday His Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Governor of the Jerseys, came to this Town, in his Way from Amboy; and having been pleased to visit the College, he was received by the President and Tutors with great Respect; and being conducted into the Hall, where the Students, and many of the Inhabitants, were assembled, the following Address was presented,

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Governor and Commander in Chief in and over His MAJESTY'S Province of NEW-JERSEY, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same;

The humble ADDRESS of the President and Tutors of the COLLEGE of New-Jersey.

May it please your Excellency,

We the President and Tutors of the College of New-Jersey, beg leave to congratulate your Excellency on your safe Arrival on this Continent, and Accession to the Government of this Province; and to express the peculiar superadded Pleasure with which we welcome your Excellency to NASSAU-HALL, which commits itself to your Protection, and hopes for your Patronage, both as our Governor, and President of the honourable Board of Trustees.

This College, founded on the noblest Motives, by the late excellent Governor BELCHER, has been countenanced by his Successors (of whose Politeness and Consideration we retain a grateful Remembrance) and, by the generous Aids which the Friends of Religion and Learning have afforded, it has been raised to its present flourishing State. And if we presume, what we rationally may, from your Excellency's general Character, . . . from your being entrusted with so honourable and important a Commission, by the Father of his Country, the Royal Patron of Religion, Virtue, Learning, and whatever is good, and from an Education under the Influence and Direction of the very eminent Doctor FRANKLIN, your Excellency's honoured Father; we cannot but assure ourselves, that you will view this Institution, erected for the best Purposes, with a favourable Eye.

As to its real Merit, your Excellency's acknowledged Penetration, and extensive Acquaintance with polite Literature, will enable you to judge, when you shall have enquired into our Constitution, . . . Methods of Instruction, and Discipline, . . . the Care taken as to the Principles and Morals of the Students, and their Proficiency in the several Branches of Learning.

We are sensible how vain it would be to expect, and how unreasonable to request, your Excellency's Patronage, any farther or longer than we exert ourselves, agreeable to the original Design and direct Tendency of the Institution, to promote the general Good of Mankind, by forming our Pupils for the Service of their Country. And as the faithful Discharge of our Duty to them, is at once conformable to the Divine Command, and will be most acceptable to your Excellency, we shall the more diligently and cheerfully apply ourselves, to instruct them in the various Parts of useful and solid Learning, and instil into their Minds Principles of Loyalty to the best of Kings, . . . a firm Attachment to the most excellent British Constitution, . . . and a sacred Regard to the Cause of Religion and Liberty.

That your Excellency may ever enjoy all those refined Pleasures, that natively spring from a Course of virtuous and beneficent Actions, . . . from an exemplary Conduct in private Life, . . . and a wise, mild and just Administration of public Affairs; and long continue in the Seat of this Government, happy in His Majesty's Favour, and the grateful Approbation of a free People, is, and shall be our unfeigned and ardent Desire.

In Behalf of the Faculty, presented by

SIR, Your Excellency's most obedient,

And most humble Servant,

SAMUEL FINLEY, President.

To which his EXCELLENCY was pleased to make the following ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

I THANK you for these very obliging Expressions of your Regard for me. Your Stations and Employments are among the most honourable, as the careful Instruction of Youth in the Principles of Religion, Loyalty and sound Learning, is of the greatest Utility to Society. SAMUEL STOCKTON —The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1785, March 10, 1763.

New-York, March 14. On the 24th of February last, Mr. Samuel Ball, of Newark, in New-Jersey, in crossing Hackinsack River, on the Ice, fell in with his Horse and Sleigh, and was drowned: His Body was found the Sunday following, and decently entered.

We hear that there was killed the Week before last at Elizabeth-Town a Steer, which had been there in keeping, by Robert Ogden, Esq; about 9 Months, weighing, Beef, Hide, and Tallow, about 1700 Weight: This Steer was bred by Doctor Lewis Johnston, of Perth-Amboy.

Elizabeth-Town, March 1, 1763. Last Night about 12 o'Clock, a Fire broke out in the Dwelling House of Captain Hampton, of this Town, which would have been all consumed in a few Minutes, had not Mr. Hampton and his Wife been alarmed by the Fall of a large Looking-Glass, in the common Parlour. At first sight Mr. Hampton judged it past Recovery, and was getting out his Writings and best Things in his Bed-Room, but his two young Daughters who Slep at the other End of the House, heard their Mother's Shrieks, run immediately out through the Entry, which was full of Smoke and Fire, but they had Resolution to Attempt to save the House, and in a little Time called for their Father, and raised the Negroes, who all came to their Assistance, and by their Means the House was saved. The Fire began in the Mantle-Tree, occasioned by a new Fashion'd Fire Place, being made in another, which cast all the Heat forwards; the Parlour and Room over it was consumed, with all the Furniture; Mr. Hampton got very much Burnt at first opening the Door. The saving the House looks like a Miracle to every one who sees it, and it is hoped it will be a caution to all who make the new Fashion'd Fire Places, to take out all the Wood Mantle-Trees.

WHEREAS the Executors of the last Will and Testament of Adoniah Schuyler, deceas'd, having for some Time past advertised the Sale of the Houses, Lands, and Ferry belonging to said Adoniah Schuyler at his Death, lying and being at the Elizabeth-Town Point, to be sold on the Premises on Monday the 28th Day of March Instant. And since the Publishing of which, Mr. Benjamin Price, of Elizabeth-Town, laid Claim to about 50 Acres of said Land, which has been reported would prevent the Sale thereof. To remove which the Publick are hereby notified, that the said Executors have obtained a Release from said Benjamin Price, for his whole Right and Interest in said Lands; and that now the Title to said Houses, Lands, and Ferry is indisputable, and that they will be exposed to Sale, at the Time and Place in said Advertisement mentioned.

BURLINGTON, April 27.

A Deputation from the Presbyterian Ministers, in the Province of New-Jersey waited on his Excellency Governor Franklin, and presented the following Address, viz. To his Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; Capt. General, and Governor in Chief, in, and over his Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon Depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice-Admiral of the same.

The Humble Address of the Presbyterian Ministers of the said Province.

May it Please Your Excellency.

We his Majesty's Most Dutiful and Loyal Subjects, the Presbyterian Ministers of the Province of New-Jersey, beg Leave, in the most cordial Manner, to Congratulate your Excellency, on the careful Superintendance of Divine Providence, in returning you safe, thro' the Perils of the Sea, to your native Land; and particularly, on your Accession to the Government of this Province. And we do this with the greater Pleasure, in that, from our Persuasion of the Generosity of your Excellency's Sentiments, we can securely confide in your Readiness to maintain the Rights and Privileges of our Body inviolate.

As true Religion, a just Reverence for the Divine Majesty, not only tends to future Blessedness, but inspires a Dutiful Subjection to the Powers which he has ordained, and bears the most favourable Aspect on the Happiness and Prosperity of the Public; we cannot doubt but your Excellency, after the great Example of your royal constituent, will tenderly regard its Interests, and countenance the honest Promoters of so salutary a System.

And as a Behaviour becoming the sacred Character we sustain, is what alone can entitle us to your Excellency's protection, and procure your Approbation; we shall make it our main Business to propagate genuine Christianity, the common Religion of sound Protestants; and by inculcating on his Majesty's Subjects, under our care, the Necessity of Obedience to just Authority, shall do what in us lies, to make your Excellency's Administration easy and prosperous.

That your Excellency may long continue in your exalted Station among us, happy in every Relation, and a public Blessing to the Province over which you preside, is, and shall be our daily and fervent Prayer,

Presented

In behalf of the Body

Your Excellency's

'nancing those of your particular Profession.'

PERTH-AMBOY, June 6, 1763.

The General Assembly of this Province met here the 25th of last Month, and next Day His Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; our Governor, made the following SPEECH to the Council and Assembly, viz.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY;

When it pleased His Majesty graciously to honor me with his Commission for this Government, I considered it as a particular Felicity to be placed in that Station among a People that I knew, and whose general Character is so truly estimable.

Not having received any Commands from the King or

His Ministers, which required your immediate Consideration, I postponed the Pleasure of meeting you in your Legislative Capacity, till a Time, that from the best Information I could procure, was least likely to interfere with your private Affairs.

Two Events have lately occurred, of great Import to the Welfare of the British Nation, on which you have my most sincere and hearty Congratulations. . . .

. . . The auspicious Birth of a Prince, on a Day ever sacred to Liberty, and the Protestant Cause, cannot but diffuse Joy throughout the King's Dominions, as it gives us the pleasing Prospect of a Continuation to our Posterity, of those inestimable Blessings of civil and religious Liberty, which we have enjoyed without Interruption, under the present Royal Family. . . .

. . . The Termination of a long and Burthensome War, by the late Definitive Treaty, is an Event as happy as it is glorious. A Peace is obtained for us by the Success of His Majesty's Arms, and the Wisdom and Firmness of His Councils, that cannot be paralleled for solid national Advantage, by any recorded in the British Annals, if in those of any other Nation: For indeed how rarely does it happen, that those Powers who have been long engaged in War, find themselves ultimately benefited by it? Who of all the Princes of Europe, concerned in the late War, in which many of them had almost exhausted their last Resources, has acquired any Addition of Territory, or any Compensation for Losses sustained, save only our most illustrious Sovereign? As in every Quarter of the Globe he was victorious; so in every Quarter he has retained some important Advantage, which the Nation was not in Possession of before. But in this Part of the World, how great and glorious are our national Acquisitions! Instead of confining us to a narrow Seacoast, which the French vainly attempted ever before the War, we see that powerful Nation not only dispossessed of their Encroachments, but of the very Country from whence they encroached: A Country of immense Extent, and which, in our Possession, not only gives effectual Security to these Colonies, but must in a short Time occasion a vast Increase of the Commerce and Power of the British Empire. The steady Conduct of this Province during the Course of the War, and its constant Readiness in complying chearfully, according to its Abilities, with every Requisition of the Crown, for promoting the common Service, must now afford you great Satisfaction in the Reflection, and will ever be remembered highly to your Honour.

Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY;

The Act for the Support of Government being expired, you will of Course take that Matter into Consideration. In the doing of which, I flatter myself, that you will let the Royal Instruction my Predecessors have so often recommended to you on this Head, and which is entered on your Journals, have its proper Weight. And I have not the least Doubt, but that you will likewise do therein what Justice shall appear to you to require, and what is becoming the Honour of the Province you represent.

As you reside in different Parts of the Country, you have the best Opportunities of being acquainted with its present Circumstances and Occasions. If any new Laws, or Amendments of old Ones, appear to you to be necessary, you may be assured of my ready Concurrence in every Thing consistent with my Duty to the Crown, which I can never depart from, as I am persuaded you would not wish to deviate from yours; since you must be convinced, that one of the surest Means of promoting the Prosperity and Happiness of the People in any Colony, is to obtain and secure, by a truly dutiful Behaviour the Favour of their Sovereign, from whom they derive Protection in the Enjoyment of their Liberties, Properties, Religion, and every Thing that is valuable.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY;

Let me recommend it to you, now the publick Tranquility is happily re-established to pay an earnest Attention to the Arts of Peace. There are probably some Kinds of valuable Produce, hitherto, but slightly, if at all, attempted, that might, with proper Encouragement, be raised in this Province, and tend much to the Advantage of the Inhabitants. Some Improvement might no Doubt be likewise made in the Navigation of Creeks and Rivers and in the publick Roads. By turning your Thoughts to these Matters, it may be reasonably expected, that many Things will occur, which, if carried into Execution, would prove greatly beneficial not only to the Province, but to the Mother Country.

The Assemblies of this Province have of late Years so distinguished themselves for their general Unanimity, that it seems unnecessary to recommend it to them in their future Proceedings. I shall only observe, that its good Effects have been conspicuous and evident to all, and therefore I hope it will always continue.

As to myself I am fully sensible, it is not what is promised, but what is done, in any Administration, that must finally settle its Character. I shall not therefore begin mine among you by making great Professions: But I hope, in the Course of it, to demonstrate, by Actions, that I think the most effectual Means of approving myself a faithful Servant to my Royal Master is to promote the true Interests of the Province, over which he has done me the Honour to place me, and to increase, by every Means in my Power, the general Welfare and Happiness of its People.

Perth-Amboy, May 26, 1763.

TO HIS EXCELLENCY

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of NEW-JERSEY, and Vice-Admiral in the same &c.

The humble ADDRESS of His MAJESTY'S Council of the Province of NEW-JERSEY.

We His Majesty's Council for the Province of New-Jersey, congratulate your Excellency on your Appointment to the Government of this Province, and on your safe Arrival in it.

The Knowledge your Excellency has of the People of this Province, renders it needless in us to give you any Assurances of our Hopes of your Happiness in your Government: It is our Inclination, as well as our Duty, to render your Situation here agreeable to yourself, and your Administration useful to the Publick.

We most cheerfully join in the general Joy on the Birth of the Prince of Wales, who we hope will inherit the Virtues, and live to enjoy the Crown, of his Ancestors.

The Termination of a long and expensive War, by a Peace, that will ever be glorious in the British Annals, cannot but excite our sincere Veneration for the Wisdom of His Majesty's Councils, as well as our utmost Gratitude to Divine Providence, for so happily restoring Peace and Tranquility to the whole Christian World.

By Order of the Council

Perth-Amboy, June 3

Robert H. Morris.

1763.

To which His EXCELLENCY was pleased to make the following ANSWER

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL,

I ACCEPT with Thanks this obliging Address. As I have nothing more at Heart than to see this Province flourishing and happy under my Government, it cannot but give me particular Pleasure to find that I may expect the Assistance of Gentlemen of your distinguished Abilities and Zeal for His Majesty's Service.

To His EXCELLENCY

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, and Governor in Chief, in and over His MAJESTY's Province of NEW-JERSEY, and Territories thereon depending, in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same &c.

The Humble ADDRESS of the Representatives of the said Province in General Assembly convened.

May it please your EXCELLENCY

We, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of New-Jersey, in General Assembly convened, beg Leave to congratulate your Excellency on your Appointment to, and safe Arrival in, this Government.

Under the Disappointment of so unexpectedly and suddenly parting with an Administration that, in Governor Hardy, was disinterested, candid and benevolent; it is a Matter of great Satisfaction, to behold in your Excellency a Successor, from whose Knowledge of our Circumstances, and kind Approbation of our Conduct hitherto, we have reason to hope for a Continuation of every domestick and publick Happiness in the Power of a Governor to bestow, consistent with the Trust reposed in him; and no other we presume will be looked for; not will any Endeavours of ours be wanting, to render your Administration easy and happy. We acknowledge the Instance of Regard shewn to our private Affairs, in postponing the Meeting of the House to a Time of general Convenience; and having now the Pleasure of receiving your Excellency's Congratulations on the two important Events, the Birth of the Prince, and the Establishment of Peace, most heartily join in the Joy they occasion.

The general Advantages of the Peace are entirely to our Satisfaction, we believe, beyond Example, glorious. And when we consider the Difficulties attending the Neighbourhood of Canada, and its Dependencies, the Terrors of their repeated Inroads and Encroachments from the Beginning; but above all, the alarming savage Cruelties, we find ourselves unable to be sufficiently thankful for the Superintendency of that Part, which being so near us, falls more immediately within our own Observation, and are at a Loss which, under Providence, most to admire; the Wisdom that planned, the Power that executed, or Firmness that retained a Conquest of such immense national Value, and which to us on the Continent also smooths the Hardships of a Country in a great Part Wilderness, and amidst the Struggles of heavy Debts, and a new Settlement, gives the cheering Hope of future Tranquility. Ages to come will rejoice in the happy Event; and we trust the Recompense to our Mother Country will prove unfailing Returns of Wealth and Gratitude, in a Manner not now easily foreseen.

Considering the present Expence of living, we have augmented the Support of Government.

Such new Laws as were immediately wanted, have now been gone into; others, no Doubt, for the Improvement of Roads, Creeks and Rivers, and the Promotion of the Commerce, may be wanted, and at proper Times will not fail to engage our Attention; and we thank your Excellency for mentioning them to us, and the Assurances you have been pleased to give us concerning them.

To which His EXCELLENCY was pleased to give the following ANSWER

Mr. SPEAKER, and Gentlemen of the House of REPRESENTATIVES

It affords me great Pleasure to find that His Majesty's Appointment of me to this Government is so much to your Satisfaction

I return you many Thanks for your kind Congratulations; and do assure you, that whatever you have granted for the Support of Government shall, so far as relates to myself, be made use of for the Honor and Credit of the Province.

At a Convention of the CLERGY of the Church of England, at Perth-Amboy, in New-Jersey, the 31st of May, the following Address was presented, viz.

To His EXCELLENCY

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Governor and Commander in Chief in and over His MAJESTY's Province of NEW-JERSEY, and Territories thereon depending, in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same.

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

We the Clergy of the Church of England, in the Province of New-Jersey, beg Leave to take this first Opportunity, which our dispersed Situation has admitted of, to present to your Excellency our very sincere Congratulations on your Appointment to the Government of this Province, and on you and your Lady's safe Arrival amongst us.

As the Church of England has always distinguished itself by its Loyalty and Obedience to the civil Authority, we trust it will at all Times, be deemed worthy, in this Province, of the Esteem and Protection of His Majesty's Governors. This we have had the Happiness to experience under several of your Excellency's Predecessors, and hope to enjoy under the Administration of a Gentleman, whose qualifications and Accomplishments for Government have been represented to us in so amiable a Light.

We therefore beg Leave to recommend the Church of England in this Province to your Excellency's Patronage, and to assure you that we will contribute, as far as our Influence extends, to render your Administration agreeable and happy.

Signed by Order of the Clergy,

SAMUEL COOKE.¹

To which His EXCELLENCY was pleased to return the following ANSWER.

So very obliging an Address from Gentlemen of your respectable Character, merits my most sincere and hearty Thanks.

It is with Truth I can assure you, that were it not my Duty, it would nevertheless be my Inclination, not only to patronize and protect the Church of England in this Province, but to afford the Clergy of it every Assistance in my Power

Extract from ——— To the PUBLIC.

The humble Representation of FREDERICK ROTHENBUHLER, Minister of the High Dutch Reformed Church in Philadelphia.

As I find my Character misrepresented in the Gazette of June 23d;

. . . . But those Papers being unfortunately lost as I was almost ready to sail for New-York, to make up this Loss, and for a further Recommendation I requested, and readily had a Certificate from the following Ministers in London, who saw all those Papers and Testimonials, the Original of which Certificate is lodged with Mr. Hall; and here follows the Translation.

To the benevolent Reader Prosperity !

“The Bearer hereof, the Reverend Mr. Frederick Rothenbuhler, a Citizen of Bern, has fully satisfied us the Subscribers, by undeniable Certificates from the Ministers and Professors of the College in the City of Bern, that having there finished his Academical Studies, he was lawfully ordained to the Work of the Gospel Ministry in the Year 1752. Coming to Holland last Year, he preached frequently for the Space of ten Months in French and High Dutch, both at the Hague and in Amsterdam; and there he was advised by Men of great Reputation both in the Republic and the Church, who knew his Learning and Qualifications, to devote his Talents to the Service of the Church of Christ in North America.

“In Obedience to their good Counsels, he procured from his native Country new Testimonials of his ministerial Character and good Behaviours for this Purpose; and he likewise brought to us, to London many Letters of Recommendation, and some to Gentlemen in New-York, particularly to Mr. Van Harlingen, and to the Reverend Mr. Lydt of New-Brunswick; all which public Testimonials and Letters of Recommendation we have seen or have now in our Hands. As he lost some of his Papers, going aboard the Ship York, and was uncertain whether he might ever recover them, he requested us to certify this Circumstance, and what we know of his Conduct and Character.¹

By HIS EXCELLENCY

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, and Governor in Chief in and over the Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending, in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same, &c.

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas it hath pleased Almighty GOD, the Giver of all good Gifts, to grant Success to the Endeavours of our most gracious Sovereign, for putting a Period to the Horrors and Devastations of War, by the Establishment of a general Peace among the Princes of Europe, and particularly between His Majesty and His Most Christian Majesty the French King, and His Most Catholic Majesty the King of Spain: A Peace founded in Wisdom and Moderation, which has fully accomplished the great End for which the War was undertaken, and is beyond Example adapted for extending the Commerce, increasing the Strength, and promoting the Happiness, of the British Nation. These invaluable Blessings, and the effectual Security, which is now given to the Protestant Interest, so much endangered during the Course of the War, demand the most fervent Acknowledgements, and Acts of Gratitude, to that Divine Being, who is the Author of Peace and Lover of Concord.

That this most necessary and indispensable Duty may be the more solemnly discharged, I Do in Pursuance of His Majesty's Commands to me for that Purpose, ordain and appoint, that Thursday, the 25th of this Month, be set apart and observed as a Day of public Prayer and Thanksgiving, by all His Majesty's Subjects throughout this Colony; exhorting them to prostrate themselves on that Day before the Throne of Grace; and, with the utmost Humiliation and Fervency, to return Thanks to Almighty God, for the great Blessings of Peace, and to implore his divine Protection and Favour for the future.

And I do recommend it to the Ministers and Preachers of the Gospel, to compose Sermons suitable to this solemn Occasion and require them to give due Notice of this Proclamation to their respective Congregations.

Given under my Hand, and seal at Arms, at the City of Burlington, this Eighth Day of August, in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand, Seven Hundred and Sixty-three.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN

By His Excellency's Command,

CHARLES READ, Secretary.

SIR,

WHEREAS a report has been spread, That the Christian Indians, in New-Jersey, under my care, were many of them gone back to join the murdering Indians on the frontiers; this is to inform and assure the public, that such report is wholly without foundation; that these Indians evidently discover a great abhorrence of the perfidious and inhuman proceedings of their remote Savage brethren, and that there is not one of them missing, or that discover a contrary temper.

NEW-YORK, October 3.

Extract of a Letter from Niagara, dated September 16, 1763.

"I have just Time to tell you we arrived safe at Niagara the 13th Inst. delay'd much on Lake Ontario, by hard Gales and Storms of Rain; next Day, had an Express from Little Niagara (a Post above the Falls) that our Convoy, with the Teams employed in carrying Provisions to Lake-Erie, was attacked; we sent off from our Fort a Reinforcement immediately, consisting of a Major and about 70 Men, which was followed by a Captain and 50 Men, an Hour after to support them. The whole of the Indians, by the best Account, amounted to about Three Hundred, divided into two Bodies, one of which, (i. e.) the most inconsiderable, was that which attacked the Convoy; the other lay in Ambush, about 2 or 3 Miles nigher our Post, near the carrying Place, and possessed themselves of a most advantageous Piece of rising Ground near the Road, to intercept Succours: On the first hearing of the firing by the Convoy, Captain Johnston, and three Subalterns, marched with about 80 Men, mostly Gage's Light Infantry, who were in a little Camp adjacent; they had scarce Time to form, when the Indians appeared at the above Pass: our People fired briskly on them, but was instantly surrounded, and the Captain who commanded, mortally wounded the first Fire; the two Subalterns were soon after killed, on which general Confusion ensued; the Indians rushed in on all Sides, and cut between Sixty and Seventy Men in Pieces including the Convoy; ten of our Men is all we yet can learn has escaped: They came through the Woods Yesterday. From the many Circumstances, 'tis believed the Senecas, has a Chief Hand in this Affair: I wish our Affairs at Detroit may not suffer by this, as all the Oxen and Teams on the Carrying Place is destroyed, and the Horses missing, which 'tis thought are drove off by the Indians; our Reinforcement came up too late to save them, so returned that Night, and next Day march'd and buried all they could find; most of those who came in are wounded; we are in a pretty situation. . . .

Another Letter from Niagara, of the same Date as the foregoing.

"Most of the Provision that was in our Sloop, when cast away on her Voyage to Detroit, was saved, and the People under the Direction of Capt. Montresor, intrenched themselves, Captain Cochran, with 900 Men, was sent from hence to succour them, and take the Command. The Indians attacked Capt. Montresor in his unfinished Encampment, and after killing him three Men, were repulsed. The 12th Instant. Capt. McCleod, of the 80th, with 10 Officers, 200 Men, 2 Scows, and 20 Batteaus, set off in Oder, to join Capt. Cochran, whose Entrenchment was at the Catfish Creek, 12 Miles from the Mouth of the River. . . . The 13th in the Morning, a Party, with a Serjeant, 20 Oxen, & 16 Horses, were sent off, and with them went, Capt. Thomas Johnston, of Amboy, and Mr. Stedman, our Sutler. . . . At ten o'clock, Stedman returned on Horseback, and said, that about three Miles from the Landing, between two Bridges, in a Thicket, Sixty Indians, all naked, attacked the Party to which he belonged, and killed all but himself; and in deed on burying the Dead, we found he had not deviated much from the Truth. Lieutenant Campbell, who commanded at the Landing, hearing the Firing, took part of two Companies, with Lieutenant Frasier, of the 80th, Lieut. Rosco, of the Artillery, and Lieutenant Dayton, of the Yorkers, in order to succour our People; but he was soon also attacked, in a Situation so disadvantageous to him, that his Men could not do their Duty, and in a short Time the whole Party save two, who came in the 14th in the Morning, were either killed or taken; we imagine Mr. Campbell made a noble Resistance with a few of his People, as his Body, with several others, were found lying together. On making a Computation of the Loss, it was found, that Lieut. Campbell, Lieut. Frasier, and 78 Men of the Light Infantry, with Lieut. Rosco, of the Artillery, Captain Johnson, of New Jersey, Lieut. Dayton, and 8 Drivers, are missing, and also supposed to be killed, as we have Reason to think the Indians made no Prisoners. . . . All the Oxen are killed, but no Horses, that we know, the Enemy having carried them all away."—The Pennsylvania Journal, No. 1087, October 7, 1763.

RUN-away from Raritan Landing, October 3, 1763, being a middle siz'd Mulatto slave, born in this country, about twenty years of age, has a very wide mouth, bushy hair, (lately cut off) walks with his knees bending forward, his cloaths are a French soldier's coat, almost new, which had been white, but dyed, (not pressed) together with the lining of a brown colour, bordering upon the olive, a new vest, lin'd with white, which had also been made for a French soldier, both alter'd to fit him, with brass buttons, also an old blue coat, and old leather jockey cap, and trowsers of tow cloth.

He is an extream handy fellow at any common work, especially with horses, and carriages of almost any sort, having been bred to it from a little boy, and to the loading and unloading boats, a good deal used to a farm, can do, all sorts of house work, and very fit to wait upon a gentleman, speaks very good English and Low Dutch, also pretty good High Dutch; is noted for his sense, and particularly for his activity at any thing he takes in hand.

It is supposed he will endeavour to pass for a freeman, and get away in the country, or go with some vessel to any part, so as not to be overtaken; all persons are forbid harbouring of him, and all masters of vessels taking him on board.

Any person that will bring him to his master Cornelius Low, of Raritan-Landing, near New-Brunswick, or secures him in any of his Majesty's Goals, giving notice thereof, so that he may be had again, shall have ten dollars Reward, and more if it can be reasonably demanded, with Proper charges.

PRINCETON, (New-Jersey) September 26th, 1763.

Yesterday his Excellency our Governor, with the other Trustees, attended the Anniversary COMMENCEMENT of the College of New-Jersey.

The Exercises of the Day were introduced by a Short, Elegant, Latin Oration, pronounced by the President; to which succeeded a well composed Salutatory Oration, delivered by one of the Young Gentlemen of the Senior-Class; and then the following Theses were Maintained and Opposed by the Candidates for the Bachelor's Degree, viz.—The Preacher of the Gospel has the best Opportunity of exercising the Art of Rhetoric, in it's whole Extent:—That Ceremonious Behaviour, usually called Polite-Manners, is not vain and senseless Parade, but useful and necessary:—Bruté Creatures Think, but have not Human Reason:—Ars typographica plus utilitatis, quam detrimenti, veritati et bonis moribus attulit.—Necessitas moralis, lubentiae rationali nequaquam repugnat.—The four former in the Forensic, the latter in the Syllogistic Way. The several Disputants acquitted themselves to general Satisfaction. The Entertainment was agreeably Diversified by two Elegant English Oration, one on PEACE, the other on REPUTATION, which were well pronounced.

A Beautiful Harangue on the Advantages of Health, introduced the Exercises of the Candidates for the Masters Degree. This was succeeded by a Latin Disputation on this Thesis, Nulla simplex imperii civilis forma est quam optima; which was Maintained and Opposed with great Judgment. A spirited Valedictory Address concluded these Exercises.

The following Young Gentlemen were admitted to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.¹

¹The following sketches of the Class of 1763 are principally condensed from "Princeton College during the Eighteenth Century," by Samuel Davies Alexander. [New York, 1872.]

James Boyd was ordained by the First Presbytery of Philadelphia in 1770, and installed pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Newtown and Bensalem, Pennsylvania, where he remained for forty-three years, or until his death, in 1813. He was a Trustee of the College at Princeton, 1781-1800.

John Close was licensed by Suffolk Presbytery soon after his graduation, and immediately engaged in missionary work in North and South Carolina. Returning to the North, he was called and ordained as colleague to Rev. Ebenezer Prime at Huntington, Long Island, October 30, 1766. He was dismissed from this charge, April 4, 1773, and took charge of a church at New Windsor, New York, where he remained until 1796. He received the degree of A. M. from Yale in 1771. The few last years of his life were spent at Waterford, New York, where he died in 1813.

Robert Cooper came from Ireland. There is a tradition among his descendants that he learned the business of plough-making to assist him in getting an education. He was licensed by the Presbytery of Carlisle, February 22, 1765, and was pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Middle Spring, Pa., thenceforth until April 12, 1797, when he resigned, on account of ill health. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Dickinson College in 1792. He was a zealous patriot during the American Revolution, and often visited the army to exhort the soldiers to activity and fidelity. He died April 5, 1805.

David Cowell was born in Trenton, New Jersey, and was a nephew of the Rev. David Cowell. After graduating from Princeton, in 1763, he studied medicine in Philadelphia, took his degree, and returned to Trenton, where he practiced until his death, December 18, 1783. For two years he was senior physician and surgeon in military hospitals. In his will he left £100 to the College of New Jersey; and "to the Congress of the United States of America, one hundred pounds, if they settle themselves at Lamberton," a suburb of Trenton.—Hall's Hist. of the Presbyterian Church in Trenton, 291-3.

John Craighead received ordination from Donegal Presbytery, about 1767, and was settled as pastor of Rocky Spring Church, Pennsylvania. It is said that he fought and preached alternately. At the commencement of the war he raised a company from the members of his charge, and joined Washington's army in New Jersey. He remained at Rocky Spring until 1798, when he resigned his charge, and died April 20, 1799.

Samuel Eakin was ordained by the Second Presbytery of Philadelphia, in 1770. From 1773 until his death, in 1784, he was settled at Penn's Neck Presbyterian Church in West Jersey, but rendered himself so obnoxious to the Tories by his zeal in the cause of American liberty that he was sometimes obliged to withdraw. He was the idol of the soldiers. Wherever there was a military training, or an order issued for the soldiers to march, he was, if in his power, always there to address them, and by his eloquence would excite their emotions of patriotism to the highest pitch. It is related of him that he was so warm a Whig that he never entered the pulpit without imploring the Lord "to teach our people to fight and give them courage and perseverance to overcome their enemies." Mr. Eakin was an extraordinary man, and, next to Mr. Whitefield, esteemed the most eloquent preacher who had ever been in the country. See Johnson's History of Salem, 97-98.

Ezekiel Emerson, a native of Uxbridge, Mass., was ordained pastor of a Congregational church in Georgetown, Maine, July 3, 1763. He retired from the ministry in 1810, and died November 9, 1815, aged 80.

James Jauncey was the son of a prominent merchant in New York City of the same name. He married Eleanor, daughter of Sir Gilbert Elliott, in 1773, and was soon after appointed Master of the Rolls. In

Samuel Blair,	Amos Thompson,
Enoch Green,	Thomas Smith,
James Hunt,	John Van Brugh Tennant.
Benjamin Rush,

1775 he was appointed a member of the Provincial Council of New York. In 1776 he and his father and mother were imprisoned in Middletown, Conn., as Tories. He died in 1777. His father retired to England, and died in London, February 6, 1790. See Sabine's Loyalists, I., 572; Records N. Y. Chamber of Commerce, Part II., 138.

John Lathrop, a native of Norwich, Conn., was for some months after his graduation engaged as an assistant teacher with the Rev. Dr. Wheelock in Moore's Indian Charity School at Lebanon, Conn.; and for several months he was a missionary among the Indians. On the 18th of May, 1768, he was ordained, and installed pastor of the Old North Church in Boston. At the opening of the Revolution, in 1775, he was compelled to leave his charge, but returned to it in 1776. In the meantime their house of worship had been destroyed, and he therefore accepted an invitation to preach in the New Brick Church as an assistant to the Rev. Dr. Pemberton. After Dr. Pemberton's death the two societies were united, and Mr. Lathrop became their pastor, in June, 1779. Here he continued till the close of his life. Dr. Lathrop adopted Unitarian views, but at what period is not certain. His preaching was practical rather than doctrinal. He was an ardent patriot. In 1785 he was honored with the degree of Doctor of Divinity by the University of Edinburgh. He died January 4, 1826.

Joseph Lyon was a descendant of Henry Lyon, one of the first settlers of Newark, in 1667, but who was of Elizabethtown in 1673. Capt. Joseph Lyon was an Elder in the Presbyterian Church at Elizabethtown as early as 1759. He died at Lyons Farms, August 26, 1772, in his 61st year. His son, Joseph Lyon, born 1741, and who graduated at Princeton in 1763, was an Elder in the same church for thirty-five years before his death, which occurred May 14, 1821.

Obadiah Noble entered the ministry and settled as pastor of a Congregational church at Orford, N. H., November 9, 1771. He was released from this charge, February 16, 1829, and removed to Vermont, where he died the same year. He received the degree of A. M. from Dartmouth in 1773.

William Paterson was famous for his influence in the Federal Convention of 1787. He was chosen United States Senator in 1789, but resigned in 1790 to accept the office of Governor of New Jersey, which in turn he relinquished, March 4, 1793, on his appointment by Washington to a seat on the Bench of the Supreme Court of the United States. He held this high office until the end of his life. Judge Paterson received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Dartmouth, in 1805, and from Harvard, in 1806. He died at Albany, September 9, 1806.

Tapping Reeve was the son of the Rev. Abner Reeve, of Long Island, and afterwards of Vermont. He entered upon the practice of law in 1772, at Litchfield, Conn. Mr. Reeve was a firm and warm friend of his country during the Revolution. In 1792 he opened a law school, and continued to give lectures to students at law for nearly thirty years. In 1798 he was appointed Judge of the Superior Court of Connecticut, and afterwards was Chief Justice. His first wife was the only daughter of President Burr. Judge Reeve was a profound lawyer, and Chancellor Kent said of him: "He everywhere displays the vigour, freedom, and acuteness of a sound and liberal mind." He died December 13, 1823.

Also the following Gentlemen, Dr. John Redman, Dr. William Shippen, Junr. Francis Hopkinson, Esq; John Wentworth, Esq; with the Rev'd Mess'rs Benjamin Farwett, and Job Orton, had the Degree of Master of Arts conferred on them, as a proper Testimony to their Literary Merit.

The whole was concluded by an Ode set to Music, and a beautiful Poetic Dialogue on PEACE, to the general Satisfaction of a very Crouded, Polite, and Learned Assembly.—The Pennsylvania Journal, No. 1088, October 13, 1763.

PHILADELPHIA, October 13.

Captain Brookes, from New Haven, last Friday saw a large Sloop ashore about ten Miles this side of Great Egg Harbour; she had a Round House, and white Bottom; and a Number of Hogsheads, as the Captain thought, was seen on the Beach.

John Simpson, a native of New Jersey, was licensed by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, in 1770, and for the two following years he preached at Easton, Pa. In 1772 he was appointed by the Synod of New York and Philadelphia to visit Virginia and North Carolina. He spent seven months in this missionary work, and in 1774 was ordained and settled as pastor of Fishing Creek Church, South Carolina. He was a bold and ardent advocate of Independence, and was in many conflicts and skirmishes, in some of which he was regarded as the leader and adviser. He had many narrow escapes, and in the course of the war his house, his library, his sermons, and indeed all that he possessed, were destroyed by the enemy. After the war he gathered his scattered flock, and for ten years preached to them. In 1790 Mr. Simpson became pastor of Roberts and Good Hope Congregations, in Pendleton County, South Carolina, where he continued his labors until his death, February 15, 1808.

William Mackay Tennent was a son of Rev. Charles Tennent, of Delaware, and a nephew of William and Gilbert Tennent. He was ordained, June 17, 1772, as pastor of the Congregational Church in Greenfield, Conn. In December, 1781, he resigned his charge and accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church at Abington, Pennsylvania, where he continued till his death, December, 1810. Dr. Tennent married a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Rodgers, of New York. In 1797 he was Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

James Watt was in 1770 ordained and installed pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Cape May, N. J., by the First Presbytery of Philadelphia. He died November 19, 1798. Upon his tombstone we read, "If disinterested kindness, integrity, justice and truth deserve the tributary tear, here it is claimed."

Simon Williams came to America from Ireland. Three years after his graduation he was ordained pastor of the Congregational Church in Windham, N. H. He died September 10, 1793.

New-Jersey, October 4. Saturday Night the first of October, near 10 o'Clock, a genteel young Man at Raway, in East New-Jersey, was flung off his Horse, and killed. His Death seems to be more dreadful, as he had been for some Time past at Variance with his Father. The Promise of Long-Life, is to obedient Children.

Several Robberies have been committed within a few Days past at Newark, Elizabeth-Town, and Raway. 'Tis said some Persons have been committed on Suspicion; and 'tis hoped Justice may take Place: Mean While, this should caution People to be a little more careful, as great Numbers of Stragglers, are about the Country.

When we hear continually of the Depredations of the Indians upon the English; and every Government silent about either Revenge or Resentment, and no Encouragement given to endeavour to chastise those Savages ! Will it be a Transgression, to inquire, what is become of British Spirit ? or is it really from a Christian Temper of Forbearance ? Would to God this was indeed the Cause. —The New York Gazette, October 17, 1763.

An Extract of a Letter from Capt. Bowers, of Hanover, dated the 6th Day of November, at the Head-Quarters, twelve Miles above Colonel Van Camp's, on the River Delaware, on the Frontiers of the Province of New-Jersey.

SIR,

"I arrived here with my Detachment of 90 Men, by Order of his Excellency William Franklin, Esq; &c. where I found 150 Persons, Men, Women, and Children, who were driven to this Station by the cruel Savages of the Wilderness; of these, fifty at least, lodge every Night in one small Room, in a very uncomfortable and confus'd Manner; in the Morning, they throw what Beds and Covering they have out of Doors in one Heap, which in a Sort resembles the Chaos before the Elements were separated from one another. These poor People, it seems (if ever there can be such) are the most proper Objects of our Commiseration, for they have been compelled to quit their little all; their Provisions, their Corn, and in short, their whole Dependance to be devoured and consumed without any Hope of Security: What can ever animate a Christian to unsheath the Sword, and bathe the same in blood, if the Distress of his Brethren by Reason of the inhuman Cruelty of Savages, will not? And what will not the Noble and Generous deny himself of, that he may rescue such miserable Innocents as are daily presented to our view? Every Time I see these piteous Objects, and hear their Lamentations, methinks I feel something within, that makes me uneasy without Revenge. Two Indians were seen on this Side the River Yesterday, by Capt. De Pue, to which he was qualified:—and what will be the final Issue of this troublesome Indian Affair, is yet in the Womb of Providence.—O may God grant Repentance to his People, that his Anger may be turned away, that we Perish not.

BURLINGTON, November 16, 1763

The SPEECH of His Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of New Jersey, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

By the Papers which I shall order to be laid before you, you will find that, since your last Sessions, the Indians have commenced fresh Hostilities against the English, and even extended their Incursions to the Borders of this Province. Soon after the first Intelligence of their Depredations on the Frontiers of the neighbouring Governments, I directed the Commanding Officer of the Militia in Sussex, being the County most exposed to have his Regiment fitted for Service, so that he might either march the whole, or send Detachments, to any Part that should be attacked, or in danger: He was likewise ordered, in case of Necessity, to call upon the Militia of the other Counties for Assistance. Accordingly when the Indians had begun to ravage the adjacent Part of Pennsylvania, he sent a Detachment to occupy the several Posts which had been fortified on our Frontier during the late War. But as a Party of the Enemy did notwithstanding come over, and destroy some of the Settlers within the Limits of this Province; and as the rest of the Inhabitants of that County were thereby greatly alarmed, and apprehensive of Danger, I ordered Ninety Men from the Militia of Morris County to their Relief: And soon after, by the Advice of the Council, I reinforced them with Forty-five Men from the Regiment of Somerset, and directed the Fortifications at the several Posts to be repaired. Had not this Assistance been granted, there is great Reason to believe the Inhabitants would have abandoned their Settlements, and that Part of the Country become entirely depopulated, the Consequences of which are too obvious to need mentioning. . . . I have also empowered, Jonathan Hampton, Esq; to furnish the Militia which are now, or may hereafter be sent up to the Frontier, with Provisions, and other Necessaries. Both he, and they, place great Confidence in the Honour and Justice of the Legislature of this Province, and expect to meet with a proper Compensation for their Services.

After all, Gentlemen, I am far from thinking that even if the whole Militia of the Province were sent to our Borders, they would be sufficient to secure effectually so extended a Frontier against the Inroads of Savages. A skulking Party of them will always have it in their Power, notwithstanding all our Care, to steal in unperceived, commit their Outrages, and retire with Impunity. Would you keep the War from your own Country, there is no Way so effectual as to carry it into that of the Enemy. By acting on the Defensive only, you give them almost every Advantage they could desire. They may uninterrupted assemble together from distant Quarters, settle their Plans of Operations, and take their own Time for carrying them into Execution. But if we were to send Parties of Rangers into their Country, to cut off the Communication between their several Places of Residence, surprise them in their Hunting and Fishing, destroy their Corn Fields, bring off their Women and Children, and burn their Habitations, we should, in a little Time, be able to oblige them to accept whatever Terms we might think proper to dictate. In short, if we would fight them in their own Way, we should find that an Indian War would soon be stripped of all its Terrors: And this, were the Colonies united in their Measures, would be a Matter of no Difficulty, as we could then with Ease furnish ten Parties for one that could be furnished by the Enemy.

These having been long my Sentiments with regard to the Method of conducting a War against Indians, it affords me particular Pleasure to have it now in my Power to lay before you a Plan of Sir Jeffrey Amherst's for "putting in Execution such offensive Operations as may "be most effectual for reducing the Savages, and securing "Peace and Quiet to the English Settlements hereafter." For this desirable Purpose, the General makes a Requisition of 600 Men, to be raised, cloathed and paid by this Province: Arms, Tents and Provisions he undertakes to supply on the Part of the Crown. They, with the Troops that are to be raised in New York, and such Regulars as can be collected, are to be employed in punishing the Savages to the Northward, while the Forces raised in the Southern Colonies are carrying on their Operations against the Enemy in that Quarter. . . .

The Plan proposed, Gentlemen, appears extremely judicious, and will probably, if well executed, be productive of the most salutary Effects. It will too, I am convinced, be a considerable Saving to the Province: For the frequent taking the Inhabitants from their several Employments, marching them to the Frontiers, and maintaining them while there, is attended not only with a great Expence to the Public, but a heavy Loss to the Individuals, who being many of them Masters of Families, their private Affairs must suffer greatly in their Absence.

Although the People of this Province have had but very little, if any Commerce with Indians, yet I think it advisable, on the present Occasion, that a Law should be passed forthwith, for making it highly penal to supply them with any military Stores whatever.

I have but little more, Gentlemen, to add on this Head. You must be as fully convinced as myself that, unless during the War we make these Barbarians feel very sensibly the Weight of our Resentment, any Peace, we may hereafter conclude with them, will be but of short Duration. Their seizing upon the Effects, and massacring the Persons of the Traders who came among them, upon their own Invitation; their murdering, in cold Blood, the Garisons who had surrendered on Promises of Safety and Protection; and their butchering Women and Children, and even Persons who had done them signal Favours, are such strong Instances of their Breach of Faith, Treachery and Inhumanity, that they no longer deserve to be considered as in the Scale of human Beings, or indeed upon a Level with the ravenous Beasts of the Wilderness.

The Company in the Pay of this Province, which has been long stationed at Niagara, is, as you will see by the Papers communicated to you, greatly reduced. Part of them are now on their Return to the Province, and the General has promised to discharge the Remainder as soon as the Service will admit of it. Some additional Provision there will be a Necessity of making on their Account.

The Re-enacting (and amending, if requisite), the Law for regulating the Militia, is another Matter, that I must recommend to you as absolutely necessary.

Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

As I form my Expectations of your future from your past Conduct, I cannot admit of a Doubt that you will most chearfully raise the Supplies now required. . . . It would, I assure you, be with Reluctance that I should consent to lay any additional Taxes on a People, who have borne so large a Share of the Burthen of the late War, did I not know that their immediate Preservation made it a Matter of Necessity.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, and Gentlemen of the GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

You will, perhaps, when you have gone through the several Matters, I have now recommended to you, think it a convenient Season for engaging in the other Business of the Province. If this should be the Case, you may depend on finding me ready to co-operate with you in whatever may be necessary for the Public Service.

New-York, November 24. We hear several vessels are ashore at Barnegat.

PHILADELPHIA, December 1

From Sussex County, in New-Jersey, we have Intelligence, that on the 17th Instant Capt. Westbrook, with 11 more of the Militia, went over to the Pennsylvania Side, in order to bring off some Cattle and Effects which were left there by Persons who had deserted their Habitations: That about three Miles from the River they were attacked by a Body of Indians, who killed Capt. Westbrook, William Cartwright, Andreas Decker, Nathaniel Carter, and one Duncan: That six others escaped to Nominac, and a Person of the Name of Whealand is missing, supposed to be carried off, to give an Account of the Situation of the Forces on the River: That a Party of 150 Militia, immediately on receiving the News of this Disaster, went over to Pennsylvania, to bury the Dead, who found the Bodies of five of our Men most inhumanly butchered, and an Indian shaved and dressed in the Mohawk Manner, who was killed in the Engagement, the white Men they brought off and buried, and scalped the Indian: That the Party of Indians were thought, by the Persons engaged, to be upwards of 40 in Number, and 'tis imagined they were apprehensive of the Alarm spreading, and therefore made a precipitate Retreat, as they did not carry off the Indian that was killed, and left the following Things behind them, near the Place of Action, viz. about the Quantity of a Waggon Load of smoaked Beef and Pork, 12 lb. of Tallow, 2 French Guns, a Mohawk Indian Cap, 1 Blanket, 2 Belts of Wampum, a Scalping-knife, Looking-glass, Leggings, Moquasens, &c. And that it is the Opinion of the Inhabitants on the New-Jersey Frontier in general, that this Party were on their Way to that Province, and that if they had not been met, as they were, by Captain Westbrook's Party, they would have committed great Damage that Evening among the Inhabitants on that Frontier, which it would have been out of the Power of the Guard stationed there to have prevented.—The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1823, December 1, 1763.

New-York, December 12. Extract of Letter from Capt. Bowers to his Friend in Hanover, in Morris County, dated at Cole's Fort, 32 Miles above Col. Van Camp's, on the River Delaware, on the Frontiers of the Province of New-Jersey, November 20, 1763.

THE 15th instant I received a letter from ensign Walton, whose station was at the Shepecunck, 8 miles below mine, informing that 15 or 20 men had that morning been killed and scalped opposite to Normanach, 4 miles from the river, in the province of Pennsylvania. I immediately sent two men to get the best intelligence I could of the affair, they returned to me at ten o'clock at night, and reported that only 12 men went out, of which 6 were returned. I then marched with 12 men down to my next station, where I arrived at 2 o'clock in the morning, and at 6 crossed the river with 19 men, and was soon joined by Capt. Denike of Somerset, with 21 of his men, and others, to the number of 105 in all: We marched in Indian file, with advanced guards, till we came to the ground where the engagement had been the day before. We found five persons killed, scalped, and butchered in a most inhuman manner, three of whom we buried as well as the time and place would permit; the other two we brought down to Nomanack, and interr'd the same day.

The Persons killed were, Capt. Benjamin Westbrook, William Cortwright, Nathaniel Carter, William Duncan, Andrew Decker, (James Wilding, suppos'd to be made Captive.) These were going, with the six that returned, to a Place call'd Lacawack, forty Miles from the Frontiers, to bring down Cattle and Goods that were left when the inhabitants of that place were cut off, which happened about four weeks before. We found one Indian killed in the above engagement, and concealed under the trunk of an old tree, who was pulled out, and soon scalped by a brother of one of the white men that was killed at the same time. We found one Indian gun, two bags of paint, one scalping knife, and a large quantity of dry'd beef strung on sticks, and left in parcels at the place where we found the dead bodies. It appeared to me that the Persons killed made a valiant defence, and wounded many of the Indians, by the blood found in many places at a considerable distance from where the fight was. By the best intelligences, there must be 40 or 50 of the Savages; a Number one would think, sufficient to dishearten 12 Men.

I am, &c.

LEMUEL BOWERS.

BURLINGTON.

To his Excellency

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor, and Commander-in-chief in and over His Majesty's Province of Nova Cæsarea, or

New Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice Admiral in the same, &c.

The humble ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the said Province, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY convened.

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

We, his Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of the Colony of New Jersey, in General Assembly convened, sensible of the salutary Effects attending the early Measures taken by your Excellency, for the Defence of the Frontiers, return you our hearty Thanks for the Safety and Protection of the People under your Government.

To enable your Excellency to prevent the Incursions of the Indians, till a sufficient Force can be raised, we have provided for the Militia detached by your Excellency, also for repairing the Block-houses; and that the Militia may not be too much harrassed, we have passed a Bill for the levying Two Hundred Men, to be stationed as a Frontier Guard, and to relieve the Militia now there by your Order.

We have passed a Bill for continuing the old Militia Act, and also one for prohibiting the Sale of Warlike Stores to such Indians as do not now reside in this Government.

As to carry on, to Effect, any War that it may be thought proper to enter into with the Indians, the joint Efforts of all the Colonies must be more effectual than the most vigorous Exertions of any one or two, and the Occasion generally interesting, we must confess ourselves at a Loss to know why His Majesty's General should confine the Northern Part of his Requisition to this Colony, and New York only. And apprehending that the Defence of our Frontiers is as much as can be expected from us, until the other Provinces concerned in the present alarming Situation of Indian Affairs are also called upon for their proportionable Aid, we have been obliged to postpone granting the Requisition, so far as it regards the entering into offensive Measures, for the present.

When His Majesty's Pleasure shall be signified, and the other Governments come into such Measures as the General may propose, for remedying an Evil that has long concerned the Provinces to know the Cause of, in order to apply an adequate Remedy, we shall, on our Parts, not fail to give our best Attention, and grant every Requisition that can reasonably be asked.

By Order of the House,

ROBERT OGDEN, Speaker.

PHILADELPHIA, December 15.

"urers of this Colony, or either of them, to pay to His

For the Information of all the Inhabitants of the Colony of New Jersey, and others whom it may concern, the following Act, passed and published at Burlington, December 7, 1763, is made public by Order of the Legislature of New Jersey.

An ACT to prohibit the selling of Guns, Gun Powder, or other Warlike Stores to the Indians.

WHEREAS several Tribes of Indians, for some Time past, have perfidiously made Incursions within the Province of Pennsylvania, and perpetrated many cruel and barbarous Murders on the Inhabitants thereof, and have entered the Limits of this Province, and as it must be, in the present Circumstance of Affairs, of dangerous Consequence to supply such Enemies with Guns, Gun-Powder, or other Warlike Stores, for Prevention whereof, Be it enacted by the Governor, Council and General Assembly, and it is hereby enacted by the Authority of the same, That from and after the Passing of this Act, if any Person or Persons whatsoever shall directly or indirectly give to, sell, barter or exchange with any Indian or Indians whatsoever (excepting such Indians whose Residence is now in this Province) any Gun, Gun Powder, Shot, Bullets, Lead or other Warlike Stores, every such Person or Persons so offending, being thereof legally convicted in any Court of Record, within this Province, shall forfeit and pay the Sum of Five Hundred Pounds, one Moiety thereof to the Informer, and the other Moiety thereof to the Governor or Commander in Chief of this Province for the Time being, and shall be committed to the common Goal of the County, there to remain Twelve Months, without Bail or Mainprize

And be it further enacted, That this Act shall continue in Force for the Term of Twelve Months, and from thence to the End of the next Session of Assembly, and no longer.

Run away on the 20th of November last, from his Bail, in Pilesgrove, Salem County, one Abraham Lord, about 5 Feet, 10 Inches high, Pock-pitted, wore his own brown Hair, pretty much given to Drink, and may change his Clothing. Took a little brown Mare with him. He was born and bred in Pilesgrove. Whoever takes up said Abraham Lord, and secures him in any of His Majesty's Goals, either in the Jerseys or Pennsylvania, shall have Three Pounds Reward, paid by

Our Assurance from Upper Minisink, East New-Jersey, is, that on the 15th of November last Capt. Silas Park, with 23 Volunteers, set out from that Place to go to Cosheckton, on Delaware River in order to bury the Dead lately killed by the Indians, and to bring off such of the Effects of the poor People that left said Place, as could be found: on the 21st, the Captain with all his Men, safely returned to Minisink in high Spirits, having been to said Cosheckton, buried five Persons found dead there, brought off all the Cattle and Swine they could find; saw no Indians, but say, that the Day they left the Place, they heard sundry Guns fired on the other Side the River, supposed to have been fired by the same Party of Indians

New-York, January 16. The horrid Massacre committed upon the Conestagoe Indians, settled in Lancaster County, though under the immediate Protection of the Magistrates, having greatly alarm'd the other Indians (who at their own Request were lately removed from the Frontiers of that Province, and settled by Order of the Government, on the Province Island, and other Places, near the City of Philadelphia) and filled them with apprehensions of the Fate of the Conestagoes. We hear they are desirous to return to their Friends, or former Habitations, and that on their Application, the Government appointed them Guides, and directed their Rout thro' the Province of New-Jersey and New-York, giving them commendatory Letters to those Governments for safe Passage and Assistance; with which they, 140 in Number, immediately set out and proceeded as far as Elizabeth-Town, New-Jersey: But it is reported, that no previous Notice having been sent to this Government, Messengers are dispatch'd, by Remonstrance, to prevent their Entrance into it, and if they persist, to give immediate Notice. Many People apprehend fatal Consequences, should these Indians at this Time, under such well grounded Apprehensions, and with such shocking Ideas of the Justice, Humanity and Protection they may expect in an English Government, return and mix with the Indians now at War with us.

We are told the above Party of Indians are now at Amboy, under an Escort of a Party of Highlanders.—The New York Mercury, January 16, 1764.

Mr. GAINÉ,

Sir,

As an Advertisement appeared in Mr. Weyman's Gazette, No. 267, concerning one John Dalley, Ransomer for the Sloop Two Friends, lately belonging to Messrs. Woodruff and Jelf, of this Town, and under my Command, wherein the Owners are blamed for the long Imprisonment of the said John Dalley, having never complied with the Terms of the Ransom Bill, for his Release. I cannot remain silent, when an Imputation so aggravated, containing a double Charge of Ingratitude and Inhumanity, is laid to Gentlemen who must be thought innocent by every unprejudiced Mind, when the Facts are properly known; therefore must desire you'll insert the Particulars in your next Mercury, and thereby do Justice to those Gentlemen.

I am Yours

JOHN DORRINGTON.

On the 5th of August 1761, I sailed from Sandy-Hook, Master of the above Sloop, bound to St. Kitts, loaded with Lumber and Provision; for the proper Landing whereof, Bonds were given in the Custom-House in Amboy: On the 17th, we were taken by the French Ship commanded by Jaquez Ammile, bound to Marseilles, of whom I ransomed the Sloop and Cargo for 1725 Dollars, and the above John Dalley went Ransomer. On the 22d, we met with two other French Privateers, belonging to Martinico, who, after detaining us 12 Hours, and taking from us 18 Kegs of Biscuit, and 2 Firkins of Butter, on Sight of my Ransom Bill, let me go. On the 8th of September, was again taken by another French Privateer, commanded by Capt. Del Caprongere, from Martinico, who refused to allow my Ransom Bill, tho' I had 9 Days good on it, and sent me into Port St. Peiers, where I was confined in close Goal till the 29th of October, and on the 30th, was sent to Guadaloupe. While I was at Martinico, the Vessel and Cargo was sold; and I was informed by an Officer of the Admiralty, that I could not have a Copy of the Condemnation, because my Vessel and Cargo was contested between the Factors of the Vessel of whom I ransomed, and the Privateer that sent me in. When I arrived at Guadaloupe, I attested the above, and made a proper Protest; a Certificate whereof (made before John Cruger, Esq; Mayor of the City of New-York) was delivered to the Mother of the said John Dalley, in order to be sent to France.

This being a true State of the Facts, the Vessel and Cargo having become an entire Loss to the Owners, they do not think, by the Laws of War, the said John Dalley, can be detained a Prisoner as Ransomer of their Sloop, especially, as they have been informed by Atwood Cowman, Mate of the said Sloop, that when at Martinico, some Time since, he was told that the Factors of the first Ship had received the Full of the Ransom Bill, from the Sales of the Vessel and Cargo, by Order of the Court of Admiralty in that Island.

Any Person inclining to purchase, may apply to Samuel Tuthill, on the Premises, who will give a good Title.

To be LETT, or SOLD,

In Morris County, and Town of Morris, by John Budd, on the most reasonable Terms, a very good two Story

¹Samuel Tuthill, son of John Tuthill, was born Sept. 22, 1724. He was graduated at Yale College, and appears to have studied medicine, as there are references to him as "Doctor" Tuthill. He is mentioned so often in the local annals of Morristown that he evidently was a leading man in the community. Gov. Bernard appointed him a judge for Morris county, March 19, 1759, and he was again appointed April 21, 1768. In 1773 Lord Stirling complained that Samuel Tuthill and Colonel Samuel Ogden had acted in an unfair and partial manner in "taking the examinations and depositions of several witnesses of and concerning several criminal matters" inquired into by them as judges of the Morris county court of oyer and terminer; he also charged that they had "suppressed the testimony of some material witnesses for bringing certain criminals to justice." These charges being made to the Council of the Province, Col. Ogden in behalf of himself and Judge Tuthill demanded an inquiry. But Lord Stirling withdrew the charges, and the matter was dropped. When Princeton College appealed to the Morristown church (among others) for aid, in 1769, he subscribed £3. He was one of the trustees of the Morristown "Green" in 1771. He was among the first to take a decided stand on the American side in the Revolution, being appointed a member of the Morris County Committee of Correspondence, June 27, 1774, and again on January 9, 1775. The Provincial Congress, on Oct. 27, 1775, appointed him Lieutenant Colonel of the Regiment of Light Horse in the eastern division of the Colony, which he resigned February 3, 1776. He was chairman of a meeting held Sept. 25, 1792, at which was organized the Morris County Society for the Promotion of Agricultural and Domestic Manufactures, which was merged in 1812 in the Morris Library Association, and he was the first President of that society. He was chosen first moderator of the Fire Association of Morristown, organized July 26, 1797. He married, November 3, 1751, Sarah Kenny, daughter of Jacob Ford, senior, and widow of John Kenny. He renewed his covenant with the Presbyterian church of Morristown, April 1, 1754. He died May 31, 1814, in his ninetieth year. His wife joined the church on confession, August 29, 1771. She died November 12, 1811, aged 80 years.

Also a Tract of Three Hundred and Fifty Acres of Meadow, lying about three Miles from the said House, most of it ditched lately, and is fit for Corn, Oats, Flax, Hemp, or Hay. The House is just finished off in a very genteel Manner, and is suitable either for a Gentleman's Country Seat, a Shop, or a Tavern; stands near the Court House, on a very publick Road, in a small Town of near sixty Houses; mostly built within three or four Years past. Any Person that inclines to rent any of the above, may know the Terms, by applying to John Scott, living near the Premises; or if to purchase, to John Budd, at Salem, who can give an indisputable Title to all the above, except the thirteen Acre Lot, which he will Rent.

PERTH-AMBOY, February 15, 1764.

The SPEECH of his Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq, Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same &c.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly,

At your last Sessions it was thought proper to postpone complying with the Requisition of His Majesty's General, until the Royal Pleasure should be signified, and the Determinations of the other Colonies, with regard to the Measure proposed, be made known. I shall now give you all the Satisfaction in my Power on both these Heads.

By a Letter from the Right Honourable the Earl of HALIFAX, Secretary of State, I have received His Majesty's Orders, "earnestly to recommend to you, forthwith to make Provision, for enabling me to call out a sufficient Number of the Militia, or to raise such a reasonable Number of Troops, as, from the actual State of the Indian War, the Commander-in-Chief of the King's Forces in North-America shall think necessary; and to employ them not only in defending and protecting the Lives and Properties of His Majesty's Subjects on the Frontiers of this Government, but also in acting offensively against the Indians, at such Places, and in such Manner, as the said Commander in Chief shall direct. . . . And His Majesty trusts that the Legislature of this Government, from their Zeal and Affection for His Service, as well as from a just Regard to the Safety and Welfare of the Colony, will readily and chearfully concur in exerting themselves upon this important Occasion, to the End that His Majesty's Subjects in North America may peaceably enjoy the Fruits of the many glorious Successes obtained there by His Majesty's victorious Arms during the late War, and the extensive Advantages secured to them by the late Peace." . . .

As to the Conduct of the other Colonies on this interesting Occasion, the Assembly of Pennsylvania, I am informed chearfully and immediately voted the whole Number of Troops required of that Province. But the Assemblies of the New England Governments, it seems, not thinking themselves so nearly concerned in the War, have thought proper to postpone their Determinations on this Matter till March. The Expediency, however, of having a considerable Body of Troops to take the Field early in the Spring, supposing the Indians inclinable either to Peace or War, is so forcibly represented in a Letter last Night received from General GAGE, and which shall be communicated to you, that I think you cannot but come into the same Sentiments, and act accordingly.

The Cause of the present Defection among the Indians, you likewise at your last Sitting intimated a Desire to be informed of. The many and various Opinions which were then circulated on that Head, bore such evident Marks of being founded on Conjecture only, that I could not think any of them worthy your Attention. But I have since received an Account of a Conference held by Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON with a numerous Body of Indians in September last, wherein Sir WILLIAM (who must be supposed to have the best Information) says, that the Indians "without any Notice or Provocation, fell upon our Traders" &c . . . But I refer you to the Conference itself, which I shall order to be laid before you. . . . It does not appear that even the Indians themselves alledge, or so much as insinuate, that the English had by any Offence whatever provoked the late Outrages. On the contrary, one of their Speakers tells Sir WILLIAM, "the Seneca Warriors had owned that their Sachems did not act right, that the Onondagoes had wise Men to guide them, but They had none, which was the Cause of the present Troubles."

Matters being thus circumstanced, the Necessity of sending an Armed Force into the Indian Country, to bring them to a right Sense of their perfidious Conduct, is most evidently apparent. Indians, in general, are a warlike People from their Infancy. They ever entertain a thorough Contempt for the Nation who will make Peace without obtaining Satisfaction for Injuries suffered by the War. When that happens to be the Case, they seize the first Opportunity of renewing their Hostilities. A recent Instance of this we have in the Creek Nation; who being invited to the late Congress held with the Southern Indians, accepted the Invitation, received the King's Forgiveness for their former Offences, entered into a Treaty of Friendship and Alliance, partook of the Presents sent by His Majesty, and soon after destroyed a Number of the Back Inhabitants of South Carolina. In short, to obtain a solid and durable Peace with Indians, we must first make them feel the Miseries of War.

I have therefore, Gentlemen of the General Assembly, the fullest Reliance on the Assurances you gave me at your last Sitting, of complying with the General's Requisition. By going chearfully into this reasonable and necessary Measure, you will confirm the favourable Sentiments His Majesty already entertains of the People of this Province, and in the most effectual Manner provide for their Security.

The Militia, who were draughted for the Protection of the Frontiers, are, since your last Sessions, relieved by the Troops raised for that Purpose. . . . The People have, during the Winter, remained at their respective Habitations, and met with no Disturbances from the Enemy; but as the Spring advances, they are apprehensive of fresh Depredations.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly,

I think it proper at this time to mention to you, That some People in Pennsylvania having, contrary to the common Principles of Humanity, murdered, in cool Blood, a Number of friendly Indians, who had long lived peaceably among the Inhabitants of that Province in the Manner that the Indians at Brotherton have resided among us; and having also, in Contempt of the Government, which had taken them under its Protection, threatened the Destruction of other Indians remaining there, tho' they had given the strongest Proofs of their Attachment to the British Nation; I did, at the Request of Governor PENN, grant a Passport for their safe Conduct through this Province, in their Way to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON. They proceeded as far as Amboy, but being refused a Passage through the Government of New-York, they are since returned to Philadelphia. A small Number of them, who were well recommended to me, are, with my Permission, placed near Woodbury, I have received Assurances that the Township will be put to no Charge for their Support. The principal Inhabitants there have given them a friendly Reception; and I trust that there is not a Person in this Province, but has a just Abhorrence of the unmanly Behaviour of those lawless Rioters of Pennsylvania. . . . To be ardently inclined to have the Indians now at open War with us severely chastised for their Perfidy, is highly commendable; yet, surely, not only Humanity, but sound Policy, and common Sense, dictate that we should give all the Encouragement and Protection in our Power to those who shew themselves our Friends at such a Juncture.

Frequent Meetings of the Legislature I well know to be attended with Inconvenience to your private Affairs. It is therefore my fixed Intention never to call you together, but when the publick Service makes it necessary. Perhaps the going at this time into the Consideration of the current Business of the Year, may prevent the Occasion of a Sessions at an inconvenient Season: If this should be your Opinion, you may depend that my Concurrence will not be wanting.

To his Excellency

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor, and Commander in Chief in and over His Majesty's Province of Nova Cæsarea, or New Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor, and Vice Admiral in the same &c.

The humble ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of the said Province, in GENERAL ASSEMBLY convened.

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of New Jersey, in General Assembly convened, have deliberately considered the Matters recommended in your Excellency's Speech, and found it necessary to go into some Preparations for the general Service.

In the original Settlement of this Province, great Circumspection and Care was used to gain and preserve the Friendship of the Indian Natives; their Lands were, from time to time, fairly and openly purchased, to their general Satisfaction; this conciliated their Affection, and for a long Course of Time they were eminently serviceable to the new Settlers; and since the Beginning of their Hostilities, lest some among them should think any Part of our Lands remained unpurchased, Care was taken, at the Treaty of Easton, in 1758, to obtain, for a valuable Consideration, a general Release for all the Lands in this Province, such Parts only excepted, as were reserved for the Use of those Indians that inclined to live under the Protection of this Government: This was done, and the Money paid in open Council, and their Approbation universally expressed

Such therefore being the Circumstance of this Province, with regard to the Indians, it became a Matter of Astonishment to us, that any Conduct of theirs should give Reason to fear their Intentions respecting us. And whether they have actually any Design upon this Province or not, their Hostilities in the Neighbourhood of our Frontiers, and in one doubtful Instance over the Line, were Inducements to place a Frontier Guard of Two Hundred Men, for the Winter past. The continuing this Guard, we believe, might be Security for our small Frontier; but as their Perfidy to the neighbouring Governments seems to require Chastisement, and the Operations to make a future Peace effectual calls for the united Force of the Colonies, we have now passed a Bill for raising the Number of Men mentioned in the General's Letters, on Condition a majority of the Eastern Colonies ‡ should come into the Requisition, concurring, that as we can neither rank among the most able, nor are most exposed by our Situation, the making this Provision, by which our Levies may be as soon in the Field as any of the Eastern Colonies, is coming up to the Demand of His Majesty, by the Secretary of State and the General.

Whilst we are thus preparing for bringing perfidious Savage Violaters of public Faith to a Sense of their Interest, we would by no means be understood as including Resentment against all Indians. Experience shews, as your Excellency justly observes, that there are among them, notwithstanding the general Corruption of the Tribes, some that have distinguished themselves by a long and steady Attachment to the English.

Such there are among us; these demand our Protection; Justice to the original Proprietors, whose Lands we purchased and occupy . . . the Faith of the Government, the Proofs of their Fidelity, require it; and we have a well grounded Confidence in our Constituents, that no Occasion will be given (by an Act of theirs) to brand them with the Loss of their distinguishing Faculties; nor plunge into a Conduct that, besides incurring the Penalties of Government, tends to banish Justice from the World, stains the Christian Name, and stamps Disgrace upon Human Nature, by punishing the Innocent for what the Guilty only should suffer.

February 24

By Order of the House

1764

ROBERT OGDEN, Speaker.

‡ This Bill having failed in Council, the Assembly afterwards fixed the Proportion New-Jersey was to raise, on what New-York hath, or is to raise on the present Occasion.

PHILADELPHIA, March 1

The Legislature of New-Jersey, instead of restricting their Grant to what a Majority of the Eastern Colonies may do, as mentioned in the Assembly's Address have since passed an Act for raising a Number of Men (not exceeding 600) in the usual Proportion to what may be raised for the Service of the ensuing Year, by the Government of New-York only.

New-York, April 23. We hear from Elizabeth-Town, that on Monday last, Alderman Stites of that place, a gentleman generally esteem'd, being about to straighten a road, of which he was overseer, by the removal of a fence, belonging to one Sears, which was an encroachment upon it—Sears having before heard of his design, declared if he attempted it he would shoot him, and accordingly loaded his gun with powder and shot. When Mr. Stites, with his labourers on the high way, approach'd the fence, he saw Sears with his gun, ask'd him where he was going with it. He replied, "I'll tell you, damn ye", and immediately fired at him, lodging the shot in his side and belly. Sears was, after some resistance secured and sent to goal. It is though Mr. Stites cannot recover, though it is not certain whether the shot have penetrated his bowels, several have been extracted, but he had a high fever, and was in exquisite pain, though still alive on Wednesday morning last.

To be sold by the Subscriber, living in Bordentown, a Lot of Land containing 10 Acres, situate and lying on the Road that leads from Bordentown to Trenton, about Half a Mile from Bordentown; the Land is chiefly well timbered, and on which there is good Clay, which I think would suit a Potter or Brickmaker; it is very convenient to a good Landing on Crosswicks Creek, or to the Landing in Bordentown, also a fine country round it, which makes a great Consumption of Earthen-ware, which is now at this Time obliged to send to Philadelphia for Ware, which makes it come high, and consequently it would come £5 per Cent lower here, which would induce the Country to buy here. Good News for the PUBLICK.

THE long wished for Ferry, is now established, and kept across the North River, from the Place called Powles's Hook to the City of New-York; and Boats properly constructed, as well for the Conveniency of Passengers, as for the carrying over of Horses and Carriages, do now constantly ply from one Shore to the other. The Landing on the New-York Side is fixed at the Dock commonly called Mesier's Dock; and as Powles's Hook, is situated nearly opposite to the said Dock, the Distance between the two Places being about three Quarters of a Mile, and as the Boats may pass and repass, at all Times of the Tide, with almost equal Dispatch; it is thought by far the most convenient Place for a Ferry, of any yet established, or that can be established, from the Province of New-Jersey, to the City of New-York; and what will give it the Preference by far, of all the other Ferries, in the Winter Season, is that rarely a Day happens, but the Boats may pass at this Ferry, without being obstructed or endangered by Ice. Constant Attendance is given at Powles's Hook, by Michael Cornelisse, where the best of Stabling and Pasture is provided for Horses.

Also, that a Ferry is established, and kept a-cross the Kill Van Kull, and that Boats constantly attend for that Purpose, at the Place formerly belonging to John Beak, and commonly called Moodases, situate near the Dutch Church, on Staten-Island, from whence Passengers are transported directly across the Bergen Point, from which Place there is a fine Road leading directly to the said Powles's Hook; so that a short, safe, easy and convenient Way is fixed by Means of these Two Ferries, for all Travellers passing to the City of New-York, from any of the Southern Governments.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the Meetings of the Council of Proprietors of the Eastern Division of New-Jersey, at the City of Perth-Amboy, are altered to the 1st Tuesday in April, and 2d Tuesday in September. —The New York Mercury, July 16, 1764.

To the PUBLIC.

THE Subscriber finds himself obliged, with infinite Reluctance, to address the Public on Account of a scurrilous Advertisement in Mr. Holt's Paper, signed by one Andrew Bowne. The Character and Reputation of a man in Trade, being of the most delicate and tender Nature, any Attempts to stigmatize it, not founded on Facts, or supported by Evidence, will never, I flatter myself, influence the impartial Part of Mankind, before the Truth has been scrutinized in a legal Manner. But, some Time must elapse before this can be done: And as the Audaciousness of the Advertisement may make Impressions to my Prejudice, I shall endeavour to remove them, by laying all my Transactions with Bowne, open to the Public, whereby it may easily be perceived the Means by ¹ Samuel Kennedy was born in Scotland, in 1720, educated at the University of Edinburgh, and then came to America, where he was taken on trial by the New Brunswick Presbytery, December 26, 1749, was licensed May 18, 1750, and was ordained minister of the Presbyterian church at Baskinridge, N. J., June 25, 1751. He established a classical school there, which was of a high order and was extensively patronized. He also practised medicine, achieving some reputation as a physician, and was in consequence called "Doctor" Kennedy. He received the honorary degree of A. M. from Princeton College in 1760. (The listing of his name in the Class of 1754, in recent General Catalogues of Princeton, is doubtless an error.) He joined the N. J. Medical Society in 1768, and was an attentive member. He died at Baskinridge, August 31, 1787, aged sixty-seven.—Sprague's Annals, Webster's Hist. Pres. Church, 604; N. J. Archives, XIX., 418, 421, 577-8; XX., 489. *Wickes's Medical Men of N. which his Brain was so violently heated as to overcome his Reason.

Andrew Bowne, of Shrewsbury, called on me last Summer, telling me, Joseph Holmes, of this City, had recommended me to him as an honest Silversmith. He then bespoke a Set of Silver Buttons for a Suit of Cloaths. They were made exactly to his Directions, and when he came to fetch them, he seemed perfectly pleased with them. Three Weeks afterwards he called on me, and desired I would take them back. I represented to him how unsaleable Things made after another's Whim were; and that before I found a Person of his Taste, Years might elapse. He then offered me a Dollar, which I refusing, he grew passionate, and went away in the greatest Anger. On his Return home, he wrote me the annexed Letter (No. 1.) which I despised, and returned no answer to. Last May he wrote me another (No. 2) in both which he has been very lavish of Names that no honest Man can well brook. I returned him an Answer (No. 3) with a View to pass the Affair into Ridicule; but it had a contrary Effect, and the Advertisement in Question was produced by it.

Private Affairs, of a trivial and insignificant Nature, are unworthy the Attention of the Public. But when malicious Defamation is allowed to blast Character in a public News Paper, a Justification in the same public Manner becomes necessary; This Apology, I hope, will plead my Excuse.

BENJAMIN HALSTED

(No. 1)

AS you promised to mend any of the Buttons I had of you, for nothing if they broke; I have accordingly sent one, that broke as I was trying my Cloaths on before they were finished. I perceive some Difficulty and Charge is like to attend, having a Button to send to New-York once a week, more or less, as Occasion shall require, and a Taylor to take off and put on the same. You was pleased to say; you was sorry I should think hard of you, when I offered you a Dollar to take them off my Hands, which you refused. Had you said, you was sorry for imposing upon me, and was willing to make me Satisfaction, it would seemingly have faced your Proceedings with more Humanity and Christianity than they now appear in, for the Button's breaking has discovered a farther Villainy in the Work, viz The Eye stuck in, without clinching. Had I lost my ten Pieces of Eight by a Free-Booter, a Pickeroon, or a Pirate, I could better digest than now. Had I my Money, and you the Buttons, I would not give ten Coppers for them, much less than ten Pieces of Eight, neither would I have had the Imposition for twenty Pieces of Eight. Such Villainy is not easily expiated, and as I wear a noble Mind, willing to retaliate every Benefit, so as implacable to an Imposition. The Man that recommended you to me, has taken his Departure from Time, and is gone to make up his Account; and as a gentle Premonition may be proper, please to prepare yourself for the like great Change, &c. My Patience being much worn, it seems as if I was just now directed to a Text for my Relief, viz. Psal. xxxvii. 1, 2, Fret not thy self because of evil Doers, neither be thou envious against the Workers of Iniquity. For they shall soon be cut down like the Grass, and wither as the green Herbs. Prov. xxix. 1. He that being often reproved, hardneth his Neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without Remedy;

These Texts gives me Leave to hope, you will not have the Opportunity to impose upon many more.

I shall leave you to contemplate on this short Letter a while.

Shrewsbury, September 9, 1763,

ANDREW BOWNE.

P. S. Had the Buttons been made as an honest Man ought to have made them, for the Money you had for them, they would have lasted more years than they are now like to last Hours.

(No. 2)

THOU Child of Perdition, without any Sting of an Allegory, if you do not immediately make me Satisfaction for the Imposition you have put on me in the Buttons, I will promulgate you for a Villain. Were you a Man of Honour, you would have sent it long before now. I look on your Demerit to be such, that a Gibbet would be too favourable a Punishment for. I think it vain to multiply Words on this Matter, hoping you will make a more prudent Use of this Premonition than you did of my Letter, dated September 9, 1763.

ANDREW BOWNE,

Whom you think you have cheated, but beware in the End it be not yourself.

Shrewsbury, May 21, 1764.

P. S. I find it signifies nothing to send any more Buttons for you to mend for me, so long as I cannot have them returned. But when you send me the ten Pieces of Eight, I will send you all the d—'d Buttons to mend for yourself, if not, beware of, &c.

(No. 3)

THOU Son of Ignition! Promulgator of Nonsense! Premonitor of the Gallows! Truly passionate, most furiously mad, I hail the Sanity in thy Pericranium! Mayest thou escape the Castigation of the Bedlam Flagellator! I have essayed thy Letter in the Furnace of my Cogitations, but find it contains a Metal of abominable Alloy; it was so impregnated with Asperity, and of so corrosive a Nature, that when it came so irresistably pungent, that the Total of the human Oeconomy was incapable, either by Transpiration, Perspiration, or Inspiration, to found and fathom the Profundity of thy verbose, inflammatory, and most deplorable Diction, Farewell. Wipe thy dirty Mouth, and endeavour to mend the Scurility of thy uncouth Manners, by Loticu Mundification, and Ceration; thereby to obtain a delectable Transmutation, from Depravation and Ribfication to Beatitude and Pacification. And so, wishing thee a good Stool, I come to a Termination, subscribing myself,

None of thy humble Servant,

BENJAMIN HALSTED.

Princetown, September 26. This Day the Trustees of the College of New-Jersey, attended the anniversary Commencement in the Church.¹ In the Morning, the Rev. Mr. Whitefield preached a Sermon on Phil. iii. 8 in the Close of which he gave a very striking and animated Exhortation to the young Gentlemen who were Candidates for the Honours of the College. The Exercises usual on such Occasions, were performed to the Satisfaction of all who understood them. The following Theses were disputed, viz.

Mentiri, ut vel Natio conservetur, haud fas est.

Lux rationis Sola, incitamenta ad virtutem satis efficacia, non praebeet.

Somnia non sunt universaliter inania, et nil portendentia.

*Nullam veram virtutem habet, qui omnes non habet.

The following young Gentlemen were admitted to the ¹This was the first commencement held in the newly-erected Presbyterian church. The building was begun in 1762, as in September of that year the walls were up, or partly up. The subscription for the new church was dated January 20, 1762; the College agreed to lend £700 for the purpose. Mr. Hageman says the building became fit for use in 1766, some months before the death of President Finley. The fact that the building was used for the College commencement in 1764 indicates that it had made better progress than Mr. Hageman supposed.

Degree of *Batchelors of Arts, viz.*¹ Thomas Alkin, Thomas John Clagett, William Forster, Nathaniel Hayard, John Laurence, Samuel Leake, John M'Creiry, Alex-

¹The following sketches (except those of Dr. Lawrence and James Tuttle) are condensed from S. D. Alexander's biographies of Princeton Graduates in the 18th Century:

Thomas John Claggett was born October 2, 1743, in Prince George County, Md. After graduating from Princeton College he studied theology, and went to England for ordination, which he received at the hands of the Rt. Rev. Richard Ferrick, Bishop of London. Returning to America, he became Rector of All Saints' Parish, in Calvert County, Md. In 1780 he became Rector of St. Paul's, Prince County, Md. He received the degree of D. D. from Princeton College in 1787. On May 31, 1792, he was elected Bishop of Maryland, and was the first U. S. Senate in 1800. He died August 2, 1816.

William Foster was a native of Lancaster, Penn. He was ordained and installed pastor of the Presbyterian churches of Upper Octorara and Doe Run, Pa., Oct. 19, 1768. He was an ardent friend of the American cause in the Revolution until his death, Sept. 30, 1780.

Nathaniel Hazard (not Hayard, as in the text) is believed to have been a son of Nathaniel Hazard of New York, and a cousin of Ebenezer Hazard, of the Class of 1762. He received the degree of A. M. in 1770, and also from Yale. He died in 1798.

John Lawrence was born in 1747, son of John Lawrence (born 1709, died 1794), and Mary, daughter of William Hartshorne. John Lawrence, sen., was a surveyor, of Monmouth county, who ran the "Lawrence Line" between East and West Jersey. Having graduated at Princeton in 1764 young Lawrence studied medicine and graduated from the Medical College of Philadelphia in 1768, being one of the first ten who received literary honors from that institution. His was the first medical degree conferred in America. He began his practice in Monmouth county. Early in the Revolution he was suspected of disloyalty to the American cause, and by order of Gen. Washington he was arrested at Perth Amboy, with a number of other prominent citizens of that place, by Major Duyckinck, July 6, 1777, and removed to Trenton. A committee of the Provincial Congress reported, July 9, 1777, that they had waited on Dr. Lawrence and others, "apprehended and removed to this place, pursuant to an order of General Washington," and had taken "their parole, not to depart the town of Trenton, unless with leave of Congress." On Saturday, July 13, 1777, it was "ordered, that Dr. John Lawrence have leave to remove, on his parole, to Morristown, and not to depart from thence, more than six miles, without leave of Congress." A remarkable tribute to his ability and popularity appears in the proceedings of the Provincial Congress of Wednesday, July 17, 1777, when

"A petition from sundry ladies at Perth Amboy, setting forth, that they apprehend fatal and melancholy consequences to themselves and families, and to the inhabitants in general, if they should be deprived of the assistance of Dr. Lawrence's skill in his profession, as his attendance is hourly necessary to several patients now much indisposed, who will be left helpless if he be removed, as no other practitioner resides in that place, praying that he may be permitted to remain in Amboy; was read, and ordered a second reading.

"The petition from sundry ladies at Perth Amboy was read a second time, and ordered that a copy of the following letter, addressed to Mrs. Franklin, one of the subscribers, be signed by the President and sent:

"Madam:—

"I am ordered by Congress to acquaint you, and through you the other ladies of Amboy, that their petition in favour of Dr. John Lawrence has been received and considered.

"Could any application have procured a greater indulgence to Dr. Lawrence, you may be assured yours could not have failed of success. But, unhappily, madam, we are placed in such a situation, that motives of consideration to individuals must give place to the safety of the publick.

"As Dr. John Lawrence therefore has fallen under the suspicion of our generals, we are under the necessity of abiding by the steps which are taken; And are, &c."

He was subsequently permitted to leave the State, and located in New York city, where he practiced medicine until 1783, and was also in command of a local Company of volunteers for the defence of the city. At the close of the War he returned to New Jersey, residing at Upper Freehold, but did not resume practice, having abundant means. His patients were among the most prominent families of New Jersey and New York, Long Island and Westchester county. He was never married. He died April 29, 1830, at Trenton, while away from home. His remains were brought back and interred in the grave yard of the old Yellow Church (Baptist) at Upper Freehold.—N. J. Archives, X., 302, note; Wickes's Hist. Medicine in New Jersey, 307-310; Old Times in Old Monmouth, 48, 150; Laurence Genealogy, 1858; Sabine's Loyalists, II., 2; Whithead's History of Perth Amboy, 330; Minutes of Provincial Congress, passim.

Samuel Leake, a native of Virginia, was licensed by the presbytery of Hanover, at Tinkling Spring, Virginia, April 18, 1766, was ordained May 3, 1770, and settled as pastor of Rich Cove and North Garden Presbyterian churches, Albemarle County, Virginia. He died December 2, 1775.

John McCreary studied theology and was licensed by the Presbytery of New Castle about 1767. He was ordained and installed as pastor of White Clay Creek Church, Delaware, in 1769, which charge he held until his death in 1800.

Alexander Miller was licensed to preach by the Presbytery of New York in 1767, and was ordained in 1770. In 1771, he took charge of a church gathered in Schenectady, New York, where he remained for eleven years, but during the distraction of the Revolutionary war, his congregation dispersed, and he was compelled to leave the field. He was a trustee of Princeton College, 1785-1795.

Joseph Smith, of Nottingham, Pennsylvania, was licensed by the Presbytery of New Castle, August 5, 1767, and was ordained and installed pastor of Lower Brandywine Church, Delaware, April 19, 1769. He resigned in 1772, and in 1774 accepted a call from the Second Church in Wilmington, which had united with his old Brandywine Church. He laboured here until April, 1778, when he resigned on account of the distracted state of the country, and removed to Western Pennsylvania, becoming pastor in 1780 of the church at Buffalo and Cross Creek. A revival soon began in his church which never ceased till the day of his death, more than twelve years. He died April 19, 1792.

Thomas Treadwell was a member of the Assembly of New York from Suffolk County, 1776-1783, and 1791 to 1795 he was a member of Congress from New York. He died in 1826.

James Tuttle was born May 7, 1742, the son of Col. Joseph Tuttle and his second wife, Abigail Nutman, sister of the Rev. John Nutman. Col. Tuttle was an Elder in the Hanover (Morris County) Presbyterian church for many years. Young Tuttle was fitted for College in the school of his pastor, the Rev. Jacob Green, and having graduated at Nassau Hall in 1764 studied theology with Mr. Green. In 1767 he was licensed to preach, by the Presbytery of New York. On Feb. 2, 1767, he married Anna, daughter of the Rev. Jacob Green. In April he became pastor of the Rockaway Presbyterian church. Before the end of 1769 he became too ill to preach, and so continued until his death, at Hanover, Dec. 25, 1770. He had but one child, Benajah, who died a few weeks before him. Mr. Tuttle was also pastor of the Parsippany church. He lived at Rockaway, in a parsonage built expressly for him. His tombstone (at Hanover) says: "This man of God had a short race but swift, he ran far in littel time. Few exceeded him in sweetness of Temper, Tenderness of conscience and fidelity In his ministerial work and the End of this man was Peace."—Annals of Morris County, by the Rev. Joseph F. Tuttle, 1876, p. 80.

William Woodhull, probably a native of Long Island, was licensed by the Presbytery of Suffolk in 1768, and ordained by the Presbytery of New York in 1770. In 1783, on account of ill health, he ceased from preaching and devoted himself to secular pursuits.

The following commenced Master of Arts, viz. The Rev. Messrs. John Strain, and Nathan Kerr, and Messrs. David Caldwell, Thomas Henderson, John Leferty, and James Thompson; also, the Rev. Mr. David McGregore, had the honorary Degree of Master of Arts conferred on him.

*The above Latin Theses, for the Sake of English Readers, being translated, stand thus:

To lye for the Sake of saving a whole Nation, is not lawful.

The Light of Reason alone, does not afford sufficient Motives to Virtue.

All Dreams are not useless and insignificant.

He has not one true Virtue, who has not every one.

The two last were disputed forensically in English.—
The New York Mercury, October 8, 1764.

From Fort Penn, in Northampton County, we have Advice, that Lieutenant Dunn, of the Jersey Troops, on the 20th of last Month, set out with a Party of Eleven Men, in order to try if he could fall in with any Indians on the Frontiers of this Province: That about Wyoming he found many Tracks of Indians, and four Cabbins, which he thought were made about ten Days before; and afterwards saw two Cannoes coming down the River, with three Indians in them; upon which his Men fired, and wounded one or more of them, there being a good Deal of Blood in one of the Cannoes, which the Enemy left behind them: That they soon after saw two more Cannoes coming down, in which were seven Indians, one of which presented his Piece at the party, when the Lieutenant immediately fired at him, and saw him fall in the Water; that the other Indians then pushed for the Shore, and our People having sunk the two first Cannoes, and the Water being deep, could not cross the River. The Party found in the Cannoes some Powder, a Firelock, a Number of Mockasons, a considerable Quantity of Bread Corn, two Blankets and a Coat. . . . We are also informed that the Enemy had made large threshing Floors at Wyoming, and threshed out the Wheat the New-England Men left there: And that this Information had alarmed the Inhabitants so much above Fort Penn, that some Families had left their Places.

New-York, November 5. The 27th ult. about Noon, a Fire broke out in the Court-House at Perth-Amboy, which entirely consumed the Wooden Part of it. It is supposed to have catch'd from some Sparks flying out of the Chimney, and driven by the hard Wind on the Cupola; and notwithstanding it was discovered before it got to any Height, yet for the Want of an Engine, and by the Steepness of the Roof, all Endeavours to extinguish it proved ineffectual.

We likewise hear from New-Jersey, that on Saturday Night the 27th ult. departed this Life, at Perth-Amboy, in the 67th Year of his Age, the Hon. Samuel Nevill, Esq; Second Judge of the Supreme Court of that Province; which Post he long sustain'd with Dignity and Honour: He was also Mayor of the City of Perth-Amboy, and one of the Proprietors of the Eastern Division. Likewise many Years a Representative in the General Assembly, and often filled the Speaker's Chair with Integrity and Applause. In all his Offices, he was a faithful Servant to the Public, and his Loss in that Province is universally regretted.¹

We hear from New-Jersey, that on Wednesday the 24th ult. a Boy about 11 Years of Age, Son of Mr. Samuel Marsh of Woodbridge, being on the fore Horse of a Team with a loaded Waggon, descending a Hill, the Horse fell and threw him, and before he could recover himself the Waggon went over his Breast and crush'd him to Death, instantly. The same Afternoon three other Boys nearly of the same Age, each with a Team, hearing of the Accident, call'd in at Mr. Marsh's House to look at the deceased as he lay dead in the House. After they went away, one of the Boys, said to the others, that the deceased must have been foolish, else that after the Horse fell he might have got out of the way of the Waggon. Some time after, on the Road, the Boy who had made this Observation, fell from his Cart, the Wheel of which went over him; he got up and run a little Way, and then fell and immediately expired.

The same Day, a Man fell from a Saw-Mill, at or near Ash-Swamp, and was killed.

SAMUEL BLACKWOOD.

On looking into the New-York Gazette of December 3, 1764, I find the following Paragraph; "On Thursday, the 20th Instant, a Half-mile Race was run on Staten-Island for 300 l. between Mr. Water's Horse True Britain, and a Gelding belonging to Mr. Corell of New-Jersey, which was won by three Lengths by the former." And as the Facts are misrepresented, I beg the following State of them may be published, the Truth of which I can prove by a Number of Persons of established good Reputation. The True Britain, and my Valiant, (a Stallion, not a Gelding) ran on Staten-Island the 20th of last November, for a Wager of 120 l. which the True Britain won, and Mr. Waters received of Colonel Seyman, in whose Hands I staked that Sum, but the Distance he beat him was much short of three Lengths. After the Race was run, in a Conversation between myself, Mr. Benjamin Waters, and Mr. Nathaniel Herd, I said, "Valiant had lost his Race by an Accident." In a few Minutes after the Wager was paid, Mr. Anthony Waters challenged me to run again that Week, for the same Sum, or double the Sum, which I accepted, agreeable to his Challenge; and we agreed to meet next Morning, at Mr. Vanderbelt's, to view a Piece of Ground, which he thought would suit his Horse, better than that on which the Horses had run, and to stake the Money.

He did not appear till after 12 o'Clock, and then refused to run because (he said) "The Horse belonged to him but in Part," and "that he would not disoblige his Friends, he would rather forfeit 100 l." and offered to pay me the Damage, which I refused, and press'd him earnestly to stake the Money and run; I told him he had not made that Objection to the first Race, and that I thought he would not have made it to the second, but that he was convinced the Valiant could beat the Britain. And now, to convince the Public, that I do think the Valiant can beat the Britain, I hereby offer to run the Race Mr. Waters challenged me to, at any Time he dare, allowing me any reasonable Time to fit my Horse for it. The above-mentioned VALIANT is about 15 Hands high, a strong made, and a beautifully proportioned Horse; a remarkably good dark bay, and is full Blood. He will cover Mares the ensuing Season, at my House at Coryell's Ferry, in Buck County, at Three Pounds the Season, and Half-a-Crown to the Groom. . . . I have good Pasture, and Mares sent to me will be properly taken Care of, at Two Shillings and Six-pence per Week.

NEW-YORK, February 21.

Extract of a letter from Joseph Yeamans, late master of the sloop St. George.

Norfolk in Virginia, Feb. 2, 1765.

“On Saturday January the 12th about noon, set sail from New York, bound for Maryland, with a smart gale of wind at N. W., which obliged me to sail under a reefed mainsail and jib. The wind increased with a very large sea, till about 6 o'clock, 3 leagues S. S. E. from Sandy Hook, when a double deck'd snow called the Gordon, about 250 tons burden, John Pym, Master, belonging to New-York, ran foul of me, whereby the sloop's topping-lift, shrouds, and main boom were carried away, 12 feet of her waiste, with the timbers, wale, &c. stove in, and also one side of the long-boat; the sloop being by this shock disabled from proceeding on her voyage; to save our lives we all quitted her and got on board the snow, whose cutwater and sheathing were also much damaged: two of my men had their fingers frozen. Night coming on, at my request Capt. Pym agreed to lie to till morning, to try if any thing might be saved from the sloop, but there was no appearance of her, and we have reason to think she went to the bottom. We all arrived here in 18 days passage.”

Norfolk, (in Virginia) Feb. 2. The schooner Sally,

Woolsey Burton, master, who sailed from Amboy on the 25th December last, bound to Indian river, was by hard gales of north, and westwardly winds, blown off to the latitude of 37, distance to eastward 45 leagues, and lost his mainmast.

After being out 30 days, having expended all their provisions, except about two bushels of pease, and having nothing to drink for 3 weeks, except their own water, and a little they caught from rain, they were taken up by a schooner belonging to Piscataway, from Barbados, Thomas May, master, bound to this port, who has brought them in with him, but in a very weak and low condition.—The Pennsylvania Journal, No. 1160, February 28, 1765.

Philadelphia, March 8, 1765.

MR. HALL,

If you think the following worth a Place in your Paper, the Public are heartily welcome to my Endeavours to promote the Knowledge of it by a Publication.

TRAVELLING the other Day, in Company with a reputable Farmer, he happened accidentally to inform me, that he has at Times been subject to that excruciating Disorder the Gravel, and was particularly afflicted with it some time ago, when upon a long Journey from his Home: Fortunately for him, in the Course of his Progress, he met with a certain Gentleman, whom he believes to be a Doctor, who, upon knowing his Case, acquainted him, that he had heard of a Remedy which had been very beneficial to some, and he doubted not would do him Service. Take, says he, the Saw-dust proceeding from good mellow Pine, boil it in clear Spring Water, let it settle, and then strain it off; drink freely of this, and you will soon find Relief. The Person, glad to alleviate his Misery, tried the Experiment, and in ten Hours after found it gave him Ease: He used the Drink three or four Days, and declares his Pain quite left him, and that since that Time he has scarce felt any thing of his said Disorder.

I confess the Remedy seems simple; but as I doubt not the Truth of what the Gentleman has asserted, I hope the Freedom I take on this Occasion may be excused. What confirms me in the Belief of its Efficacy is, the reputed Virtues of Turpentine, the Uses of which, according to Chambers, "are innumerable," and is particularly "famous for clearing the urinary Passages, and as such, is prescribed for Obstructions in the Reins," &c. Now, as this Substance is the well known Product of the Pine, it seems to me reasonable to think, that the Pine Dust must contain of the oily Nature, and that therefore, it may have the good Effect above mentioned. If, upon Trial, it should prove as beneficial to any others, as it has done to the Person who gave me the Intelligence, my End in giving you this Trouble will be fully answered. Who am

Your Friend and Customer

CIVIS

N. B. As they saw Abundance of Pine in the Jerseys, the Dust may be had in great Plenty; three Quarts is a suitable Proportion to a Gallon of Water, and may be sweetened, to make it palatable.

On Tuesday the 23d Day of April next, will be exposed to Sale at PUBLIC VENDUE,

THE Dwelling-house and Lot of Ground of about 5 or 6 Acres, belonging to the Estate of David W.

Provoost,¹ late of Hackensack, deceas'd; being a large genteel and well built House, having six Rooms well finished, five Fire-places, and a large Kitchen adjoining thereto, with a good Barn and several Out-houses; a ¹David W. Provoost was a descendant of David Provoost, who came from Holland to New Amsterdam before April 28, 1639. In that year he was granted a lot of land in Pearl street, near Fulton, where he resided for some time. In April, 1642, he was placed in charge of Fort Good Hope, at Hartford, Conn., to resist the aggressions of the English, where he remained until June, 1647, when he returned to New Amsterdam, and taught school for a time. He died in January, 1656. His wife was Grietje Gillis, daughter of Gillis Jansen Verbrugge and Barbara Schut. She was still living July 29, 1701. They had nine children, the second, David, born in Connecticut, and baptized Sept. 31 (sic), 1645. In partnership with Johannes Van Inburgh, of Hackensack, surgeon, David Provoost, of New York City, bought of Peter Johnson, of Hackensack, by deed dated April 7, 1698, half of a tract of 500 acres of land on Hochas brook, where it joins Saddle River—being at or near Paramus or Hohokus, Bergen county. This property appears to have remained in the family many years. David Provoost married July 29, 1668, Tryntje Laurens, from Amsterdam. They had eleven children, among them:

William Provoost, baptized Oct. 8, 1679; married Nov. 20, 1700, Aefje Van Exveen, baptized Dec. 19, 1683, daughter of Gerrit Cornelisz van Echtsveen and Wyntje Stoutenburg. William Provoost was Assistant Alderman from the North Ward of New York City, 1708-9, 1709-10. He was already identified with New Jersey, probably occupying the paternal acres near Paramus or Hohokus. He was a witness at the baptism of children of Paramus families in the Hackensack Reformed Dutch Church in 1705, 1710 and 1714. In 1722 he was elected a member of the Assembly from Bergen County. He appears to have been prominent in that body until 1725, serving frequently on Committees to wait on the Council. In 1725 he is referred to as "Col." Provoost. In the mean time he was recommended by Gov. Burnet, June 17, 1722, as "an eminent merchant" of New York city, for a seat in the Provincial Council of New York, and was appointed by the King, in July, 1723, serving until August, 1732. By deed dated Dec. 3, 1725, Jurja Westervelt, of Bergen county, and wife Cornelia, conveyed to William Provoost, of New York City, merchant, a tract of four and a quarter acres on the west side of the Hackensack river, in the precinct of New Barbadoes, between John Wright, Gerrit Van Dien and the highway, for £68, New Jersey money. Here he took up his abode, and in 1726 his family were living there. He joined the Hackensack Dutch Church on confession of faith, July 13, 1727, being styled "Col. W. Provoost." His wife was probably dead before this. In 1728 he was appointed one of the N. Y. Commissioners to try pirates. It would seem that he took up his residence permanently at Hackensack about that time or shortly after. On May 6, 1734, he was sworn in as a member of the Provincial Council of New Jersey, in which he continued until 1740. On Dec. 1, 1739, he was appointed one of the Common Pleas Judges of Bergen County, and Colonel of the Bergen County militia, Dec. 4, 1739. For some reason Provoost attended no meetings of the Council after the last mentioned date. That body met on Dec. 29, 1739, and began a new session on March 26, 1740, at Perth Amboy. They sent a letter to Provoost, "in a pressing manner requiring his Attendance and afterwards they sent for him by the Serjeant at Arms attending the Council, which Serjeant at Arms reported that Mr. Provoost had promised him to Set out from his House in order to attend ye Council on Monday the Nineteenth day of May last [1740], since which they have not heard anything from the said William Provoost." Thus they reported to the Governor on June 9, 1740, and gave it as their advice that the delinquent Councillor should be suspended, which was done July 7, 1740. Gov. Lewis Morris wrote to the Lords of Trade that it was not from any prejudice to him that Provoost did not attend, nor was it to gratify any resentment of his that the Councillor was suspended, he being indeed a good friend of the Governor. The will of William Provoost, of New Barbadoes, Bergen county, dated April 22, 1745, was proved August 26, 1746. He left issue:

1. Wyntje, baptized April 27, 1701; d. s. p.

Y., 1728-1736, and later of Freehold and Middletown, N. J. Issue: 1. Anna, baptized at Schenectady, July 13, 1729; 2. William, baptized 1737; 3. David, b. 1740.

Eefjin, baptized January 39, 1737; 2. Catrina, baptized Nov. 5, 1738. She is not mentioned in her father's will, and probably died before it was made.

- vii. Anneke, baptized March 11, 1724; joined the Hackensack church Feb. 7, 1743, upon confession of faith. She was living at Hackensack in 1746, with her brother David.

David Provoost, frequently called David W. or David William Provoost, baptized Nov. 8, 1702. He joined the Hackensack church, Dec. 8, 1726, on confession of faith. He married 1st, Feb. 8, 1729, Anneke, daughter of Evert and Catharine (Provoost) Vandewater. They joined the Hackensack church Feb. 19, 1733, on certificate from the New York church. He married 2d, Oct. 14, 1741, Geertruyt Reinder, (Rynders), widow of Nicholas Gouverneur and daughter of Barent Reinders and Hester, daughter of Jacob and Elsje (Tymens) Lester. She joined the Hackensack church, Nov. 26, 1741, by letter from the New York church. He advertises land for sale at Hackensack and in New York, in 1746 and 1750; being himself then of Hackensack.—N. J. Archives, XII., 287, 620. He was probably a merchant, near the Hackensack church, living on the tract bought by his father in 1725. He was appointed one of the Justices of the Quorum of Bergen county, Dec. 1, 1739. By proclamation of April 18, 1740, Gov. Lewis Morris urged the enlistment of patriotic Jersey men to join in an expedition in behalf of His British Majesty against the Spanish West Indies, and appointed David Provoost, of Bergen county, as one of the persons to enlist volunteers for this service. He died at Hackensack early in 1765, leaving a will dated Feb. 21, 1760, proved March 15, 1765. He describes himself as of New Barbadoes, Bergen county. He names wife Geertruyd, and children—William, David Rynders, Catharine and Affie, all under age, who with his wife are his heirs and executors of "all my estate whatsoever." Witnesses—Abraham Westervelt, Nicase Kip and Sarah Gutridge. Issue:

Six Pounds Reward,

ON Tuesday the fifth Day of this Inst. March, a Gentleman (as he pretended to be) came to the House of the Subscriber, in Princetown, and hired a Horse to ride from thence to New-Brunswick, promising to ride him no further; a Servant followed him, in the Stage to fetch the Horse back; the Gentleman aforesaid, contrary to his Engagement, rode the Horse to Powles'-Hook, and the Servant followed him. After the Servant had got so far from home, it is supposed that the Temptation was too great, for he has never yet returned; He is named James Oge, alias Sunderland, aged about 22 Years, five Feet five Inches high, wore his own red Hair, (which perhaps he may cut off) he is remarkable by having black Eyes; he took with him a Pair of Leather Breeches, a blue strait Coat, and a red great Coat, a half worn Beaver Hat, and some Money; so that it is likely he will change his Dress. The Horse is about 14 Years old, of a roan Colour, about 14 Hands and 1-2 Inches high, branded W F upon the near Thigh. Whoever takes up said Servant and Horse, so that the Owner may have them again, shall have the above Reward, and reasonable Charges, or four Pounds for the Man and forty Shillings for the Horse.

BURLINGTON, May 22, 1765.

The SPEECH of His Excellency

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice-Admiral in the same, &c.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, Mr. SPEAKER, and Gentlemen of the ASSEMBLY.

IT is with infinite Satisfaction that I embrace this first Opportunity of congratulating you upon the happy Termination of Hostilities with the Indians. By the wise Measures of His Majesty's General, and the judicious, spirited Conduct of Col. BOUQUET, they have been reduced to accept the most humiliating Terms of Accommodation. They were not only compelled to deliver up all their Prisoners, but even their own Children, born of white Women; and to give up a Number of their principal Chiefs, to remain as Hostages, till they should send Deputies to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, to settle a Peace upon such further Terms as he should think necessary.

The Troops you enabled me to send into the Field, for the last Campaign, were of considerable Service: Their Behaviour, in every Respect, was such as did honour to the Province. The Guards placed on our Frontiers have likewise done their Duty, and the Inhabitants have been fully protected from the Incursions of the Enemy.

I have it in Charge from His Majesty to recommend to you the Facilitating the Conveyance of Letters, by the Posts, through this Province.¹ A regular, safe and speedy Correspondence is of the utmost Importance to His Majesty's Service, and to the commercial Interest and general Convenience of his Subjects. It is therefore not to be doubted but the Legislatures of the several Colonies will readily and cheerfully promote the Establishment of Ferries, the Erection of Bridges, the Improvement of Roads, and whatever else may contribute to prevent Delays and Interruptions to the Posts in passing. His Majesty's Deputy Post-masters General for the Northern District of America, have given me Assurances, that if the Legislature of this Province will cause Bridges to be erected over Ancocus, and the Creek near the Barracks in this City, they will order the Posts to take that Route in their Way between New-York and Philadelphia; as the Communication will be thereby considerably shortened, and rendered far more certain.¹ The many Advantages to the Province in general, which will attend this Measure, if carried into Execution, will, in my Opinion, greatly over-balance any inconveniences it may occasion. Indeed, all of the latter, which I have yet heard suggested, have been either imaginary, or such as are merely local, and might be easily obviated.

I have received from the Lords Commissioners for Trade and Plantations, an Order of His Majesty in Council, repealing the "Act for rendering void the Lottery made by Peter Gordon, for the Sale of certain Lands in the County of Middlesex," Passed in the Time of your late Governor. Their Lordships' Reasons for proposing the Repeal of this Act, and for not laying before His Majesty an Act passed at the same Time, "for imposing a Duty upon the Importation of Negroes," will appear by an Extract of their Letter, which the Secretary will communicate to you.²

It would afford me, Gentlemen, the greatest pleasure to see the Inhabitants of this Province, now Peace is so happily established, turning their Attention to the Cultivation and Production of such Articles as might serve for Remittances to the Mother Country; and which, at the same time that they tended to her Advantage, might prove beneficial to the Colony. For this Purpose, I would recommend to you to grant a Bounty to encourage the Raising of Hemp and Flax,³ and the Cutting of Plank and Timber, for Exportation to Great Britain. The Parliament have already granted some Encouragement to the two first Articles, and the truly laudable Society for Arts, ¹ Numerous acts were passed in 1765 and soon after, for improving the roads of the Province. See N. J. Archives, XVII., 408, 414; 406, 411, 415; 476, 478, 499; 476-7, 479-80, 482, 499; 477, 479, 481, 499, etc.

² For the proceedings attending the passage of this act, see N. J. Archives, XVII., 247-50, 327, 331, 338. For proceedings relative to annulling the same, see N. J. Archives, IX., 446, 458, 487.

³ Such an act was promptly introduced and passed, in 1765; and the bounty was continued by an act passed in 1768. See N. J. Archives, XVII., 408, 414, 434; 471-2, 475, 498.

Manufacturers and Commerce, have shewn a Disposition to promote the others. They have, for that End, sent into several of the Colonies, Boxes containing Specimens of divers Sorts of Fir Timber, and Deals, which are imported into England from Riga and Norway, with a Description of the same, and the Prices they are sold at. One of these Boxes and Descriptions I have received, and shall order to be shewn to any of the Inhabitants of the Colony who may incline to see them. This you may depend on, that every Species of Timber has for many Years been rising in Price in Great-Britain; and that there is scarce any Thing wanting, to make a ready Vent for Oak, Fir, Pine, Cypress, and Cedar from America, but a Knowledge of the Scantlings wanted for each particular Use, and to cut for that Market good Wood, in the right Season.

The Society before mentioned have likewise given handsome Premiums for the Encouragement of the Culture of Silk, and the Making of Wines and Pot Ash in America; and as they might be produced in this Province (as appears by some Experiments made in the neighbouring Colonies) it might be worth your Enquiry, whether it would not be proper for the Legislature to grant such further Assistance as may be sufficient to incite the People to undertake the Production of those valuable Articles.

The Militia Law being near expired, it is necessary that you should take that Matter into your Consideration. A well regulated Militia is of the utmost Importance to the Security of the Inhabitants from foreign Invasions, and internal Commotions. Our Law for that Purpose has been generally complained of as defective in several material Points, but I hope this Session will produce one less liable to Objection.

Mr. SPEAKER, and Gentlemen of the ASSEMBLY,

Besides the due Support of His Majesty's Government, I have only to recommend that you would make Provision for the Pay owing to the Forces raised last Year, for the Time they were obliged to serve after the First Day of November.

Gentlemen of the COUNCIL, Mr. SPEAKER, and Gentlemen of the ASSEMBLY,

So many Benefits to the Public have resulted from a perfect Harmony subsisting between the different Branches of the Legislature in this Province, that I am convinced no Arguments are necessary to induce you to endeavour its Preservation and Continuance; I shall therefore only add my earnest Wishes that all your Consultations may be productive of the most happy Consequences to the Country.

FIFTY SPANISH DOLLARS Reward

MADE his Escape from the Sheriff of Hunterdon County, West Jersey, on or about the 10th of April last, a certain Hugh M'Can, who it is said has changed his Name to that of Hugh Johnson, born in Ireland, aged near 60 Years, about 5 Feet 6 or 7 Inches high, black or hazel Eyes, and one of them something lighter coloured than the other, with large black Eye-brows, wears his Hair, which is grey, which he sometimes covers with a Silk or Linen Cap, or a black or brown cut Wig, takes Plenty of Snuff, fair Complexion, addicted to strong Liquor, and very talkative when the least intoxicated; he can scarce write his Name intelligibly, but pretends to be well versed in Trade, which he followed in the Retail Way, together with the manufacturing of Wheat, at his late Grist-mills at Almetunk River; he also had a Saw-mill and Fulling-mill, is a Fuller by Trade, and will brag largely of his Knowledge in dying Cloaths of two Colours, the one Side scarlet, and the other blue. Whoever apprehends and secures the said Hugh M'Can, alias Johnson, and causes him to be sent back, and delivered to the Sheriff of Philadelphia, shall receive Fifty Spanish Dollars, and all reasonable Charges, paid by the Subscriber. It is hoped that all Persons will be diligent to apprehend him, with a View to detect one of such vile Principles, who deserted the said Sheriff, who placed a Confidence in him out of Compassion, and let him pursue his Business, rather than lock him up in Goal, which he was liable to, and justly deserved.

SAMUEL TUCKER, Sheriff of Hunterdon County.

N. B. The said Hugh M'Can, alias Johnson, went Passenger on board the Sloop Adventure, John Matthews, Master, from Philadelphia to St. Kitts, and sailed the 18th or 20th of April last.

Burlington, June 10, 1765

To his Excellency

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same &c.

The humble ADDRESS of the COUNCIL of the Province of New-Jersey

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

WE very heartily join with your Excellency, in Congratulations upon the Cessation of Hostilities with the Indians, and in your Sentiments respecting the Measures and Conduct of His Majesty's General and Colonel BOUTQUET, which, we trust, will produce a lasting Peace with those numerous Tribes that surround the British Colonies. It likewise gives us great Satisfaction, that the Troops furnished by this Province for last Campaign, and the Guards on our Frontiers, have so well performed their Duty.

We assure your Excellency, that it gave us real Pleasure to hear you recommend shortening and rendering more commodious our public Roads, and the Encouragement, by Bounties, of the Cultivation and Production of such Articles as may serve for Remittances to Great Britain. Nothing in our Power shall be omitted to carry these beneficial and public spirited Measures into Execution. We are fully sensible that this Province is now under great Difficulties, for want of such Produce as will answer to pay for those various British Manufactures which are to so great an Amount, consumed among us.

Our hearty Thanks are due to the worthy Society of Arts Manufactures and Commerce, for the many noble and generous Instances of their Attention to North-America: Besides the internal Reward which always attends benevolent Designs, we flatter ourselves that they will have the Satisfaction of seeing many of their truly judicious Schemes arrive at Maturity, to the great and mutual Advantage of the Colonies and Mother Country.

The other Matters recommended in your Excellency's Speech shall have our serious Attention, and every Thing in our Power shall be done to continue a perfect Harmony between the different Branches of the Legislature, from whence so many Benefits flow, to the Honour of your Excellency's Administration, and the Happiness of the Province.

The GOVERNOR'S Answer

GENTLEMEN,

I RETURN you my hearty Thanks for this obliging Address. Your Approbation of the Measures I have recommended affords me great Pleasure, and I doubt not, from your Readiness and Zeal to promote the public Good, but that you will forward them all in your Power.

To his Excellency,

WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq;

Captain General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice Admiral in the same, &c

The humble ADDRESS of the REPRESENTATIVES of said Province, in General Assembly convened.

May it please your EXCELLENCY,

WE, His Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Representatives of New-Jersey, in General Assembly convened, thoroughly sensible of the numerous Advantages that formerly did, and hereafter must, attend an uninterrupted Peace with the Indians, are sincerely glad of the happy Prospect lately obtained, that this salutary Business is likely to be effectually secured, under Providence, through the Wisdom and Vigilance of those who have planned, and so far executed, the important Charge, and to whom Britain and her Colonies have Obligations, on that Account, that will not soon be forgotten.

Agreeable to your Excellency's Recommendation, we have adopted the Measure of giving Bounties on Hemp, Flax, and planting of Mulberry Trees, with a View of stimulating our Inhabitants to future Industry and Wealth, in a Way hitherto but little used in this Government, but which, notwithstanding, appears to us to carry a Probability of succeeding, and being in Time considerable in the Article of Remittance to the Mother Country. On this Occasion our Acknowledgments are justly due to the Society for Arts, Manufactures and Commerce, on Account of their disinterested and benevolent Care respecting Improvements in the Colonies.

We also thank your Excellency for the Consideration you have repeatedly shewn as to the real Prosperity and Welfare of this Province, and hope, through the Continuance of that Attention and Regard, it may rise to further Improvements, and not be hereafter thought unworthy the united Attention of the whole Legislature, to encourage such Branches of Commerce as may promote Frugality, Industry, and a Spirit of Emulation on this Head, that the Purposes of paying our English Debts may be answered, without parting with the little Cash we have; for, under the present Discouragements, further Means of procuring it seems hard to devise.

Fully convinced that shortening the Post Roads would be a Work of public Advantage, if it can be effected without unreasonably prejudicing Individuals, we have this Session attempted it in Part, and, to be enabled to do it more effectually, have agreed with the Council, that Commissioners be appointed to survey other Parts, who are to report at next Session the most probable Method for benefiting the Public, with the Injury to which Particulars may be exposed, if any should appear, in order that such further Measures may be then taken as shall be thought best for the whole.

By Order of the House

TO BE SOLD BY,
JOHN MEASE,

A little below the drawbridge.

A small trunk of well sorted silk handkerchiefs, either the whole or in part. Also Genuine Lisbon wine, Antigua and Philadelphia rum; Burlington pork, salt, &c. which he will sell on the best terms for cash or short credit.

Whereas a report has been spread, that we Peter Hendrick Striepers, and John Herbergs, lay claim to great part of the north end of this city, to all Frankford, and a part of West New-Jersey, which report we believe has been spread with a design to prejudice the minds of the people against our title and claim: Therefore to take off that deception, we take this method of declaring what we do claim; which is five thousand acres of land in this province with its privileges purchased by our grandfather John Striepers, of William Penn Esq; deceas'd, late Proprietor of this province; also fifty acres of liberty land, and one acre in this city as a free gift of the late William Penn, Esq; to the said John Striepers of which we find taken up on said right as follows, viz. four thousand four hundred and forty eight acres in Bucks County called Striepers or the Dutch tract, adjoining the London company lands in Tinnicum township; two hundred and seventy five acres in New Providence Township, at a place called the Trap; about two hundred and seventy five acres in and about Germantown; also fifty acres of liberty land near Germantown, and three whole lots in this city lying in the square between fourth and fifth streets and Vine & Race streets; and whereas we can plainly make it appear, that we and those who have empower'd us are the true and lawful heirs of the said John Striepers, wherefore we have come over on purpose to take possession and settle the aforesaid estate; but as we are strangers to the laws of this country, and unwilling to enter into law-suits, we have offered to leave the determination of our title, and matters in controversy to three or more gentlemen mutually chosen which was refused, therefore we hope no report will prevail in prejudice to our title, and that if we are forced (contrary to our inclination) to bring ejectments against those in possession, (or otherwise into the law) that we shall be esteemed and held excusable.

JAMES BROOKS, Sheriff.

The above house will be kept as usual, and in the best manner, to entertain all travellers, until the house is sold, by me

GEORGE CAMPBELL.

New-York, July 11. Some Months ago, an Account was published in the News Papers, of a Company of Men in Providence, unlawfully associated, and disguised, who undertook to punish all Matrimonial Trespasses that came to their Knowledge, and had assaulted a Man they suspected of wronging his Wife by too great a Familiarity with another Woman, with an Intent to make him ride Skimmington, that is upon a Pole, carried on Men's Shoulders; but were prevented from executing their Design, by the resolute Defence of the suspected Man, who killed one of them and dangerously wounded one or two more, which dissolved the Association:

A like Affair we hear has lately happen'd at Newark, only that it has not yet been attended with any fatal Consequences, which however should be a Warning to all Persons concern'd in such unlawful Enterprises—Such another Company of Disciplinarians, disguised, with black'd Faces, a few Days ago seized a Man of that Place, who was known to be jealous of his Wife; and upon a Supposition that his Jealousy was injurious to his Wife, they gave him a severe whipping: But afterwards, finding sufficient Proof of the Guilt of both the Woman and her Gallant, they gave each of them a still more severe whipping, and left them both tied all Night.

PURSUANT to an order made by Robert Smith and Thomas Rodman Esquires, two of the judges of the court of Common Pleas, for the county of Burlington; upon the petition of John Willson, Jacob Cook, and John Doughty, insolvent debtors: Notice is hereby given by the petitioners, to all the creditors of the said John Willson, Jacob Cook, and John Doughty, to shew cause (if any there be) before the said judges, at the court-house in Burlington, on saturday the 27th of this present July, at 3 o'Clock in the afternoon, of the same day, being the day and place by the said judges appointed for that purpose why an assignment of the said John Willson, Jacob Cook and John Doughty's estates should not be made, and the said John Willson, Jacob Cook, and John Doughty, be thereupon discharged from their imprisonment, according to the directions of an act of the governor, council, and general assembly of the province of New-Jersey, made and passed in the fifth year of his present majesty's reign, entitled an act for the relief of insolvent debtors.

New Jersey, July 11.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of this province, at their meeting in June last, did allow one month and twenty days pay to the officers and soldiers of the New-Jersey regiment, commanded by Coll. M'Donald, in the year 1764, for being detained on duty longer, than provided for by law; and have appointed me, the subscriber, for paying the same. These are therefore to give notice that I purpose to attend at Elizabeth Town the 1st, at Bound Brook the 3d, and at Trenton the 6th day of August next, for the purpose aforesaid.

HENDRICK FISHER.

N. B. I am not warranted to pay any orders unless properly attested before a magistrate.

We hear from Northampton, Burlington-county, New-Jersey, that, in the night of the 18th inst. between 11 and 12 o'clock, three men armed with guns, with their faces painted, entered the house of Joseph Burr, and by threats forced from his wife the keys of the drawers, &c. from whence they took money, plate, and sundry other things, with which they made off on three horses which they had stole. The country being alarmed they were pursued and overtaken on Sunday the 20th, in the woods, about ten miles from Crosswicks, where two of them had fell asleep, being overcome by the liquor they had drank the night before; the other, whom in a quarrel that morning they had beat in a shocking manner, was sitting near them. They were all secured before they had time to make any resistance, and in the evening were safely lodged in Burlington goal. The horses and all the other things, except some of the money, was recovered. They confessed the facts, and say they belonged to a large gang, many of whom were in Philadelphia and New-York.

As Iron Works where the ore is good and the carriage easy, with sufficient wood and water, are esteemed as valuable and permanent estates as any in America.

CHARLES READ,¹ of Burlington, gives notice to the public, that he is possessed of several tracts of land, having in them streams of water, as constant and as governable as can be wished, and the following conveniences;

A PLACE for a furnace, remarkable and advantageous in situation, the stream sufficient in the driest time. Two stone hills at two miles distance from the place for erecting the furnace. Ore sufficient, to be drawn at three miles and an half, and flux if wanted easy to be come at: The portage to his landing on the side of the south west branch of Ancocas five miles and an half: And to this work he will allot the Coal Wood of eight thousand acres of land, and if that is not esteemed sufficient he will add more. A place for a forge on a plentiful and steady stream thought sufficient to carry four bellows and two hammer wheels not three miles from the furnace, which will have great command of wood, and not interfere with the furnace tract, the portage from the forge nearly the same as from the furnace; this work will be within twenty miles of Cooper's ferry, opposite Philadelphia, a boat comes up within 2 & 1-2 miles of the furnace and forge, and carries equal to eleven tons of iron down the stream, and has done it in June, 1765, although the season is dry and the boat not well constructed for the purpose; an offer has been made to clear out the creek, so that she may perform it at all times, for Fifty pounds. Another place for a forge or bloomery with four fires and two hammers: The stream esteemed sufficient all the year, and in winter it has water to spare: The cartage of the ore one mile or thereabouts: To this work will be allotted the Coal Wood of four thousand acres, and more may be had: The cartage of the iron eleven miles to a cheap water carriage to New-York or Philadelphia. Another constant stream capable to drive four bellows and two hammer wheels, where also a furnace may be erected, the ore very handy and a scow of ten tons may come to the works and carry the produce two miles to vessels frequently going to New-York, New-England, and Philadelphia: To this work will be allotted the Coal Wood of eight thousand acres; it is thought the ore may be raised for one shilling a ton, and that a team of six oxen will draw two tons, as the roads are good and country level. There is at all these places plenty of food for the cattle from the middle of May to the middle of October. Each stream will raise a considerable head of water, so as to enable them to turn off a great deal of work, nor are any of them very hasty and ungovernable. The ore has been viewed by two judicious iron masters, who have followed the business many years with reputation and success, and their opinions of it may be seen by a letter in the hands of Mr. Bradford, who has also certificates of the quality of the iron from competent judges. The iron may be seen at Capt. Burnet Richards's in Philadelphia, who was also present at the trial made of it.

¹For sketches of Charles Read, see N. J. Archives, IX., 151; X., 426. A much fuller sketch is given in "Members of the New Jersey Assembly, 1754," by William Nelson, Paterson, 1895, pp. 14-16.

As Mr. Read's situation renders it inconvenient to him to take upon himself the expence or care of works so extensive, he notifies to the public that it will be agreeable to him to let the conveniences to any gentleman of credit reserving a share of the produce, or to enter into a partnership with any persons of good dispositions, fortune and integrity. He may be treated with on the subject at Philadelphia, or at his own house at Burlington. Thomas Asheton at said Read's mill on Ancocas, or Emanuel Straton at Pricket's mill, will shew the ore and situation, to any person who inclines to view them. The goodness of the Iron, the visible quantity of the ore, the extraordinary situation, joined to the very easy land and water carriage, and its vicinity to Philadelphia, and easy carriage from the two last mentioned works to New-York, give works erected here a preference to any on the continent.

RUN-AWAY, on the 21st instant, from the subscriber, living in the town and county of Gloucester, and province of West New-Jersey; A servant man named Daniel Minuvet, aged thirty-one years, about five feet five or six inches high, pretty thick set, and has a down look, gray eyes, one tooth out before, has D. M. marked on his right hand between his fore finger and thumb, he will get drunk if he can get liquor; wears his own hair of a brownish colour, had on and took with him, an oldish light coloured cloth coat, a black callimanco Jacket, a fine and brown homespun shirt, with a pair of striped and a pair of tow trowsers, an old felt hat, a pair of blue gray worsted stockings, half worn shoes run down at the heel, with large square brass buckles in them. Whoever takes up the said servant and secures him so that his master may have him again shall have THREE POUNDS Reward and reasonable charges paid by me

JOHN MICKLE.

All Masters of Vessels are forewarned carrying him off, as they may expect to answer it at their peril.

IN PURSUANCE of an order, made by the honourable Charles Read, Esq; one of the justices of the supreme court of Judicature, of the province of New-Jersey, upon the petition of Rowland Ellis, an insolvent debtor: Notice is hereby given by the petitioner, to all the creditors of the said Rowland Ellis, to shew cause (if any they have) before the said justice, at his house in the city of Burlington, on Monday the 29th day of July instant, at four o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, being the day and place appointed by the said justice for that purpose, why an assignment of the said Rowland Ellis's estate should not be made, and the said Rowland Ellis be thereupon discharged from his imprisonment, according to the directions of an act of the governor, council, and general assembly of the province of New Jersey, made and passed in the fifth year of his present majesty's reign, entituled an act for the relief of insolvent debtors.—The Pennsylvania Journal, No. 1181, July 25, 1765.

New-York, August 15. On Tuesday the Week before last, one of the Borden-Town Stage Waggoners, named Bliss, on returning home from Amboy Ferry, endeavoured to get before one of the other Waggon, and turning out of the Road for that Purpose, run against a small Stump, by which he was flung out of the Waggon, and the Wheel going over his Head, crush'd it instantly, and kill'd him, without his speaking a Word—Ambition produces ill Effects in all Stations of Life !

And the next Day, a Waggoner going thro' Arney's-Town in New-Jersey, fell out of his Waggon, and the Waggon pass'd over his Breast; He was taken up alive; and an Attempt made to bleed him, but he died in less than Half an Hour. These Instances are inserted as Cautions to others.

Notice to the Publick,

THAT Augustus Steuart, of New-Jersey, has prepared a HORSE POWDER, which, for its qualities and operations exceeds any thing hitherto contrived for the benefit of that animal. In all disorders to which those creatures are liable, it gives quick relief, purifies the blood, makes the beast more than ordinary lively, brisk, and strong, and occasions him to thrive in fatness on almost half the provisions he in common devours. It is a great preservative against disorders of all kinds, giving only one common table spoon full of it once a week. It is to be had at Mr. Michael Housworth's, next door to W. Weyman's, Printer, in Broad street, New-York, at four shillings per pound. This powder is a total poison for the botts, and carries all off by evacuation.

A Valuable tract of land, lying at Barrogat bay on the north side of Goose Creek (or Thomas's river) in the township of Shrewsbury, in East New-Jersey, containing upwards of 1000 acres; on which there is a small house and about 70 acres of clear'd land, part of which is good English meadow, and a great quantity more may be made; besides several hundred acres of salt marsh, and as fine a cedar swamp as any in those parts; great part of the land is fit for most sorts of grain, and the rest has plenty of fine timber on it: The situation is pleasant, as it joins both the bay and river, where is good fishing and fowling, and with a little improvement, would make one of the best places for raising of stock of any in the province, and lies convenient to divide. Any person inclining to purchase the whole or part, may apply to James Mott, at Middle-Town, East New-Jersey, or to the subscriber on the premises, who will give an indisputable title for the same.

—The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1916, September 12, 1765.

Philadelphia, September 5. We are informed that William Coxe,¹ Esq; has sent a resignation of the stamp-office for N. Jersey, to the Lords commissioners of the Treasury, and assigned his reasons.

New-York, September 12. We hear from Woodbridge, in New-Jersey, that Mr. Jonathan Kinsey, died there, very suddenly, a few Days ago, after eating freely of Mushrooms, among which, it is imagined, poisonous Toadstools were intermixed. Several Misfortunes of the same Kind have recently happened in other Parts of America.

¹ William Coxe, appointed Stamp Distributor for New Jersey, under the obnoxious Stamp Act of 1765, was doubtless of Burlington, and hence probably owed the appointment to Gov. William Franklin, who resided there. Both belonged to St. Mary's Church, of that place. William Coxe was a son of Col. Daniel Coxe, 3d, who died at Trenton in 1739, and was buried at St. Mary's Church, Burlington. The fact that the Stamp Distributor promptly resigned as soon as he perceived the temper of the people shows him to have been a man of excellent judgment, and apparently in sympathy with the American sentiment on the subject. He was probably the father of William Coxe, Jun., of Burlington, the author of a work on fruits, the first of the kind in America.

The Printer is desired to insert the following in his next News-Paper, and thereby oblige several of his New-Jersey customers.

EVERY real friend of liberty, who understands the constitution of the American colonies, must receive great pleasure from the accounts lately published in the News-Papers respecting the resignation of several of the stamp officers. The apparent necessity of their conduct, must be a sufficient excuse to the authority by which they were appointed; and the important effects which such a step may have upon the liberties of America, in its present alarming situation, will make it appear meritorious in the eyes of their countrymen: it is therefore much to be wished, that this laudable example may be universally imitated. The advice given in the New-[York] Gazette, of last week, to all the stamp officers, who have not yet resigned, is certainly very wholesome, and appears to be given in the spirit of Christian Orthodoxy; but I view this resignation in so important a light, that I cannot but subjoin another argument to those made use of by my friend; and it is this, if every stamp officer, upon the continent of North-America. does not take example by those who have already resigned, it will inevitably produce a disunion among the colonies, which, of all things, must be the most fatal; for let it be depended upon, that hereafter the conduct of the stamp officer will give the true political complexion of every colony; if the stamp officer cannot execute his office with any degree of comfort and reputation, and thereupon resigns, then it will be evident that the inhabitants of that colony are sensible of the imposition, and spurn at it; if on the other hand, they supinely submit to the unconstitutional exaction, and suffer the unrighteous taskmasters to live at ease, it may be certainly concluded, that the inhabitants of such colony are insensible, and see not, or at least regard not the difference between freedom and slavery; this will necessarily create contempt and hatred: the submissive colony will not only appear to the others, in the most groveling and despicable light, but also, with great propriety, will be esteemed amongst its most formidable enemies; no possible means can be devised so effectual to enslave the whole, as for a part servilely to put their necks to the Yoke. It is therefore evident that every stamp officer, who does not wish the total subversion of the present constitution of North-America, ought immediately to resign his office. I am more especially interested in the prosperity of the colony of New-Jersey, where I live, and have the happiness of some property. And altho' I glory in being a member of a community so submissive to government, and which has such loyalty and affection for the person, family and government of his present most gracious majesty king George the third; yet it would pain me to the Heart, to see this hitherto happy province, tamely submit to be enslaved by its fellow-subjects. It is true, our legislative body did not judge it expedient to come into the measures proposed the last year, by some of the provinces, for petitioning the parliament of Great-Britain. What was the reason of such omission, I cannot determine, as I am not a member of the legislature; but I have always commended their conduct in that instance; for it is to me a plain and evident absurdity to petition any body of men against the passing a law to bind me, when at the same time, I conceive that such law, if passed by them, cannot bind me. If the inhabitants of the moon, for instance, should happen to hear that the commons of Great-Britain had resolved nem. con. that their vellum should be stamped; no one would expect them to petition the said commons against it. And the fate of the petitions which were sent, is quite sufficient to shew our brethren of the other colonies, that they, in the form they were sent, might better have been spared, or at least, that our omitting a step in New-Jersey, which was of no service to those who thought proper to take it, ought to secure our Assembly from some unkind insinuations which have appeared in print on that occasion. I am not for silence, or slavish submission; no, let us act like Freemen, like Englishmen, who, know the limits of their freedom. Let us petition our gracious sovereign, whose paternal regard, is equally extended to his American, as his other subjects; his authority we glory in submitting to; he is king of Great-Britain; and blessed be God, king of America too: but the parliament of Great-Britain is not the legislature of America; we have by our constitution complete legislation independent of the lords and commons of Great-Britain, of which the king, by his several governors, is the head. I hope all the Provinces will unite in sending their several humble petitions to his majesty, without delay; whose royal heart, I doubt not, will be touched with the reasonable complaint of so great a body of his faithful subjects, and that ample redress will be given us; but in such petitions let all submission to, dependence upon, or connection with, the commons and lords of Great-Britain, in a legislative way, be carefully and absolutely disclaimed. In the mean time, all ye stamp officers resign; resign, as you will answer the contrary at your Peril, to your sovereign lords and masters, the incensed mob.

Thomas Clark,¹ esq; one of the judges of the county court; who has been unanimously elected a magistrate in this corporation ever since we had a charter; and Friday was decently buried, in the plain manner, by his own direction, according to the new mode, none of his relatives or friends appearing in mourning, tho' he was universally lamented by all who knew him, as he left the character of an honest man. PRINCETON, (New Jersey) September 25, 1765.

This day the trustees of the college of New-Jersey, attended the public commencement. The exercise was preceded by an animated Latin oration On the evils to which a people is liable when involved in debt, delivered with great propriety and spirit by Mr. Jonathan Edwards, one of the candidates for Batchelor's degrees. Then succeeded Sylogistic disputes in Latin and Forensic in English as usual, that all parts of the auditory might share in the entertainment. . . . The following Thesis were debated in the forenoon

1. Dictamina conscientiae semper sequenda sunt.
2. To play at cards or dice is neither expedient nor lawful.

3. Comedere sanguinem nunc temporis fas est.

4. A wicked man cannot be an accomplished Orator.

The several respondents and opponents acquitted themselves to general satisfaction. After the two former disputes, a short intermediate oration, for the sake of variety, was introduced by Mr. Richard Goodman, in which he pointed out the difference between the eloquence of Cicero and that of Demosthenes, with their peculiar excellencies; his delivery very well exemplified his subject. The exercises of this part of the day were closed with an oration on Liberty pronounced with beauty and propriety, by Mr. Jacob Rush.

The Thesis debated in the afternoon were

1 Quo magis necessarie, sensu morali, eo liberus agit homo.

2 There cannot be true friendship but among the good.

The former in the Syllogistic, the latter in the Forensic way, as before. These were succeeded by an elegant Valdictory oration on Patriotism, by Mr. Ebenezer Pemberton, in the close of which the usual addresses were delivered with such tenderness and marks of sincere affection as sensibly touched the whole audience. After the degrees were conferred, Mr. Joseph Periam, one of those who had just received the degree of Master of Arts, highly entertained the assembly with an animated and elegant oration on Frugality. A polite dialogue on Liberty, composed and delivered by three of the candidates for Batchelor's degrees, finished the business of the day.

The following young gentlemen were admitted to the degree of Batchelors of Arts,¹ Jacob Van Arsdalin, John

John Bacon was born in Canterbury, Conn., in 1737. After leaving College, he studied theology, and was ordained a Congregational Minister and preached for a time in Somerset County, Maryland. In 1771, he was settled with the Rev. John Hunt as a colleague pastor of the old South Church in Boston, as successor to the Rev John Blair. He left his church in 1775 on account of doctrinal difficulties which arose and removed to Stockbridge, Mass., and became in turn, a magistrate, a representative in the Legislature, Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, a member and President of the State Senate, and a Member of Congress, 1801-3, affiliating with the Republican party. He was one of the original Trustees of Williams College. He died in Berkshire, Mass., October 25, 1820.—Lawman's Dictionary of Congress; Sprague's Annals of the American Pulpit, I., 686, note.

The ancestors of John Bay were Huguenots, who fled from France during the persecutions under Louis XIV., and went first to Holland and thence to Ireland, from which latter country his grandmother came to America in 1720, and settled in Maryland, with her two sons—Andrew and William, and probably Hugh, who graduated at Nassau Hall in 1750, and was a physician at Herbert's Cross Roads, near Deer Park, Md. Andrew was ordained to the ministry by the New Side Presbytery of New Castle, Del., some time prior to 1748, and was settled as pastor of various churches in Pennsylvania and Maryland until 1767, when he was transferred to the charge of the churches north of Albany, and ministered to them and to the Presbyterian church on Beaver street, Albany, until 1773, in which year he accepted a call to Newtown, L. I., remaining in charge for two years. He is understood to have died soon after 1776.—Webster's Hist. Presbyterian Church in America, 273-5; Calendar N. Y. Hist. MSS., II., 770; Annals of Albany, I., 170; Riker's Annals of Newtown, 229-30. John Bay was the son of William and a nephew of the Rev. Andrew Bay; he was born August 15, 1743, probably in Maryland, but located in Albany while yet a young man, probably about the time his uncle was settled there. He graduated at Princeton in 1765. John Bay, schoolmaster, is witness to a will at Albany in 1771, which indicates what his early occupation was.—Calendar of Albany Wills, p. 427. He was secretary pro tem. of the Albany Committee of Correspondence, and in June, 1775, transmitted to the Provincial Congress of New York a letter just received from his classmate, the Rev. Samuel Kirkland.—Annals of Albany, VII., p. 211. He was elected a Deputy to the Provincial Congress of New York, May 10, 1775, from the First Ward of Albany. He sold 400 lbs. of powder in June, 1775, for the Continental Army.—Calendar N. Y. Revolutionary MSS., I., 65, 69, 111, 113. He enlisted as a private in the First Company, Second Regiment (Colonel Philip Van Cortlandt), June 4, 1777, for the war, but is recorded as having deserted four days later. As nearly the whole company deserted at the same time, the offence was probably merely technical.—Id., II., 186, 320. He was also an enlisted man in the Eighth Regiment of the Albany County Militia.—N. Y. Rev. Records, by Comptroller Roberts, p.—. He represented Rensselaer County in the Assembly of New York, 1779-80. It was probably soon after this that he removed to Claverack, then in Albany, but now in Columbia County, where he practiced law. He is named as counsellor-at-law in witnessing the will of Killian Muller, of Claverack, Albany County, in 1782.—Calendar Albany Wills, p. 273. He is recorded among the lawyers present at the first court held in Albany after the Revolution, to wit: the Court of Common Pleas, January 10, 1785. His name appears frequently in the legal annals of that vicinity. In a sermon preached on his son, Dr. William Bay, by the Rev. Rufus Clark, for more than thirty years pastor of the Reformed Dutch Church of Albany, he makes particular mention of John Bay, as a lawyer of culture, and distinguished for his integrity, and refers to the valuable services rendered by him during the Revolution as a member of the local Committee of Safety and Correspondence. John Bay died at Claverack, June 10, 1818, and is buried there. He married Ann Williams, probably in 1772. They had two children: 1. William, b. Oct. 14, 1773, studied at Princeton, and became an eminent physician of Albany; reference has been made to the funeral sermon preached on his death, by the Rev. Rufus Clark: 2. John Bay, junior, a prominent resident of Albany for many years. In the preparation of the foregoing sketch the writer has been under special obligation to exander M'Causland, Alexander Mitchell, Robert Ogden, Jonathan Ogden, Henry Parkinson, Ebenezer Pemberton, Edward Pope, David Ramsey, Theodoric Romeyn, Jacob Rush, John Staples, Henry Stevenson, Alexander Thayer,

Richard W. Brass, of Albany, a great-great-grandson of John Bay, and who is a member of the same profession as his distinguished ancestor.

Joel Benedict was b. in Salem, New York, January 8, 1745. After leaving Princeton, he taught school in the South, but the climate affecting his health, he returned to Salem and studied theology under Dr. Bellamy. After his licensure he supplied destitute churches in Maine and Massachusetts until 1771, when he became pastor of a Congregational Church at Newent (now Lisbon), Connecticut, where he labored until 1781, when he resigned on account of his health, which had long been feeble. Recovering his health in 1784, he became pastor of the Church at Plainfield, Connecticut, where he preached with great acceptance until his death, February 13, 1816. In 1808 the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Union College, and in 1814 by Dartmouth. Mr. Benedict was a distinguished classical scholar, and was also profoundly versed in mathematics, while as a biblical scholar he had few superiors.

Gershom Craven, b. 1744; graduated at Princeton, 1765; it is said that his father was one of the Professors at Princeton at the time, but there are no College records of the Professors prior to 1767. Gershom attended medical lectures in the University of Pennsylvania, and settled at Flings, Hunterdon County, in 1771, practicing in that vicinity until 1812, when he became entirely disabled, by paralysis. He was surgeon of the Second Regiment of Hunterdon in the Revolution. He is said to have attended Lafayette while the young French officer was in that neighborhood. He died May 3, 1819. "He was popular, regular, persistent and successful in his profession."—Medical History of Hunterdon County, by John Blane, M. D., 86; Hist. of First Century of Hunterdon County, by the Rev. Geo. S. Mott D. D.

William Davies was the eldest son of President Davies, of Princeton College. After graduating in 1765, he studied law and settled at Norfolk, Virginia. In the Revolutionary War he attained the rank of Colonel in the American Army; was an officer of distinguished merit, and possessed, in an eminent degree, the esteem and confidence of Washington. He was a man of powerful mind, highly cultivated and enriched by various knowledge. He died in Virginia before 1820.

Jonathan Edwards, second son of President Edwards, was b. at Northampton, Mass., May 26, 1745. In February, 1760, he entered the Grammar School at Princeton, and in September, 1761, he entered the College, graduating in 1765. After leaving college he studied divinity with Dr. Bellamy, and was licensed by a Congregational Association at Litchfield, Connecticut, in 1766. In 1767 he was appointed tutor at Princeton, where he remained two years. On the 5th of January, 1769, he was ordained and became pastor of a church at White Haven, Conn., where he remained until January, 1796, when he was installed pastor of the church at Colebrook, Connecticut, where he hoped to spend his life in retirement; but in June, 1799, he was elected and inaugurated the President of Union College, where he remained until his death, August 1, 1801.

Robert Halsted was descended from Timothy Halsted, the first of the name in America, who came from England as early as 1660, and settled at Hemstead, L. I. His son, Timothy Halsted, Jr., removed to Elizabethtown early in the eighteenth century, where he d. Feb. 27, 1734-5, in his 77th year. The latter's eldest son, Caleb, of Hemstead and later of Elizabethtown, d. at the latter place in 1721. He left a son, Caleb, b. July 8, 1721; m. Sept. 16, 1744, Rebecca, daughter of Robert Ogden, 1st, and Phebe (Baldwin) Roberts; he d. at his residence, Halsted's Point, Elizabeth, June 4, 1781; she d. March 31, 1806. They had twelve children, the eldest being Robert, b. Sept. 13, 1746. After graduating from Princeton College at the age of nineteen he studied medicine, and practiced his profession in Elizabeth and vicinity for nearly sixty years. He was held in high esteem as a physician. It is said that he was demonstrative, bold, energetic and sometimes brusque in speech and manner. He was strict in his observance of the Sabbath, a regular church-goer, and always in his seat at the hour of worship. Being decided and outspoken in his patriotic sentiments at the beginning of the Revolution, he became obnoxious to the loyalists, and it is said that he was arrested and taken to New York and confined in the old Sugar House. He m., 1st, April 15, 1773, Mary Wiley; 2d, Oct. 1, 1787, Mary Mills, dau. of the Rev. William Mills, a grad. of Princeton, 1756; he d. Nov. 25, 1825; she d. May 20, 1841, aged 78. Dr. Halstead is probably buried in the First Presbyterian Churchyard, Elizabeth, but there is no tombstone to his memory in that burying ground. He had ten children: five by his first wife, and five by his second. Among his brothers were William, Sheriff of Essex County, 1790; Caleb, licensed as a physician, 1774, and who practiced until his death in 1827; Matthias, a Brigade Major in the Continental Army. See "Descendants of Rebecca Ogden, 1729-1806, and Caleb Halstead, 1721-1784," and Wickes's "Medical Men of New Jersey."

Richard Hutson was a son of the Rev. William Hutson, one of the early Presbyterian ministers in South Carolina, and was b. June 12, 1747. He entered the profession of the law after leaving Princeton, and practiced in Charleston, S. C., until the beginning of the Revolution. He was a member of the Continental Congress from South Carolina in 1774, 1776 and 1778, and in the latter year was taken prisoner by the British and confined for some time in St. Augustine, Florida. He was Intendant of Charleston, 1783-8; became Chancellor of South Carolina in 1784, and Senior Judge of the Chancery Court in 1791. He was a member of the State Convention that ratified the Federal Constitution in 1788. He d. at Philadelphia in 1793.—Appleton's Cyclopaedia of American Biography.

Samuel Kirkland was b. at Norwich, Conn., December 1, 1741, son of the Rev. Dr. Kirkland (b. at Saybrook, 1701), who was pastor of the Third Congregational Church at Norwich, 1723-1753, 1758-1773. Samuel entered the sophomore class at Princeton in 1762, and held a high rank as a scholar during his college course, and was esteemed a young man of marked ability. He left college eight months before his class graduated, but nevertheless received his degree. It was in November, 1764, that he went on a missionary expedition to the Seneca tribe of Indians, the most warlike and distant tribe of the Six Nations, a scene of constant hardships, of unremitting labour, and often of imminent danger. After being a year absent he returned to his home in Norwich, Connecticut, bringing one of the Seneca Chiefs with him. He was now ordained and returned to his mission, where he spent more than forty years. It was through his influence that Hamilton Oneida Academy was founded and incorporated in 1793. In the same year he conveyed to its Trustees several hundred acres of land. In 1812 this academy became Hamilton College, under a new charter. Mr. Kirkland was admitted to a Master's degree at Yale in 1768, and at Dartmouth in 1773. He died February 28, 1808.—Sprague's Annals of the American Pulpit, I., 623-630.

Alexander Mitchel received his license from the First Presbytery of Philadelphia, in April, 1767, and was ordained and settled as pastor of the Deep Run Presbyterian Church, Bucks County, Penn., in November, 1768. In 1785, he received a call from the Upper Octorara and Doe Run Congregations, Pennsylvania, and was installed December 14, 1785. He resigned the charge of Octorara in 1796, but continued the pastor of Doe Run until 1809, when, by reason of advancing years, he was unable to minister to them. He died December 6, 1812.

Jonathan Ogden was from Elizabethtown, probably a cousin of Robert Ogden, 3d. He returned to that place after graduating. He never entered a profession.

Robert Ogden, 3d, son of Robert and Phebe (Hatfield) Ogden, was born at Elizabeth Town, March 23, 1746, in the house afterwards occupied by General Matthias Ogden, and subsequently by Joel Davis. After graduating from Princeton College, in 1765, he studied law with Richard Stockton. He was admitted to the New Jersey bar, June 21, William Ramsay, Isaac Allen, Absalom Bainbridge, Ebenezer Hazard, James Manning, Nathaniel Manning, Joseph Periam, Jonathan Seargeant, and Jasper Smith.

1770, and began the practice of law at Elizabethtown. To him, in connection with William Paterson, Luther Martin, Oliver Ellsworth and Tapping Reeve, is ascribed the founding of the American Ctilosophic Society, which dates its origin back to 1765. He was a fine scholar, and kept up his classical reading after entering upon his profession. Being a warm and earnest patriot, he was obliged to move with his family to Morristown in 1776 for safety from British raids. In this year he was commissioned surrogate by Gov. Livingston. In 1777 he removed again to Turkey, now New Providence, in what is now Union County. In 1780 (May term) he was called up as one of the twelve sergeants-at-law of New Jersey. After the war he was compelled to leave the seaboard on account of the asthma, and in the spring of 1786 he removed to Sussex county, where he resided during the remainder of his life, his homestead being about two miles north of the village of Sparta. The house was built by Cornelius Hoagland near the close of the Revolutionary War, and was conveyed with ten acres of land to Robert Ogden, Jun. (3d), by his father, Robert Ogden (2d), in 1786. Here his children were brought up and his youngest were born. This house witnessed great hospitality and many distinguished visitors were entertained there. It now forms a part of the Fowler estate. In 1787 he was one of the members of the convention called to approve the Constitution of the United States. He was married by Rev. John Close, May 19, 1772, to Sarah Platt, daughter of Dr. Zopher Platt and Rebecca Wood; she was born at Huntington, L. I., Sept. 27, 1750; she d. Jan. 21, 1782; she had five children. He was married, (2), by Rev. Nathan Woodhull to Hannah Platt, sister of his first wife, Mar. 12, 1786. She was b. Dec. 17, 1756, and d. on Thursday, May 7, 1812, of a cancer in the breast. She had three children. "She endured much pain with great fortitude and Christian resignation." He d. Feb. 14, 1826, in his 80th year, at the residence of his grandson, the Hon. Daniel Haines, at Hamburg, Sussex county, and was buried at Sparta, beside his 2d wife, Hannah Platt. His first wife (Sarah Platt) is buried at Elizabeth.—See sketch of Robert Ogden, written for the History of the Ctilosophic Society, by Gov. Daniel Haines; the Rev. A. A. Haines's "Hardyston Memorial;" "Descendants of Robert Ogden, 2d, 1716-1787," by Edmund Drake Halsey, 1896.

Ebenezer Pemberton was probably born in Boston. He pronounced the Valedictory at Princeton College on Commencement day, 1765, on "Patriotism." He was appointed a tutor in the college in 1769. On one of the public occasions, while he was a tutor, he was addressed by Madison, then a student, in a Latin address, valedictory and complimentary, on the part of the class, to the teacher. His life was devoted to teaching, and at one time in Phillips' Academy. He was admitted to an ad eundem Master's degree at Harvard in 1787, at Yale in 1781, and at Dartmouth in 1782. In 1817 he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Allegheny College. He died June 25, 1835.

David Ramsay was a Pennsylvanian by birth. After leaving Princeton he studied medicine, and settled in Charleston, S. C., where he rose to eminence. During the Revolution he was a determined Whig, and a leading member of the Legislature. He also acted as a Surgeon in the Army. From 1782 to 1786 he was a Delegate to the Continental Congress, and was for a time President pro tem. His first wife was the daughter of President Witherspoon. He met his death by a pistol shot at the hands of an insane man, in 1815. Dr. Ramsay is chiefly celebrated for his historical works.

Dirck Romeyn is said to have been descended from Claes or Klaese (Nicholas) Jansen Romeyn, who, according to family tradition, migrated from Amsterdam to Brazil, between 1650 and 1660, and came thence to New Netherland about 1653. It is more probable that it was his father, Jan Romeyn, who was the emigrant, and that Claes was but an infant, if he was here as early as 1653, for it was not until May 2, 1680, that he m. Styntje Albertse Terhune. He bought a plantation, March 3, 1679, at Gravesend, L. I., where he resided several years. In Chapman were admitted to the honorary degree of Master of Arts.

Upon the whole we cannot but do the young gentlemen the justice to observe, that such a spirit of liberty and ten-

1696 he bought a tract of 300 acres of land between the Hackensack and Saddle rivers, to which he added 600 acres in 1697. He was a cooper by trade. He lived near Hackensack about ten years, removing thence to Shapkekenke, or Greenwich, now in New York city, where he died. Kristyna Ter Heune, wid. of Klaes Jansen Romeyn, Minades Island (i. e., from Manhattan Island), was received into the Hackensack church by letter, May 18, 1732.—History of Paterson, by William Nelson, l., 210. In the work just quoted details are given of the children and grandchildren of Claes Jansen Romeyn, which indicate this line of descent for Dirck: Jan, son Claes Jansen, m. Lammietje Bongaert, May 20, 1699, and was the father of Klaes, bap. Feb. 25, 1700, m. 1st, Elizabeth Outwater, May 20, 1726; she d. Sept. —, 1732, leaving one son, Thomas, b. March 9, 1729; he graduated at Princeton College in 1762, and became a noted preacher in the Reformed Dutch Church. Nicholas Romeyn in April, 1733, "trod again in the honorable state of matrimony with Rachel Vreelandt," according to his Dutch family bible. (The Hackensack Dutch church records, in chronicling the baptisms of their children, in at least one instance, 1744, gives her name as Marretje.) They had Dirk, bap. at Hackensack Aug. 1, 1736, who d. in inf. On Jan. 12, 1744, was b. another son, who was bap. at Hackensack Jan. 29, 1744, Dirk. This was used by the Dutch in Northern New Jersey generally as the equivalent of Richard, but sometimes for Theodorick. The latter interpretation was assumed by the boy born in 1744. Upon graduating at Princeton in 1765 he received, besides his small parchment diploma, a certificate of his religious conduct and standing, signed by President Finley, at Princeton, Sept. 28, 1765. After leaving College he studied theology, part of the time under the Rev. J. M. Goetschius, of Hackensack and Schraalenburgh, who preached his ordination sermon, in May, 1766, when he was called to the pastorate of the Dutch churches of Marletown, Rochester and Wawarsing, Ulster county, N. Y. He became pastor of the churches of Hackensack and Schraalenburgh in May, 1776, just at the beginning of the Revolution. When the British pursued Washington through Hackensack in November, 1776, they plundered Dominie Romeyn's house and destroyed all his furniture, books and papers. He then removed his family to New Paltz, and thence to his mother-in-law's at Marletown, where they remained nearly two years. He made frequent but brief visits to his congregation, often at great personal risk, he being obnoxious to the British and their torv sympathizers. He received many calls to other and better charges, but it was not until 1784 that he concluded to change, and accepted a call to Schenectady. Here he was largely instrumental in establishing an academy, which subsequently developed into Union College. He received the degree of D. D. in 1789, from Queen's College, and in 1797 was appointed a Professor of Theology by the General Synod. He d. April 16, 1804. He m. June 11, 1767, Elizabeth, dau. of Wessels and Catherine (Dubois) Brodhead; she d. July 27, 1815. One of their children was the Rev. John Brodhead Romeyn.

Jacob Rush was a brother of Dr. Benjamin Rush. On Commencement day, 1765, he pronounced an oration on Liberty. Mr. Rush entered the profession of the law, and rose to a distinguished position. He was for many years presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas for Philadelphia. He was afterwards Chief Justice of the State. He died in 1820.

John Staples was a native of Taunton, Massachusetts, and was a lineal descendant of Miles Standish. He entered the ministry of the Congregational Church, and was ordained April 17, 1772, and installed as pastor of the Church at Westminster, Connecticut. He remained in this charge until his death, which took place February 15, 1804.

Alexander Thayer became pastor of the Congregational Church at Paxton, Massachusetts, November 28, 1770. During the Revolution he was suspected of favoring the British cause, and although these suspicions were groundless, yet, for the sake of peace in his congregader regard for their suffering country breathed in their several performances, as gave an inexpressible pleasure to a very crouded assembly. To testify their zeal to promote frugality and industry (so warmly recommended in several of their performances) they unanimously agreed, sometime before the commencement, to appear on that public occasion dressed in American manufactures, which very laudable resolution they all executed, excepting four or five, whose failure was entirely owing to disappointments, though we doubt not they made a much more decent appearance in the eyes of every patriot present, than if the richest production of Europe or Asia had been employed to adorn them to the best advantage. We can with pleasure take this opportunity to inform the public, that tion, he resigned his charge August 14, 1782, and removed to Holliston, Mass., where he ended his days.

Jacob Vanartsdalen, a native of Somerset County, New Jersey, was b. Feb. 8, 1745, the sixth son of Philip Van Artsdalen, who was b. Feb. 12, 1701, and d. June 17, 1797, at Somerset. He was ordained by the Presbytery of New Brunswick, June 19, 1771; in which connection he remained until the latter part of 1774, when he was received by the Presbytery of New York and put in charge of the Church of Springfield, New Jersey. He continued in the orderly and faithful performance of the duties of the office, as far as his health permitted, for more than a quarter of a century. In the spring of 1797, and again three years later, he was, by reason of long continued illness, disqualified for preaching. He was at length compelled to relinquish the pastoral office, and was dismissed from the charge, May 6, 1801. From 1793 to 1802 Mr. Vanartsdalen was a Trustee of Princeton College. He died at Springfield, N. J., October 24, 1803. His wife was Mary Sutphen, of Somerset, who survived him. They had three daughters and one son, Elias Van Arsdale, a prominent lawyer, of Newark.—Hatfield's Elizabeth, 570.

Stephen Voorhees was b. in 1740, being a son of Isaac Voorhees (b. March 16, 1716), whose father, Jan Lucasse Van Voorhis, was b. at Flatlands, L. I., but removed to Six Mile Run, Somerset county, with three of his brothers—all sons of Lucas Stevensen Van Voorhees—and all four of them were among the founders of the Six Mile-Run Dutch church in 1717. After graduating at Princeton College in 1765, Stephen studied theology and probably taught school for a time. He was licensed by the General Meeting of Ministers and Elders of the Reformed Dutch Church in 1772, and was ordained and settled at Poughkeepsie, New York, in 1773, where he remained until 1776. From 1776 to 1784 he was pastor of the Reformed Dutch Church at Rhinebeck Flats, N. Y.; and from 1785 to 1788 at Phillipsburg (Tarrytown) and Cortlandtown, New York. In 1792 he joined the Presbytery of New Brunswick, and preached as a supply at Kingston and Assunpink, New Jersey, until his death, November 23, 1796. He m. Elizabeth Clausen, b. 1749, d. Simeon Williams was a native of Easton, Massachusetts. After graduating, he studied theology, and was installed pastor of the Second Congregational Church at Weymouth, Massachusetts, October 27, 1768, where he remained until his death, which occurred May 22, 1819. Mr. Williams was admitted to a Master's degree at Harvard in 1769.

the undergraduates have agreed to follow this noble example. If young gentlemen of fortune and education, many of whom will probably shine in the various spheres of public life, would thus voluntarily throw aside those articles of superfluity and luxury, which have almost beggared us, and exert themselves for the encouragement of industry, it is not easy to conceive what a wide extended influence their conduct will naturally have on all the lower ranks of mankind.

At a meeting of the Lawyers at the Supream Court held at Perth Amboy, on the 20th ult. like true born sons of Liberty, and lovers of their country, the chief Justice¹ having proposed the following Queries agreed and came into the undermentioned Resolves, which will always redound to their Honor.

First. Whether if the Stamps should arrive, and be placed at the city of Burlington, by or after the first of November, they would, as practitioners, agree to purchase them, or any of them for the necessary proceedings in the law?

Resolved, by the whole body N. C. they would not, but rather suffer their private interest, to give way to the public good, protesting at the same time against all indecent and riotous behaviour, which they will discountenance by every means in their power to preserve order, and by an absolute refusal to make use of the Stamps, and other quiet methods, endeavour to obtain a repeal of the law.

Second. Whether it was their opinion, that should the act take place the duties could possibly be paid in gold and silver?

Answered by the whole body. It could not be paid in gold and silver even for one year.

Third. Their opinion was desired, whether, as the act required, the Governor and Chief Justice to superintend the distributor, he should be obliged to take charge of the distribution of the Stamps by order and appointment of the Governor, if he should think proper to fix upon him for that office.

Answered and advised not to take it upon him, the Governor not being empowered by the act to appoint, or if he was, it was left to the Chief Justices option, and that it would be incompatible with his office as C. Justice.

Mr. Bradford,

I AM desired by his excellency the governor, to send you the enclosed advertisement, that the same may be inserted in your next journal, that the good people of this province may not be imposed on by false reports relative to the governors conduct, with respect to the detaining the letter from the speaker of the general court of Massachusetts Bay, to the speaker of the general assembly of this colony, and his refusing to summon the assembly to meet.

I am, Sir,

Your very humble servant.

Burlington,

CHARLES READ.

October 2, 1765.

Burlington, New-Jersey, October 1, 1765.

WHEREAS a report has for some time past been circulated, that the governor of this province received the letter sent by the speaker of the general court of Massachusetts-Bay,¹ to the speaker of the Assembly of N. Jersey, detain'd it in his possession till the last day of the late meeting at Burlington, and by his management, prevailed on the assembly not to accept of the invitation to send commissioners to N. York. And whereas a paper has been printed and published at Philadelphia, positively asserting, "that the governor of N. Jersey has made strong efforts to subdue the spirit of liberty in his government, "and arbitrarily refuses to give his assembly an opportunity to join the other assemblies in decent remonstrances "against the stamp law, altho' nine tenths of the people "of the Jerseys now vehemently desire it. Nor does he "confine himself to his own government alone, but by the "assistance of Mr. G-----y² is said to have practised on the "eight members of a certain county, not very remote from "him, in order to get them to carry a vote against sending "commissioners to New-York, that the Pennsylvania assembly might thus keep the Jersey one in countenance."

Now this is to assure the public, that so far from having received and detained the above mentioned letter, I have not yet seen it; that I never heard of any such letter being sent to, or received by, the speaker, till the day after the House had finished their business, and were prorogued, when I was told that they had it under their consideration, and had ordered an answer to be wrote at the table, acquainting the speaker of Massachusetts that they unanimously declined complying with the proposal from the assembly of that province; nor was the said answer ever shewn to me, tho' wrote the 20th of June last, until some time in the beginning of September. That from the last sessions to this present time, not a single member of the council, or house of representatives, nor any other person whatever in the provinces, has desired me to call another meeting, of the assembly. That it is well known to several of the representatives, that I have often declared I would always, if in my power, give the house an opportunity of meeting, when the speaker and nine or ten members should represent to me that the business of the public made it necessary. . . . And I do likewise aver, that so far from my having practised on the eight members of Bucks county, in order to get them to carry a vote against sending commissioners from Pennsylvania to New-York, I have not, to my knowledge, seen one of them these two years past; nor have I, either thro' Mr. Galloway, or otherwise, had the least connection or correspondence with them, or any other person in the county, on any subject whatever. Nor have I, either to Mr. Galloway, or to any one man in Pennsylvania, given the least intimation that it would or would not, be agreeable to me, that the assembly of that province should send commissioners to the intended congress.

I should not have thought it necessary to give this public refutation of the falsehood contained in the report and paper above mentioned, had they not been propagated and published with a view of taking advantage of the present commotions to excite a difference between me and a people for whom I have a great regard, and with whom I have lived in uninterrupted harmony ever since my arrival in the government. And I cannot help expressing my surprize that Mr. Shippen the deputy governor's secretary, Mr. Chew the attorney general, and others of the principal officers of the government of Pennsylvania, could have given their public countenance to such a flagrant piece of injustice. This they did (as I am credibly inform'd) by employing the clerk of the court to read aloud the paper quoted above to a large number of people collected by their agents for the purpose, and signifying their approbation by loud huzzas at the close of every paragraph.

As to what is contained in the said paper relative to my father's being concerned in the planning and promoting the stamp act, it is grossly false, and consequently a shameful imposition on the people. Not a gentleman, of the proprietary party, even among those, who scruple not to aver the truth of it in conversation, can, I am convinced, be found so hardned as to avow in print, with his name subscribed, that he believes it to be true, or to undertake to produce any proofs in its support. . . . My father is absent . . . but he has left friends enough on the spot, who are both capable and willing to clear him from any aspersions which the malice of the proprietary party can suggest. To those friends I leave the defence of the reputation, if it can need any, being determined to concern myself no further with the disputes of Pennsylvania than as they relate to my character, or have reference to the publick transactions of this province.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN.

On Saturday the 5th inst. the Ship Royal Charlotte, Capt. Holland, came up to this city, attended by his Majesty's ship Sardine, James Hawker, Esq; commander. Capt. Holland having brought from London the Stamp'd Papers for Maryland, New-Jersey and this province, remained some time at New-Castle on Delaware, under protection of the Man of War. On the first appearance of those ships round Gloucester Point, all the vessels in the harbour hoisted their colours half mast high, the bells begun to ring, being first muffled, and continued so until the

¹ Ralph Assheton was a descendant of Robert Assheton, a kinsman of William Penn, who came from Salford Hundred, near Manchester, England, about 1699, at Penn's invitation, and straightway became clerk and prothonotary of Philadelphia. He was a member of the Provincial Council, 1711-19, 1722-7, and was Mayor in 1724. He died in 1727. William Assheton, his son, who had been educated for the law at Gray's Inn, was a member of the Provincial Council in 1722, and was judge of the Admiralty Court several years. He died in 1723, aged 33 years. Ralph Assheton, a younger son of Robert, was appointed to the Provincial Council in 1728, and held various other offices. He died in 1746, aged 51 years. The parents of Dr. Assheton were Ralph Assheton, esquire (who died in Philadelphia, July 9, 1773), and Susannah Redman, his wife. Dr. Assheton was probably about 28 or 29 years of age when he settled at Kingsbury, and doubtless had been settled there only a short time when he advertised his house to be sold, October 24, 1765, with a view to his returning to Philadelphia. evening, and every countenance added to the appearance of sincere mourning for the approaching loss of LIBERTY. At four o'clock in the afternoon several thousand citizens met at the State-House, to consider the proper ways and means for preventing that unconstitutional Act of Parliament (the STAMP-ACT) being carried into execution; the first measure was to send seven of their number to Mr. HUGHES, Stamp-Distributor for this province, to request he would resign that office. He assured them, no act of his should tend to carry that Law into execution here; until it was generally complied with in the other colonies, but refused to sign any resignation at that time for various reasons which he assigned: On the Gentlemen's return to the State-House, and reporting this answer, the company were instantly transported with resentment, and it is impossible to say what lengths their rage might have carried them, had not the gentlemen who waited on Mr. HUGHES represented him in the light he appeared to them! at the point of death; his situation raised their compassion, and they happily communicated their feelings to all the people assembled, and instead of the multitude repairing instantly to his house for a positive answer, they agreed to make their requisition in writing, and gave Mr. HUGHES until Monday morning to make reply; in consequence of this determination, a short paper was instantly drawn up and sent him, and on Monday morning the deputies received from him a writing which was brought to the Court-House, and there read aloud to a vast concourse of people, as follows,

WHEREAS about six o'clock on Saturday evening last, a paper was sent to me, expressing, that "a great number "of the citizens of Philadelphia, assembled at the State-House do demand of Mr. JOHN HUGHES, Distributor "of Stamps for Pennsylvania, that he will give them as“surance under his hand, that he will not execute that office, and expect that he will give them a fair, candid, and direct answer by Monday next, ten o’clock, when he will be waited on for that purpose.”

Saturday, October 5, 1765,

I DO THEREFORE return for answer to those gentlemen, and all their associates, that I have not hitherto taken any step tending to put the late Act of Parliament into execution in this province, and that I will not either by my self or my deputies, do any act or thing, that shall have the least tendency to put the said Act into execution in this province, until the said Act shall be put into execution generally in the neighbouring colonies, and this I am determined to abide by.

And whereas my commission includes the three Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, upon Delaware, I do therefore hereby, voluntarily, inform the good people of those counties, that no act of mine shall, either directly or indirectly, involve them into any difficulties, with respect to the said STAMP ACT, before the same shall take place generally in the neighbouring colonies.

This paper from Mr. HUGHES at first gained the approbation of three Huzza’s, but we find many people much dissatisfied with it since, as they think he ought to have ¹John Hughes was a grandson of John Hughes and Jane Evans, of Merionethshire, Wales. In 1680 their son, Hugh, then nine years old, ran away and came to America, whither his parents followed him, settling in Upper Merion, now in Montgomery County, Pa. Hugh, their only child, married Martha, only daughter of Hugh and Martha Jones, of Upper Merion. He was a tanner, in Philadelphia. Hugh Hughes had four children, among them John, who m. Sarah Jones in 1738, and died in Charleston, S. C., Feb. 1, 1772, aged 60 years; he was the Stamp Distributor for Philadelphia. His younger brother, Hugh Hughes, was in business in New York at the beginning of the Revolution, was an active “Son of Liberty,” was Deputy Quartermaster General of the Continental Army, and Quartermaster General of the State of New York during the Revolution. He died at Tappan, N. Y., March 29, 1802, in his 75th year. Both John and Hugh left descendants in New Jersey. The latter, Col. Hugh Hughes, had a granddaughter, Sydney Maria Stotesbury, who m. resigned his office without reservation; and from the spirit which discovers itself amongst all ranks of people, we have reason to think this declaration would not have quieted the inhabitants, had Mr. Hughes been in better health. Capt. Hawker having taken the Stamp'd Papers on board his Majesty's ship, prevents them from being exposed to the resentment of an injured and enraged people. Thus have we, in some degree, followed the example of our fellow sufferers in the neighbouring colonies, and the cool thinking people amongst us congratulate themselves and their country on finding spirit enough exerted to put us on the same footing with the rest of the continent, and that this was done by men, who had moderation not to proceed to any necessary acts of violence. It may not be amiss to inform the public, that Mr. HUGHES, did declare upon his honor, he would not receive or take any charge of the Stamp'd Paper, and as we have no reason to doubt his firm adherence to any resolution he makes, we think there is no danger of their being distributed in this province.—The Pennsylvania Journal, No. 1192, October 10, 1765.

PURSUANT to an Act of General Assembly, lately passed, intituled, "An Act for the Relief of insolvent Debtors," James Popenes, an insolvent Debtor, now con-

NOTICE is hereby given to all Persons whom it may concern, that there was a Petition laid before the House of General Assembly, for the Province of New-Jersey, held at the City of Burlington in June last past, for the Building a bridge over Great Timber Creek; and as there were no Opposers to said Petition, this is to inform all whom it may concern, that at the next Sessions, if any Persons have any Objections, they will be heard, otherwise there will be an Act passed for the Confirmation of the same.—The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1920, October 10, 1765.

¹THE BORDEN FAMILY.

RICHARD BORDEN, born 1601, was admitted an inhabitant of Aquidneck, R. I., in 1638, and on May 20 was allotted five acres. On March 16, 1641, he became a freeman. In 1665 he and Benjamin Borden (his son, then a minor), James Grover and others, all of Gravesend, L. I., bought considerable tracts of land at Neversink, Narumson and Portupick, in Monmouth county, N. J., for which he contributed £9, and was allotted three shares. Richard was a Deputy to the General Court in 1667-70, indicating that he had returned from Long Island, if, indeed, he ever removed from Rhode Island. He died May 25, 1671, and was buried in "the burying place that Robert Dennis gave Friends in Portsmouth," R. I. His (nuncupative) will was proved May 31, 1671, by the Town Council, on testimony concerning the wishes of the deceased. By its provisions land in New Jersey was left to his son Francis. His personal estate was inventoried at £1572 8s. 9d.—Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, by John Osborne Austin, 1887, 23-24; *Monmouth County Deeds, ARC: Hist. He was a member of the West Jersey Assembly in 1682, says Smith's Hist. of N. J. 151. 2. FRANCIS² BORDEN was a freeman of Portsmouth in 1655. He removed to Shrewsbury, N. J., in 1665, or soon after. The first Friends' meeting in New Jersey is said to have been held at his house, in 1672. The court was held at his house, Sept. 3, 1678. He married Jane Vicars, 12th of 4th mo., 1677. He d. in Shrewsbury, 19th 1st mo., 1704-5. His will, dated May 24, 1703, describes him as of Shrewsbury, yeoman. In it he devises lands patented March 25, 1687, and other tracts bought May 4, 1696, and of his brother, John Borden, April 7, 1700; also property in the Parish of Goudherst (Goldhurst), Kent, England, inherited from Francis Fowle, of Cranbrook, county of Kent, by his will of October 8, 1632. This is suggestive of the origin of the Borden family, although Fowle was probably a connection or an ancestor in the maternal line. Francis Borden appointed his wife and his son Francis executors of his will. His personal estate was inventoried at £106, 11, 6.—East Jersey Wills, Lib. 1, p. 151. The "Jean Borden" who in 1707 was induced to contribute £3 toward a fund said to be for the purpose of bribing Lord Cornbury, then Governor, to do justice to the people, was probably the widow of Francis Borden.—Austin, as cited; Hist. Burlington and Mercer Counties, 454; N. J. Archives, III., 214; Shrewsbury Friends' Records. Many references to Francis Borden are to be found in N. J. Archives, XXI. In the early records this name usually appears as Burden or Burdein.

3. BENJAMIN² BORDEN married Abigail Grover (dau. of James Grover, senior, of Middletown), Sept. 22, 1670. He probably removed from Portsmouth, R. J., soon after making the purchase of lands in Shrewsbury, in 1665, and settled at the latter place, being allotted Lot No. 29 of "the lotts of Middleton," Dec. 30, 1667, and the next day Lot No. 23, in "the lotts that are in the Poplar feild and the mountany feild."—Town Book of Old Middletown, 1. He was allowed, April 9, 1670, to take up nine acres elsewhere in lieu of Lot No. 23, "considering the badnes of it being throwne up to make good some other lotts."—Id., 10. He was admitted, July 8, 1670, as one of the associate patentees. He contributed £6 toward the purchase, and was allotted one share. The court was held at his house in Shrewsbury, in 1676. He was a Justice of the Peace in 1685. In 1692 and 1694 he was elected to the Assembly from Middletown, and in 1695 and 1698 as one of the six members from Monmouth county. In 1693 he was appointed by act of the Assembly to be one of the Road Commissioners for Monmouth County, a position he still held in 1711. He was one of three men "legally Chosen (Jan. 1, 1695-6) to meet the men of the other towns of the County to Assess . . . the tax or Rate that is to be Raised for the Support of the Government," to which office (corresponding with the "chosen freeholder" of to-day) he was re-elected in 1697-8.—Town Book, 32-33. The records of conveyances show that he was a large landholder; some of his purchases are as follows: Oct. 21, 1676—return of survey standing he commenced a small Trade, which he managed with Prudence and Integrity; but in about four or five Years it pleased God to afflict him with a severe Fit of the Asthma, which (although he got the better of at that

In 1718, being then of Auchweas, Burlington county, he conveyed lands to his son James.—Austin, as cited; Old Times in Old Monmouth, 170, 171, 207, 208, 249; N. J. Archives, XXI., 158-61. His children were:

Third Generation.

- i. Richard^s, b. Jan. 9, 1672. Probably on account of some of the political troubles of the day, the Attorney General was directed in 1734 to file an information against him. In 1739 he was of Chester, Burlington county. In 1750 he resided at Evesham, Burlington county. He had a suit in chancery against Richard Stout, but his solicitor, John Cox, threw up the case in a huff, saying that he could not get justice from Gov. Belcher, the Chancellor ex officio.—N. J. Archives, XIV., 505; XI., 580; VII., 542-3, 547.
- ii. Benjamin^s, b. April 6, 1675. He settled at Middletown, Monmouth county. He bought, Jan. 8, 1700, of Anthony Woodward, a tract of 1,000 acres of the great Dockwra patent, south of Arneytown.—Hist. Burlington and Mercer Counties, 454. When the court of sessions at Middletown, on March 25, 1701, arraigned Moses Butterworth for piracy, and he confessed that he had sailed with Capt. William Kidd on his last voyage, Benjamin Borden and his brother Richard were conspicuous among the thirty or forty men who dashed into the court room to rescue the prisoner. The two Bordens were arrested by the constables, but a hundred men quickly rallied, and they were rescued from the officers' grasp, though wounded in the mêlée, and the rioters turned the tables by imprisoning the Governor (Col. Andrew Hamilton), the Court, the Attorney General and the court officers for four days, in token of their contempt for the waning authority of the Proprietary Government.—Monmouth County Records, Book of Minutes No. 1, quoted in "Old Times in Old Monmouth," 263; N. J. Archives, II., 362-3. Benjamin Borden and James Borden were among the petitioners in 1701 for a Royal instead of a Proprietary Governor.—N. J. Archives, II., 396. He was the agent for the receipt of the Monmouth county taxes in 1705 and 1706.—Id., III., 351-2. Administration on the estate of Benjamin Borden, of Evesham township, Burlington county, yeoman, was granted June 6, 1728, to Susannah Borden, his widow. The inventory of his personal estate amounted to £222, 10, 10½.—East Jersey Wills, Liber 2, p. 532.

5. JOSEPH³ BORDEN, m. Mary Ann —, prior to 1716. Sailing in a coasting vessel (probably his own) from Shrewsbury, he came to Farnsworth's Landing, Burlington county, in 1719, and determined to locate there. On March 3, 1724, he bought from Samuel Farnsworth a tract of 105 acres of land on the Delaware, to which he added by subsequent purchases until he owned nearly the whole site of the future Bordentown. As early as 1722 he had become interested in the erection of a bloomary forge on Black's Creek, Burlington county. In 1724 his place on the Delaware was known as "Burden's Landing," but by 1739 it was called "Burden's Town," whence the transition to "Burdentown" and "Bordentown" was easy. Joseph Borden was appointed one of the Quorum Justices for Burlington county in 1739. In 1740 he started a "Stage Wagon to carry Passengers or Goods, between Perth-Amboy and Bordens-Town," in order to develop the latter place and make it an important point on the route from Philadelphia to New York. This stage route was kept up by him and his son Joseph for twenty years or more. He gave the site for the Friends' meeting house in 1740, and Aug. 5, 1751, conveyed to the Baptists, for a nominal consideration (£5), the site for a church and burying ground. He opened a store, and carried on a general mercantile trade many years; laid out streets, erected what was then considered a splendid mansion, and in other ways manifested a most enterprising spirit, and a confidence in the future of Bordentown.—Hist. Burlington and Mercer Counties, 456, 458-9; History of Iron in All Ages, by J. M. Swank, 2d ed., 1892, 157; N. J. Archives, XI., 342, 586, note; 587; XII., 22, note; 171; XV., 98.

His children were:

- i. Anna⁴, m. the Rev. Joshua Potts, pastor of the Baptist Church at South Hampton, Bucks county, Pa.
 6. ii. Joseph⁴, b. 1719; d. April 8, 1791, in his 72d year.
 - iii. Rebecca⁴, m. Joseph Brown, perhaps a physician near Bordentown, at whose inn Benjamin Franklin stopped in 1723 when on his journey from Boston to Philadelphia.
 - iv. Hannah⁴, m. John Lawrence, of Monmouth, marriage license dated April 26, 1731.
 - v. Elizabeth⁴, m. Thomas Douglass, of Monmouth, marriage license dated Jan. 9, 1734.
 - vi. ———⁴, m. ——— Clayton.
 - vii. ———⁴, m. Thomas Potts, who bought the iron works on Black's Creek, Feb. 1, 1725.
6. JOSEPH⁴ BORDEN, jun. (Joseph³, Benjamin², Richard¹), b. 1719; m. Elizabeth, daughter of Marmaduke Watson; died at Bordentown, April 8, 1791. He was actively engaged from early manhood in his father's extensive business enterprises, especially the stage boat and stage wagon from Philadelphia to Perth Amboy, via Bordentown, until his advancing years caused him to retire from active life, in 1788. In 1748 tickets for a lottery for the benefit of St. Mary's Church, Burlington, were to be had from him. He was appointed a Justice of the Peace in 1749, and a Judge in 1757 and again in 1767. In 1761 he was elected to the assembly as one of the two members for Burlington county, and served until 1763, evidently occupying a conspicuous posi-planned and laid out this Town, which, although but small, is much larger than could have been expected, when we consider the Disadvantages its Patron lay under. About this Time he accepted of a Commission of the Peace, in which Station his greatest Enemies allowed he behaved with the utmost Prudence, and strictest Justice; and as he was esteemed for his public, so he also was for his private Worth, he being a kind Neighbour, and a sin-tion among his colleagues. In 1765 the Assembly elected him as one of the three deputies to represent New Jersey in the Stamp Act Congress, at New York, and he and Hendrick Fisher signed the appeal of that Congress to the King and Parliament, urging the repeal of the Act. The Assembly heartily approved of their conduct. He was chosen as one of the members of the first Provincial Congress, which met at New Brunswick, July 2, 1774, to send delegates to the Continental Congress. In the ensuing February he was selected by his fellow citizens as one of the Committee of Observation for Burlington County, and later as a member of the Provincial Congress held at Trenton in May, June and August, 1775. This body appointed him one of the Committee of Safety, which was vested with executive power during the recess of the Provincial Congress. Early in 1776 he was commissioned Colonel of the First Regiment of Burlington County militia, but he resigned, Sept. 28, 1776, when he was appointed Quartermaster, for which position his business experience and abilities rendered him peculiarly well qualified. He was appointed Judge of the Common Pleas, Sept. 11, 1776, and again Sept. 28, 1781. He was one of the promoters of the episode made famous by Francis Hopkinson in his poem on the "Battle of the Kegs," when it was designed to blow up the British vessels in the Delaware near Bordentown by a rude sort of torpedoes made of kegs filled with powder, which were sent floating down the river shortly before daylight on Jan. 7, 1778, and were expected to explode on coming in contact with the war vessels, having certain mechanical attachments to ensure such result. Unfortunately for the success of the enterprise, the vessels were hauled into their docks the night before the kegs were set loose. The British soon after raided Bordentown, and Judge Borden's handsome residence was laid waste by fire, May 10, 1778. He was liberally educated, had a fine presence, and was highly influential in the community. His widow died in 1807, in her 82d year.—Hist. Burlington and Mercer Counties, 467; N. J. Archives, XII., 442; XVI., 89; XVII., 137, 455; N. Y. Public Library Bulletin, I., 104; Gordon's Hist. N. J., 140; Penn. Mag. of Hist. and Biog., IX., 435.

Fifth Generation.

The children of Joseph Borden were:

- i. Mary^s, m. Thomas McKean, of Newcastle, Del., marriage license dated July 21, 1763; d. March 12, 1773, in her 29th year. Thomas McKean was one of the Delaware Signers of the Declaration of Independence. He was elected Governor of Pennsylvania in 1799, 1802 and 1805, serving nine stormy years.
- ii. Nancy^s, married Francis Hopkinson (afterwards one of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence), Sept. 1, 1768. For the announcement of the marriage, in the flowery language of the day, see N. J. Archives, X., 427, note.
- iii. Joseph^s, born in 1755. He was an ardent patriot during the Revolution, being Captain of a troop of light-horse, which he raised in Burlington county. He was wounded at the battle of Germantown, in 1777, but although his injury inconvenienced him the rest of his life he repeatedly volunteered for active service when he felt he could be of use to the cause. He was a United States loan officer, and was appointed one of the commissioners to sell lands confiscated to the State for treason. He married Mary, daughter of Langhorne Biles, of Bucks county, Pa. He died Oct. 16, 1788, leaving one child, Elizabeth Borden, who married Azariah Hunt, of Hopewell, N. J.

cere Friend; a tender Husband, and an affectionate Parent."—The Pennsylvania Gazette, No. 1921, October 17, 1765.

TO be sold by the subscriber, a very fine farm of 500 acres of land, lying upon the road leading from Freehold court-house to Princetown in New-Jersey, near Cranbury, at the place formerly known by the name of the Indian Town, about 16 miles from Brunswick and Amboy, 10 from Princeton, and 4 from Cranbury town, where there is a constant market for all kinds of produce: There is on it 300 acres of cleared land in good fence, great part of which has not been tilled for many years, the timber remarkably fine, and lies so, that it may be divided into two or three farms, as the land is remarkable for wheat and grass. The subscriber also proposes to sell the estate he now lives on, near the town of Shrewsbury, consisting of a tract of about 1000 acres; the greatest part of which is already, and may be made excellent mowing ground, it bearing prodigious burthens of English grass: He intends to divide it into such lots as the purchasers and he can agree upon: There is on it a very large house, barn, stables, and other out-houses, with valuable orchards, which he will sell with such a quantity of land as can be agreed on: There is also a peach orchard, consisting of all the different choice kinds of that fruit in the known world; and as the house is situated near the famous spaw spring, it would suit extremely well a person who would keep a boarding house for the numbers that come to that spring for their healths, and might in a little time, become a considerable place of resort for people of the best fashion. It will be sold upon reasonable terms.

We hear the following gentlemen are appointed Surveyors-general of his Majesty's Customs in North America, viz. John Temple Esq; for Newfoundland, Cape Breton, the Island in the Gulph of St. Lawrence, Nova Scotia, New Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island, and Connecticut; Charles Stuart, Esq; for New-York, Canada, East and West Jersey, and Pennsylvania; Peter Randolph, Esq; for Maryland, Virginia, and North and South-Carolina; and William Randall, Esq; for Georgia, East and West-Florida, the Bahama Islands, and Jamaica.

We hear from New-Jersey, that one family in that province, had manufactured and wore as much cloth, &c. as would, by a moderate computation have cost 50l. had they purchased it. A noble example, worthy of the imitation of at least every one who lives in the country. If one family can save the country 50l. a year, how much would 20,000 in each province save?

New York, October 24. On Tuesday Evening arrived the Ship Edward, Captain William Davis, in nine Weeks from London, and six Weeks and three Days from Falmouth, with whom came Mrs. Nichols, of Amboy. . . .

To the PRINTER

SIR,

AT a time when every person, who is in the least accessary to the countenancing or forwarding that enemy of our peace (the Stamp Act) is justly rendered odious to every friend of Liberty; common benevolence will lead the generous mind, to prevent such a curse from falling on the innocent. Therefore it is that the Public are again troubled with the following simple detail of the proceedings of the gentlemen of the law in this colony, and the behaviour of the Chief Justice, on the occasion, which, I am sorry to say, has not been candidly given in a late publication.

The unhappy state of the whole continent in general, and some of the colonies in particular, flowing from this most extraordinary instance of ministerial influence, had determined the principal gentlemen of the profession, to obtain a general meeting of the lawyers, at Amboy, in September last, in order to consult on some necessary measures, whereby at once, to bear a public testimony against such oppressive measures, and at the same time, by easing the minds of the people, to prevent any undue and indecent behaviour to the lawful authority of the government, as far as our influence should extend.

After the gentlemen attending, had taken their seats, (a president being chose) the nature of the act was opened, together with a state of the colonies, and the effect it would naturally produce in them. They then proceeded to a free discussion of every point worthy of observation; and on the whole, the following question was stated, and put to vote: "Whether, if the stamps should arrive in the province, the gentlemen present (as lawyers) would make use of them for any purpose, or under any circumstances whatever? It gives me pleasure to say (as it must to every lover of his country) that it was carried in the negative, without a dissenting voice: And a number of the gentlemen, respectively undertook to answer for the greatest part of the absent members.

This was the whole of the transaction on this day: But the next day the Chief Justice requested the attendance of all the practitioners, on some matters he was desirous of laying before them: When assembled, his Honour informed them, "that he would be glad of their advice on a few questions he had to propose," but first informed them, that he had heard it was reported, "that he had solicited, and endeavoured to obtain the office of stamp distributor for the colony." In answer to which he observed, that the impropriety of such a step in him, was a sufficient testimony of the falsity of the report: but in order to settle the matter, he declared, upon his honour, that he had neither directly or indirectly, solicited, or any ways attempted to obtain that office, which he hoped would satisfy them, as well as the inhabitants of the colony, on this subject. He then proposed the following questions: "Whether if the stamp paper was ready to be distributed at Burlington, by the first of November, they would take the trouble of sending there for them?" Each gentleman present gave his answer separately, but all to the following purpose: "That they would by no means do any thing that should bear the appearance of opposition to the rightful authority of the government; yet as it was in their choice to use the stamps or refuse them, they would entirely give up the advantage arising from their profession, rather than join in enslaving their country." The next question was, "As the act pointed out the Governor and Chief Justice, as persons to whom the distributor was to be accountable; if the Governor should insist on the Chief Justice's taking the burden of that office of distributor upon him; whether it would be consistent with his duty and interest to accept it?" To which it was unanimously agreed, that there was no words in the act that gave the Governor the least authority to appoint such an officer; and if there was that the Chief Justice should be the last man to accept it, as it would be the direct means to render him odious to the people, and uncomfortable in his administration.

On this the Chief Justice applauding the coolness of these deliberations, and recommending peaceable measures as the most likely means of obtaining a repeal of this act, returned them his thanks for their kindness, and dismissed them. The whole of the Chief Justice's behaviour, being evidently in confidence, treating those gentlemen as his private friends, I was much surprised to find these questions made public, especially in the form they have appeared to the world, tending obliquely to charge the Chief Justice with endeavouring to solicit an office, so detestable to all the colonies. I therefore could do no less in justice to every one concerned, than to give this plain state of the matter, that every fact might have its due weight.¹

THIS morning, on an eminence in this city, was hung the effigy of a wretch, who on a late solemn occasion, subtilly procured himself an employment, and at once shewed the wickedness and dirtiness of his head, and the vileness and rancour of his heart, by basely betraying that important trust. Papers denoting his horrid crime were affixed to his breast, and from his mouth hung labels expressing such words and sentiments, as may well be supposed to come from the lips of such an abandoned miscreant in his last moments. The Figure is to hang all day, and in the evening will be attended by all true sons of freedom, to a funeral pile erected on the common, where it will be reduced to ashes, amidst the acclamations of the beholders.

May such be the fate of every vile traitor, in whatever sphere they move! may they live despised! die unpitied! and if they are remembered, let that remembrance only increase the detestation of posterity.

This signal act of justice, (tho' we own the object almost too low for resentment) will however, we think, evince to the neighbouring colonies, that neither the dirty insinuation of pimps and pandars, nor the frowns of power, have been as yet, able to extinguish the spirit of liberty in the province of New-Jersey.

FIRST. That they have at all Times heretofore, and ever would bear true Allegiance to his Majesty King George the Third, and his royal Predecessors, and wished to be governed agreeable to the Laws of the Land and the British Constitution, to which they ever had, and forever most chearfully would submit.

Secondly. That the Stamp Act, prepared for the British Colonies in America, in their Opinion, is unconstitutional; and should the same take Place, agreeable to the Tenor of it, would be a manifest Destruction and Overthrow of their long-enjoyed, boasted and invaluable Liberties and Privileges.

Thirdly. That they will, by all lawful Ways and Means, endeavour to preserve and transmit to Posterity, their Liberty and Property, in as full and ample Manner as they received the same from their Ancestors.

Fourthly. That they will discountenance and discourage by all lawful Measures, the Execution and Effect of the Stamp-Act.

Fifthly. That they will detest, abhor, and hold in the utmost Contempt, all and every Person or Persons, who shall meanly accept of any Employment or Office, relating to the Stamp Act, or shall take any Shelter or Advantage from the same; and all and every Stamp Pimp, Informer, Favourer, and Encourager of the Execution of the said Act; and that they will have no Communication with any such Person, nor speak to them on any Occasion, unless it be to inform them of their Vileness.—Supplement New York Gazette or Weekly Post Boy, October 31, 1765.

EXTRACT from the minutes of the Assembly held at Burlington, New-Jersey, November 27th, 1765.

Ordered,

That Mr. Leaming and Mr. Hoghland do wait on his Excellency, and acquaint him, that a sufficient number of members to proceed on business are met, and ready to receive any thing he may please to lay before them.

Mr. Leaming reported, That Mr. Hoghland and himself, had waited on his Excellency, according to order, who was pleased to say, that he had no particular commands of the crown, or other public business, which made a meeting of the legislature immediately necessary; but that he had, with the advice of the council, summoned the General Assembly to meet at this juncture, upon a request in writing from the speaker and nine members of the house of Representatives; and that he was now ready to receive any thing they had to communicate for the advantage of the province.

Thursday, November 28, 1765.

The House met.

The Speaker having offered to resign his seat, with the leave of the house, presented a paper, containing the reasons for the house being called, and his request to resign his seat; which being read, the house adjourn'd for an hour, to consider of the speaker's proposal.

The house met.

And the paper offered by Mr. Speaker, being again read and considered,

Resolved, Nemine Contradicente,

That the said resignation be accepted; and that the said paper be entered upon the journal of this house; and the same is as follows:

Gentlemen:

THE present meeting is in consequence of an application of myself and several members of this house, to his Excellency; who was pleased at our desire to appoint it. The house have now an opportunity to consider deliberately on the best methods to procure relief from the late acts of parliament; an affair of as delicate a nature, and of as much importance; as ever came before the representatives of this, or any other colony.

The Gentlemen appointed to attend at the congress at New York, will lay before you, the several addresses agreed to there; whereby you may judge, whether our joining in the general address is so likely to produce an alleviation of the burthens we so justly complain of.

I was clearly of opinion, that separate addresses from each colony, would have a greater probability of succeeding, and therefore I declined signing them; considering that as a majority of your commissioners had joined therein, the province would partake of all the benefits resulting from the general addresses; and if this house should not adopt the sentiments of the congress, they might be at liberty to make a separate application to the crown.

I am so unhappy as to find, that my conduct, which was the consequence of this opinion, formed on the most deliberate, impartial, and disinterested reasoning on the subject, has been put in an unfavorable light, and has made me the object of too general a resentment: I trust, that Providence will in due time make the rectitude of my heart, and my inviolable affection to my country, appear in a fair light to the world; and that my sole aim was the happiness of New-Jersey. But as at present there appears a great dissatisfaction at my conduct, which has spread even among some of my constituents, whom I have served many years in General Assembly, to the utmost of my abilities; I beg leave of the house to resign my seat in it; whereby my constituents may have an opportunity of sending another person in my room, who may act more agreeable to their present sentiments; tho' I am well assured, that no person can be found, who will study their welfare more sincerely, nor pursue it with more steadiness or integrity than I have done; I thank them for the confidence their frequent elections has shown they placed in me, and which I never abused; and hope, that those with whom I have differed in opinion, will have charity enough to impute it to error in judgment only, to which all men are liable. As I have frequently experienced the good disposition of this house towards me, I hope they will indulge me, by accepting the resignation of my seat in the house; and with ordering this short and true account of my conduct to be entered on their Journals.

[In consequence of the above, the members proceeded to the choice of a new Speaker, and, after the usual form, unanimously chose CORTLAND SKINNER, Esq; who was conducted to, and placed in the chair accordingly.]

A Message from his Excellency by Mr. Secretary Read.

Gentlemen,

THE Secretary will lay before you a letter I have received from the Governor of Quebec, with an account of the loss sustained in the city of Montreal, by the late dreadful fire. The case of the unhappy sufferers is truly deplorable, and cannot fail exciting in every humane breast the utmost compassion. Private contributions can avail but little where the loss is so very considerable. Applications are therefore made to the legislatures of the several colonies, and it is not to be doubted but that from motives of good policy, as well as of religion and humanity, they will think it highly expedient to grant some relief to our fellow subjects in that province.

Burlington, Nov. 28, 1765.

WILLIAM FRANKLIN.

Friday, November 29, 1765.

The House met.

Mr. Fisher, one of the committee appointed to attend the late congress, at New-York, made the following report, viz.

“Mr. Ogden, Mr. Borden and myself, being requested by a number of the members of this house, convened at the house of Mr. Sproul, in the county of Middlesex, to meet the congress then sitting at New-York; and to join in such measures as might be likely to obtain a repeal of the late acts of parliament, particularly that called the Stamp Act, did accordingly repair to New-York, and joined said congress, and came to the following conclusions.

And, first, agreed upon a set of resolves, or rather declarations, of the most essential rights of the colonies.

Secondly. In an humble and dutiful address to his majesty, and both houses of parliament; which Mr. Borden and myself, joined in signing, in behalf of this colony; and one copy was transmitted before the congress broke up, and the other gentlemen undertook to send others; which we expect they have done accordingly; and we are now ready to report the proceedings, when the house will be pleased to receive them.”

The report was immediately made, which the house considered, and approved by the following vote.

Resolved, Nemine Contradicente, That this house do approve of the proceedings of the congress at New-York ; and that the thanks of this house be given to Hendrick Fisher, and Joseph Borden, Esqrs; for their faithful and judicious discharge of the trust reposed in them.

Whereupon Mr. Speaker gave the thanks of the house to those gentlemen accordingly, being in their places.

To which the gentlemen made the following reply, delivered by Mr. Fisher.

“Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Borden and myself beg leave to assure this house, that in the trust reposed in us, we have done no more than what was our indispensable duty, and that we conceive ourselves exceedingly happy, that what we have done is so unanimously approved of by this honourable house.”

Saturday November 30, 1765.

WHEREAS the late act of parliament called the Stamp Act, is found to be utterly subversive of privileges inherent and originally secured by grants and confirmations from the crown of Great Britain to the settlers of this colony, in duty therefore to ourselves, our constituents and posterity, this House think it absolutely necessary to leave the following resolves on our minutes.

1. Resolved, Nem. Con. That his Majesty's subjects inhabiting this province, are, from the strongest motives of duty, fidelity, and gratitude, inviolably attached to his royal person and government, and have ever shewn, and we doubt not ever will, their utmost readiness and alacrity in acceding to the constitutional requisitions of the crown, as they have been from time to time, made to this colony.

2. Resolved, Nem. Con. That his Majesty's liege subjects in this colony are entituled to all the inherent rights and liberties of his natural born subjects within the Kingdom of Great-Britain.

3. Resolved, Nem. Con. That it is inseparably essential to the freedom of a people, and the undoubted right of Englishmen, that no taxes be imposed on them but with their own consent given personally, or by their representatives.

4. Resolved, Nem. Con. That the people of this colony are not, and from their remote situations cannot be represented in the parliament of Great-Britain, and if the principle of taxing the colonies without their own consent should be adopted, the people here would be subjected to the taxation of two legislatures; a grievance unprecedented, and not to be thought of without the greatest anxiety.

5. Resolved, Nem. Con. That the only representatives of the people of this colony are persons chosen by themselves, and that no taxes ever have been, or can be imposed on them, agreeable to the constitution of this province, granted and confirmed by his Majesty's most gracious predecessors, but by their own legislature.

6. Resolved, Nem. Con. That all supplies being free gifts, for the people of Great-Britain to grant to his majesty the property of this colony without their consent and being represented would be unreasonable, and render useless legislation in this colony in the most essential point.

7. Resolved, Nem. Con. That the profits of trade arising from this colony centering in Great Britain, eventually contribute to the supplies granted there to the crown.

8. Resolved, Nem. Con. That the giving unlimited power to any subject or subjects to impose what taxes they please in the colonies, under the mode of regulating the prices of stamped vellum, parchment and paper, appears to us unconstitutional, contrary to the rights of the subject, and apparently dangerous in its consequences.

9. Resolved Nem. Con. That any incumbrances which, in effect restrains the liberty of the press in America, is an infringement upon the subjects' liberty.

10. Resolved, Nem. Con. That the extension of the powers of the court of admiralty within this province, beyond its antient limit, is a violent innovation of the rights of trials by jury, a right which this house, upon the principles of their British ancestors, hold most dear and invaluable.

11. Resolved, Nem. Con. That as the tranquility of this colony hath been interrupted through fear of the dreadful consequences of the Stamp Act, that therefore the officers of the government who go on in their offices for the good and peace of the province in the accustomed manner, while things are in their present unsettled situation, will, in the opinion of this house, be intitled to the countenance of the legislature, and it is recommended to our constituents to use what endeavours lie in their power to preserve the peace, quiet, harmony, and good order of the government, that no heats, disorders or animosities may, in the least, obstruct the united endeavours that are now strongly engaged for the repealing the act above mentioned and other acts affecting the trade of the colonies.¹

30th of Nov.

A message from his Excellency by Mr. Secretary Read.

“Mr. Speaker.

His Excellency is in the council chamber, and requires the immediate attendance of the house.”

Whereupon Mr. Speaker left the chair, and with the house went to wait upon his Excellency, who was pleased to make the following speech, and then prorogued the house to the 31st of December next, then to meet at Perth-Amboy.

Gentlemen of the Assembly.

THE concern I have for the welfare of this province, as well as a sense of my duty to the crown, will not permit me to pass over in silence the late unprecedented, irregular and unconstitutional meeting of a number of your members at Amboy. No part of my conduct since my residence among you, could, I am sure, have given the least reason to imagine, that I would any ways obstruct the channel of communication between the good people of this province and their sovereign. The having recourse therefore to such an expedient was the more inexcusable, as it was entirely unnecessary. It besides gave a sanction to the villainous reports which some of the principal officers of a neighbouring proprietary government had industriously propagated with regard to me, and might, at such a juncture, have occasioned the most dangerous consequences to myself and family. I am far, however, from thinking that any of the gentlemen who were concerned in promoting the late convention, intended me any prejudice by the meeting; but a moments reflection must have convinced them there was danger of its having that tendency.

It is probable that the temper of the people at the time, might have made a meeting of their representatives necessary. But I believe there is not a man among them the least acquainted with the nature of government, who can think it was proper to violate the principles of the constitution on the occasion. Nothing but extreme necessity can ever justify such a measure. Every breach of the constitution, whether it proceeds from the crowd or the people, is, in its effects, equally destructive to the rights of both. It is the duty therefore of those who are intrusted with the government to be equally careful in guarding against encroachments from the one as the other. You must be sensible that you have now the happiness of having a prince on the throne, who would not himself infringe any of the just privileges of his people nor suffer it knowingly to be done by any of his servants. The ties or gratitude and justice, if there was no other consideration, should then have induced you to have avoided every invasion of his just prerogatives.

I was in hopes that, at your present meeting, you would have thought it your duty, and indeed for your credit as a house of representatives, either to have disapproved the conduct of your members who attended the convention at Amboy, or have made some apology for so illegal a procedure. This expectation prevented my saying anything to you on the subject at the opening of the sessions,^a but, to my great surprise, I now find that you have not thought proper to do either the one or the other.

However popular, gentlemen, you may think this extraordinary behaviour may prove with your constituents, it is my opinion that the sober discreet part of them will very soon condemn it, and the more considerate among the people will do the same when they have time to reflect, and to consider coolly their own interest. It is the remark of a very great man, "That it is a most infallible symptom of the dangerous state of liberty, when the chief men of a free country shew a greater regard to popularity than to their own judgment." And numerous are the instances in history which evince the justness of this observation.

I can with truth, gentlemen, declare, that it gives me great pain to be under a necessity of finding fault with any part of your conduct. It has, however, in this instance, been so particular, that I should think myself unjustifiable both to his majesty and the people, were I not to signify my disapprobation of it. And this you may be assured I should have done by an immediate dissolution of your house, but that such is the critical situation of affairs at this time, as to render it highly improper for the province to be without the full powers of legislature.

Thus have I, gentlemen, spoke my mind freely to you, as I would wish you to do to me, if I should, by any unconstitutional act of mine, give you the like occasion. I have only to add, that I have the fullest confidence in the affections of the people of this province, which I shall not fail to cultivate by a faithful discharge of my duty to the crown, and a constant care of their rights and liberties. I trust you will do me the justice, in your respective counties, to make these my good intentions rightly understood; and that you will use your utmost endeavours to calm and heal all animosities and divisions, to support the authority of government, and to preserve the peace and good order of the province.
